Proposed Strathalbyn fast food outlet application divides the town...

FOOD FIGHT

By Giorgina McKay

A proposed fast food outlet at a busy

Strathalbyn corner has caused uproar within the local community, with the site's current tenants left 'blindsided' by the development application they claim will "change the town". An application was lodged last week by planning consultancy Development Holdings for the construction of a restaurant with drive-through facilities, advertising signs, including an 8.5-metre-high freestanding pylon sign, retaining walls, fencing, and associated car parking and landscaping at 37 East Terrace – the current site of Strathalbyn H Hardware and Strathalbyn Small Engines.

This Week's Joke

Can February March?

Goolwa goes nuts for doughnuts

By Tara Nash

Goolwa Herbie owner Jack Colman has hit the road running with his dream of offering a courier service by teaming up with a local bakery to deliver free weekly lunches.

The 20-year-old with autism and a disability became infatuated with Herbies when he was young, and dreamed of owning one and starting a courier service.

As reported in The Southern Argus earlier this year, owning an eye-catching old Volkswagen became a reality thanks to Car Hub Australia, which found the perfect model and delivered to his door.

The community got behind his dream by crowd funding his insurance, compliance check and registration.

A month ago, Mr Colman put the new wheels to use by joining forces with Heritage Pies and Pastries, which instigated 'Workplace Wednesdays' a year ago.

The initiative means small, local businesses along the South Coast are chosen at random to be surprised with a free lunch

Herbie finds a home

Goolwa resident Jack Colman, aged 19, receives his very own Herbie.

By Georgina McKay

A Goolwa resident with an infatuation for the love bug has had his dream of owning his own Herbie become a reality.

As previously reported in The Southern Argus, Jack Colman is a 19-year-old with autism and an intellectual disability who found love with the renowned pop culture icon 'Herbie' and hoped to turn this passion into a courier service named '53 Express'.

The initiative would see Jack, alongside his support worker, provide delivery services for individuals and businesses in the Fleurieu and southern suburbs of Adelaide.

It seemed like a faraway dream for Jack and his family, but with the help of Car Hub Australia, it recently became a reality.

When the team saw Jack's story, they set out on a mission to find the perfect vintage Herbie model, and after three weeks of calling nearly every Volkswagen (VW) restoration place and club around Australia, they found success with the Australian VW Performance Centre in Victoria who had a customer with a complete original 1967 VW Beetle.

The 57-year-old car was then picked up by Car Hub's Tom Traynor, driven to Stacked signs for finishing touches, and personally delivered to Jack's door.

Jack's mum, Lauren Clifford, said it took a while for it to sink in.

"I was just too overwhelmed that someone would just buy Jack a car," she said.

"I didn't think he quite comprehended which I did think was going to happen - that it was actually him."

"It was a sinking hot day, but he pretty much sat in the car for the rest of the afternoon."

With the car now in their hands, all that's left to do now is get the business started.

The family has obtained insurance, had a compliance check performed, and paid for the registration with the help of donations provided through the GoFundMe page.

Mr Clifford said it's "slow going" but they are moving forward with setting up the service.

"We're thinking we may turn it into a non-for-profit instead of a full-fledged business because the goal ideally is to have Jack get out into the community, so we're just trying to figure out the legalities and process of that at the moment," she said.

"We're just trying to make sure Herbie is ready and up for the job, which I have no doubt he is."

"I don't think there's going to be a Herbie more loved than this one."

Mr Clifford thanked everyone who helped or showed support along the way.

"Tom just going on that (first) drive, the amount of people that stopped and waved or pointed at it, Jack loved it," she said.

"He now hangs out the window and says hello to everyone as we go."

"To think that anybody cared enough to donate or support Jack in any way means the world to me and my family."

"Jack doesn't fully understand it, but he loves the fact he's now getting waves when he drives past with Herbie."

"I never thought it would happen to my

to be involved with the community, and since news spread about his Herbie, he is often recognised in town and waved at by passers-by.

Mr Colman hopes to use it as a stepping stone to other courier jobs.

"We wanted to help Jack achieve what he wants to with Herbie," Heritage Pies and Pastries owner, Josh Jones, said.

"The whole story of how it all came about and how he got help from the local community was just fantastic - we couldn't help but jump on board too."

Mr Jones has seen Mr Colman grow up, knowing each other for about 14 years through the bakery, so when "the opportunity came up," he "jumped straight on it".

Since buying the bakery a year ago, Mr Jones aims to continue the legacy of the previous owners who gave "so much" to the community.

"For the small price that we pay to give back to a business, it comes back in tenfold, but that's not what we do it for," he said.

"It's to give back to the local businesses and to say thank you for being part of our community."

"We just love being part of Goolwa and part of the Fleurieu - we like to cement ourselves as true locals."

Mount Barker adopts rate rise

By Tara Nash

Mount Barker District Council has adopted its Annual Business Plan, which includes proposed revenue to be raised from general rates of $43.5 million, which is an increase of 5.3 per cent.

Council is following a “smoothing” approach to general rate setting for three years to minimise increases to inflation.

Last year, the general rate increase was 5.6 per cent, which was 2.3 per cent below the rate of inflation.

The 2024/25 general rate increase is one per cent higher than March’s Consumer Price Index (CPI).

The final year means general rates are planned to increase by 1.3 per cent higher than inflation.

The technique was welcomed by Mount Barker and District Residents’ Association, however, a representative suggested it be extended to another year to ease financial stress.

Some of the big projects this year include construction of the Laratinga Water Recovery Plant to replace the ageing Springs Road Wastewater Treatment Plant.

Council will be rolling out additional features to its Geographical Information Systems, which offers data visualisation to support informed decisions.

Construction of the Regional Aquatic Leisure Centre commenced earlier this year and is expected to be completed in late 2025.

Revenue from new developments and capital improvements of 3.49 per cent will be used to provide services to new residents and maintain new infrastructure resulting from those new developments.

Council received 26 submissions during the consultation process – significantly less than last year, which had 60.

Submissions were largely around the rate rise during the cost-of-living crisis, infrastructure, and the environment.

Macclesfield Community Association noted “little to no expenditure” planned for its town, and with “increasing frustration” that the plan fails to provide an implementation program for the Macclesfield Township Plan for the coming year.

Community Voice for the Environment members stated they believe that environment and biodiversity was given insufficient weight in planning.

Paths and Trails Mount Barker and Beyond Group called for investment in paths and crossings within the district.

Council meets with committee on Strathalbyn pool extension

By Giorgina McKay

The ducks are beginning to be lined in a row for a four-week trial extension of the upcoming Strathalbyn Swimming Pool season, with first discussions taking place between Alexandrina Council and the Swimming Pool Committee last Wednesday.

As previously reported in The Southern Argus, councillors approved in May to trial a four-week extension of the 2024-2025 swimming season, as well as develop a plan to market the pool service in the local community and launch a collaborative review to develop a business/master plan to eventually enclose the pool via capital funding grants.

It follows years of community calls for the local pool to be open for public use for an extended period of time.

In the first step to achieving the pool extension and marketing plans, council representatives met with committee members Lewis McMaster, Cherie-Lee Lindsay, Helen Francis and Garry Tucker at the Strathalbyn Library to discuss swimmers’ concerns and suggestions about the pool and its services, potential promotional ideas, and a strategy for a master plan development, among other related topics.

“We’re committed to the pool, we’re excited it’s got a four-week extension, and want to do all we can to see that locked in as a solid thing, but also see the pool expanded, so more of the community are accessing and enjoying the benefits,” Mr McMaster said.

The main concerns and suggestions raised included daily maintenance of amenities, coin-operated barbecues, EFTPOS failures, solar heating upgrade, extended opening to 10am, a chairlift for people with disabilities and a day pass for swimmers, while ways to promote the pool’s profile included resurrecting the local swimming club, a free open day to start the season, distribution of flyers, and holding a teddy bears picnic.

Mr McMaster appreciated the opportunity to speak with council on these issues.

“We appreciate the opportunity to make the presentation to them, and just express our support and encouragement for them to step it up to see this pool expanded,” he said.

“We are a growing community, and the thing that’s unique about Strathalbyn within our council district is that we’re retaining and growing our young people and families.

“We’ve had the highway upgraded going through to Strath, so that makes it more attractive to working families – there’s quick access to Mount Barker and Adelaide.

“We have no authority to make decisions, but we just want to encourage (council) to realise the potential of this pool for community wellbeing.”

Strathalbyn misses out on major Ag town award

Strathalbyn, Langhorne Creek, Goolwa and Mount Compass have all missed out on the title of this year’s South Australian Agricultural Town of the Year.

This year a record 73 towns were nominated and almost 4000 public votes cast for the award that recognises South Australian towns excelling in agricultural practices.

The top ten towns who made it through to the next stage of the competition and a step closer to taking home the coveted award were announced last Wednesday, but Alexandrina sadly failed to make the cut.

The successful towns will be invited to submit written applications that outline how they promote and support agriculture, which are assessed by an independent judging panel, who will then select three finalists for town visits.

The 2024 winner will be announced at the Regional Showcase Awards celebration event on October 24.

“Congratulations to our Top 10 towns,” Acting Minister for Primary Industries and Regional Development, Andrea Michaels, said.

“I wish you all the best in the next round to become our Ag Town of the Year for 2024.

“The Agricultural Town of the Year Award is an important initiative that shines a light on South Australian towns that are excelling in agricultural practices, strengthening their region and supporting their community.

“Now in its sixth year, this award continues to celebrate the hard work, resilience and enduring community spirit that are at the heart of our regional towns.”

Strathalbyn has missed out on the South Australian Agricultural Town of the Year award for another year.

Strathalbyn H Hardware's Candeece Falland and Elroy Westley are concerned about what a proposed fast food outlet would mean for the town.

Proposed fast food outlet application divides the town

Both buildings are proposed to be demolished to make way for the outlet which cannot be disclosed at this stage and will have dual lane drive-through, with access via South and East Terrace.

The news left Strathalbyn H Hardware's Candeece Falland blindsided.

It is currently still "business as usual" for the team, but now they have been forced to begin actively looking for an appropriate site to move to in case the application is approved.

"Obviously, we have no intention of closing the store," Mrs Falland said.

"We will be actively looking for an appropriate site to move to to continue since, depending on what happens here, we may or may not have a building.

"Where is that at the moment? – I don't know.

"We've only just started that process, and yes it will mean there are going to be some changes that I can't foresee to our business, but I'm going to keep everyone up to date as we find out ourselves."

While the application is still in its early stages, it has already divided the town.

Many on social media believed it was just part of the town's growth and would bring more employment for the region's youth, while others expressed distaste at the possibility of having a 'junk food' outlet in such a popular area.

A fast food restaurant poses no competition for Mrs Falland, but she raised concerns about the impacts it would have on the town's eateries and Strathalbyn's heritage.

"From a business side, it's not going to affect our business," she said.

"Yes, we have to move, but people don't eat paint, so we're not going to compete with a fast food joint.

"What I don't understand is why we would go to all of the effort of beautifying the town and making it a tourist attraction, and claiming we support all these small businesses then move a multinational company into one of the major thoroughfares of the town, and potentially crush a bunch of family-owned businesses in the process.

"I'm not anti-progress at all, but to me that seems counter-intuitive."

Under the Planning and Design Code, no consultation is required for the application.

It has currently been referred to the Commissioner of Highways for response before it reaches the Fleurieu Regional Assessment Panel for decision.

The application will also be referred to the Department of Infrastructure and Transport to review the proposed access locations and impacts on the local road network, and internal council staff will assess CWMS impacts, environmental health, development and traffic engineering, and parks and gardens.

"The property at 37 East Terrace is in the Township Activity Centre Zone, which is an area of Strathalbyn that has been a commercial area for a long time," Chief Executive Officer, Nigel Morris, told The Southern Argus.

"The proposal is consistent with the commercial activities permitted in the zone and the outlet will be considered as any other food business.

"The development application will be assessed against the state-wide Planning and Design Code and the requirements of the Planning, Development, and Infrastructure Act 2016.

"I'm advised by council's planning team the planning process will focus on allowed land use, matters such as size and scale, compatibility within the locality, compliance with the code, and the impact on the surrounding built interface.

"As such, there are limitations in this assessment, for example, the process cannot assess public perceptions regarding the type of business it is, whether the community want a fast food outlet, whether fast food is a public health concern generally, and whether this outlet will be in competition to other food businesses in the area."

What people are saying online:

Melanie Macrow
Having grown up near one, I can attest they are nothing but a smelly building that promote noise and light pollution. Why have one in the historical precinct of our beautiful town? And can you imagine the traffic issues at that round-about at school times with buses, cars, students, trucks from other businesses, and then entry/exit from a fast food chain? For our kids' safety, no thanks.

David Beames
For those complaining, you'd best never find yourself buying food there. Also, it's great for jobs. If it is a McDonald's or similar each shift would need to have eight-12 juniors plus supervisors/managers. A great boost for the older kids/younger adults in the area who might not be able to leave Strath for work. We all know how rubbish public transport is and I highly doubt a lot of them will be able to afford their own cars anytime soon. It's 2024 – these things happen.

Road works begin on Strathalbyn Road, delays expected

By Deirdre Graham

Road works will be undertaken along a portion of Strathalbyn Road this month.

Site investigations, including geotechnical investigation and survey works, began last week and will centre on the road between Mount Barker Road, Aldgate and River Road, Mylor.

The Department for Infrastructure and Transport said the investigations will help them to understand the current pavement conditions and support the planning of potential upgrades on the road.

The works are part of the Adelaide Hills Productivity and Road Safety Package to upgrade some of the region's key strategic arterial roads.

The $150m initiative, jointly funded by the Federal and State Governments over five years includes a range of road improvements to support economic growth, improve road safety and increase fire resilience in the Adelaide Hills.

Drivers are warned that for the Strathalbyn Road works, speed and lane restrictions will be in place, with drivers urged to plan trips, be cautious around workers, and follow the speed limits and signage.

Access to businesses and surrounding properties will be maintained throughout the works, with people to be contacted directly if there is a need to temporarily limit access.

Minor noise disturbances can be expected.

The news follows the completion of the works on Long Valley Road in mid-May this year.

This included the new southbound overtaking lane about 1.5km north of Long Valley Cottage Road to south of Mine Flat Road, remediation of the southbound overtaking lane from the railway line to Gemmell Road, and road resealing between Bunnett and Wellington Roads.

Willyaroo teenager wins national junior roping title

By Georgina McKay

A Willyaroo teenager has cemented his standing as one of South Australia's best headers by taking out the title at the Junior National Finals in Emerald in June.

For Darcy Dall'Aglio, team roping is in his blood, with his family all taking part in the sport which involves a steer and two mounted riders – a header and heeler.

In Darcy's case, he is a header and is in charge of roping the front of the steer before the heeler catches it by the feet.

The aim is to do this in the fastest time.

"If you break the barrier, you get 10 seconds added on your time and if you catch one foot you get five seconds added onto your time, so you don't want to break the barrier or catch a leg, then you can get a clean time – that's what wins you the rodeo," Darcy explained.

"The physical part – your horse does it all.

"You don't really think about it too much until you go and rope, otherwise you psych yourself out a little bit."

It's a skill Darcy has perfected during hours of training, starting from a young age.

Having grown up around rodeo competitions is what also makes roping come easy to him.

"At the moment, doing something you love doing, it comes pretty easy for him, so he's not one of those people that emotionally gets worked up before a competition," Darcy's mum, Sandie, said.

"Me, I used to get nervous, but he just knows his job, he does it well, and I've always told him to go and have fun."

While it may come easy, it unfortunately doesn't come cheap.

For someone like Darcy who has competed in several competitions this season alone, from Kapunda to Peterborough through to Echuca, Berwick and Maryborough, the kilometres and costs can rack up.

"We got five rodeos in South Australia, so the rest of the rodeos we have to travel to Victoria, New South Wales, Queensland, and wherever," Sandie said.

"So, for the family – the mums and dads – it's an expensive sport, especially with horses, travel and diesel.

"But like I said, it's something we all love doing, so we just do it, and we'll take them anywhere they need to go as long as we can afford it to be the best they can be."

Most recently, Darcy – who is sponsored by Hide and Horn, and Cavallo Park Equine Education – travelled all the way to Emerald, Queensland, to compete in the Australian Professional Rodeo Association (APRA) Junior National Finals on June 21-22.

Not only was he one of just four South Australians who competed, but he won the Australian Junior Team Roping Header title.

"It was amazing," Darcy said.

"Winning – that's a good feeling."

Darcy now has his sights set on the open finals.

His family also plan to continue keeping the rodeo culture alive.

"It goes back to traditional days out on stations when you have to fix a calf or cow and you're miles away from the yards, that's how they will do it – grab them and then they can get off and treat it," Sandie said.

"There's sometimes a bit of a bad rap rodeo gets that they think it's cruel to the animals, which it's not at all.

"The whole rodeo scene is like a big family.

"The way the kids conduct themselves around these rodeos, they're so mature and grown up, and doing something the big boys do.

"It's not cut throat, they're all supporting each other and loving everything everyone does."

Scouts seek help to 'be prepared' for Jamboree

By Deirdre Graham

The Strathalbyn Scouts are reaching out for fundraising ideas as they aim to 'be prepared' for next January's Jamboree.

The Jamboree, which is held every four years, will be staged in Maryborough, Queensland, from January 6 to 15, attracting about 10,000 scouts from across the country, and overseas.

Seven youth and three leaders from the local group are hoping to attend the once in a lifetime experience.

"We need to raise as much as we can," Strathalbyn Group Leader, Prue Turner, said.

"It is $2999 per youth member to go, and about $1800 each for the three leaders.

"I think we are at about $6000 at the moment, and we are hoping to get enough to pay for each of the youth members to have about $1000 to go towards the last two instalment payments.

"We have one due at the end of this month, and one due at the end of September."

So far the local scouts have fundraised through the People's First Community Lottery, where they keep a portion of the ticket sales, Cadbury's chocolates, along with selling carriage rides around Strathalbyn with the help of Carriages of Occasion.

The Strathalbyn Lions have also pitched in with $2100, and the Rotary Club of Strathalbyn have contributed $500.

The January Jamboree will be the first for all the Strathalbyn youth attending, and the first as leaders for the three adults.

"It is basically like a giant, very well-planned out camp, usually attended by about 10,000 youth members and supported by in the vicinity of 3000 to 4000 adults," Miss Turner said.

"They haven't quite finalised what the activities will be or who we will be camped with, (but) there will be water sports and activities, and I think possibly a visit to Australia Zoo."

The 10 locals will combine with other scout groups from across the state to be able to make up a troop of between 30 and 36 scouts, who will camp together for activities and live together for the 10 days.

"We are open for assistance that anyone wants to give," Miss Turner said.

"The $2100 from the Lions is a massive help, and it is a decent portion for each of the youth members that are going – about $300 for each.

"We have a raffle which is open until July 25."

Sweet success for Pik A Pie

By Deirdre Graham

Pik A Pie bakery at Meadows tasted success at the Baking Association of Australia’s awards on the weekend, taking out the state’s Best Kitchener Bun.

It is the second year in a row the team has won the accolade for their sweet buns.

Bakers Justin Dellow and Josh McBride created the entry on Saturday morning as part of the normal baking routine, before escorting it to the Marion Hotel in the city for judging.

“We are very happy about it,” Mr Dellow said.

“We thought we were in with a good chance in the morning (as) our Kitchener Bun looked the same as the year before, so we were quietly confident.

“We only took four (entries for categories) over, but we got a bronze medal for our chocolate donut, and then we entered the main competition, which was for Australia’s best sausage roll.

“We didn’t get that one, unfortunately, but we will try again next year.

“There’s a team of five of us here, but it was Josh and I on the morning of the competition.”

Fellow competitors came from around the state, along with entries for the best sausage roll from as far as Melbourne.

Mr Dellow was sadly unable to reveal the secret to the bakery’s award-winning Kitchener Buns.

“There is not really a secret, it is just our normal sugar donut with... I think we get a lot of compliments for our cream, which is nice and sweet, and just a nice soft donut,” Mr Dellow said.

He added the bakery’s Kitchener Buns were also popular with regular customers.

“We sell quite a lot every day, and especially on the weekends,” Mr Dellow said.

“We sold out the day after the competition.

“It definitely helps business when you get little awards like this – it is cool.”

Teenage model captures global attention

By Tara Nash

A Murray Bridge teenager has captured global interest after modelling at two of the world’s biggest fashion events.

Kane Parker walked exclusively for Prada during the high-profile event Milan Fashion Week, before Paris Fashion Week.

After Milan’s, he spoke to his global mother agent, Finesse Models Australia Director Brigette Mitchell, and described the experience as “surreal”.

“At the moment, my emails are going crazy with overseas agencies wanting him,” she told The Southern Argus.

“It’s the break out show – to do that for your very first show internationally is huge, you couldn’t have wanted a better start.”

Ms Mitchell described Mr Parker as having a “unique” and “international look”, being tall with tight curls and alabaster white skin.

He first approached the Adelaide modelling agency at 14-years-old, and was taken under Ms Mitchell’s wing by learning how to walk, participating in a few of her shows, and being introduced to an Italian scout.

During the recent summer break, Mr Parker got a contract with a Korean agency where he learned the ropes for a couple of months.

“Everybody’s been loving his personality,” Ms Mitchell said.

“He’s cool and he’s calm he doesn’t panic – he takes it all in his stride.”

Murray Bridge tops worst regional crash hotspot

Murray Bridge has been named as one of the worst hotspots for fatal and serious crashes behind the city, according to crash data analysed by RAA ahead of school holidays.

Between 2013-2022, 184 people were either seriously injured or lost their lives on roads in the city of Adelaide – the worst suburb for casualty crashes in SA – followed behind by Murray Bridge as the top regionally on 64.

In the first half of this year, 77 per cent of lives lost have been in regional areas – up from the 10-year average of 66 per cent.

The data has prompted an RAA road safety warning ahead of the school holidays as South Australian families flock to the state’s regions.

“Around two-thirds of all lives lost are on regional roads each year, so South Australians preparing to head away for the school holidays need to keep safety front of mind,” RAA Senior Manager for Safety and Infrastructure, Charles Mountain, said.

“Regional roads are generally high speed, where a small lapse in concentration or moment of distraction can have catastrophic consequences.

“If you’re heading away, please adhere to the speed limit, take regular rest breaks and share the driving if you have multiple drivers in the vehicle.

“Remember the ‘Fatal Five’ causes of road trauma – distraction, excessive speed, not wearing a seatbelt, driving under the influence of drugs or alcohol, and dangerous road user behaviours.”

Mustangs stolen from Murray Bridge

Police are investigating the theft of two Ford Mustangs from Murray Bridge last month.

A grey 2017 Ford Mustang with the registration GTRS5 was stolen from a Riverfront Road home sometime between 4pm on Tuesday, June 25 and 10.30am the following day.

In addition, sometime between 6am and 6.30pm on Sunday, June 30, an unknown person broke into a Willow Avenue home, and stole cash, games consoles, iPads, car keys and a distinctive orange 2021 Ford mustang with the registration XD397H.

Police urge the public to contact Crime Stoppers if they have information on the thefts or whereabouts of either stolen vehicle on 1800 333 000 or at (www.crimestopperssa.com.au).

Police also recommend the following tips to increase vehicle security:

- Lock vehicle doors and close all windows.
- Install an alarm or immobiliser and activate it every time you leave your vehicle.
- At night, park vehicles in a well-lit area.
- Park vehicles off the road, and in a locked garage or behind locked gates.
- Don’t leave a spare set of keys in the vehicle.
- Don’t keep keys inside the house in an obvious place for an intruder to grab such as by the entry, on the kitchen bench, etcetera – keep them safe and out of view.

An orange 2021 Ford mustang with the registration XD397H was stolen from Murray Bridge last month.

A blue Yamaha motorbike with the South Australian registration S87BXS was stolen from a Murray Bridge shed on Saturday.

Motorcycle stolen from Murray Bridge

Police are investigating the theft of a motorbike from a Murray Bridge shed on Saturday.

Sometime between 3pm and 3.30pm, a Rocky Gully Road shed was entered, and a blue Yamaha motorbike with the South Australian registration S87BXS and a helmet were stolen from inside.

Anyone who knows the whereabouts of the stolen motorbike or saw anything suspicious in the area is asked to contact Crime Stoppers on 1800 333 000 or online at (<https://crimestopperssa.com.au/>) and quote the reference number 24-113M.

New licence class for UHPV drivers

In an Australian-first, all ultra-high-powered vehicles (UHPVs) drivers are now required from December to complete a new training course to obtain a U-class licence

The interactive online course is designed to better educate drivers on the additional risks posed by these vehicles, including understanding features that differ from normal vehicles and the specific laws related to UHPVs.

The course also highlights the danger of risk-taking behaviour in these powerful vehicles and the penalties in place for disabling driver assistance systems, with quizzes designed to reinforce vital road safety messages prior to a final assessment.

The creation of a new U-class licence for UHPVs drivers delivers on a commitment made by the State Government to introduce a suite of reforms in the wake of the tragic death of Sophia Naismith.

“We are proud to introduce these new requirements, which will better prepare motorists to drive ultra-high-powered vehicles on South Australian roads,” Minister for Infrastructure and Transport, Tom Koutsantonis, said.

“Through practical modules focusing on vehicle features, safety systems, maintenance, laws and penalties, we’re compelling drivers to take responsibility and be aware of the additional risks that come with driving a UHPV.

“Given these risks, it’s crucial we can influence driver behaviour, but also ensure our authorities are empowered to prosecute individuals who endanger the lives of others.

“Through the tireless and courageous championing for change of the Naismith family and close consultation across the motoring industry and government, I’m pleased we’ve been able to deliver Australian-first reforms on both fronts.”

Drink drivers lose licence

Two men have lost their licences after being allegedly caught drink driving at Murray Bridge over the weekend.

On Friday, July 5, Murray Bridge stopped a silver Ford sedan on Lachlan Avenue who submitted to a breath test and returned a positive result of 0.143.

The 27-year-old man from no fixed place was reported for drink driving, issued a 12-month instant loss of licence and had his vehicle was impounded.

He will be summonsed to appear in court at a later date.

At about 2am on Sunday, Murray Bridge police stopped a Nissan ute driving on Woodlands Road and breath tested the driver, who allegedly returned a positive reading of 0.187.

The 35-year-old local man was reported for drink driving and received a 12-month instant loss of licence.

His car was impounded for 28 days and he will be summoned to appear in Murray Bridge Magistrates Court at a later date.

Warning issued over police text scam

Community members are warned to be aware of scammers sending text messages claiming to be from South Australia Police directing people to pay for fines.

Three members of the community recently contacted police advising they had received a text message from an unknown number, directing them to click on a link in order to pay outstanding fines and included the police assistance number.

Fortunately, the recipients ignored the click and rang the police assistance line for advice.

No government organisation will ever request personal details or payment of fines/debt via text message and by clicking on a link.

To keep safe, SAPOL recommends the following:

- Don’t open or respond to suspicious text messages or random pop-up windows, or click on links and attachments within messages – delete them immediately.
- Don’t use the contact details provided in the message sent to you and instead verify the identity of the contact through online research using reputable websites.

Community members are warned about a text scam involving SA Police.

- Phishing emails and text messages often contain spelling and grammatical errors which would not be expected from the organisation the email was supposedly sent, so check the message for mistakes.

Woman hits kangaroo at McHarg Creek

By Giorgina McKay

A local woman fortunately escaped without injury after hitting a kangaroo at McHarg Creek on Monday.

At about 7.45am, emergency services were called to McHarg Creek Road following reports of a vehicle roll-over.

On arrival, crews spoke with the driver, a 64-year-old woman from the area, who was uninjured and had removed herself from the Ford Ranger.

The woman had reportedly struck a kangaroo, which sadly died.

The vehicle was towed from the scene.

The show must go on

Over the years, the annual Strathalbyn Antique Fair has had many incarnations. In the early days, as the Strathalbyn Collectors, Hobbies and Antique Fair, it filled several halls and involved many of our service clubs, community groups and craftspeople. It has been held at Tyndale School (2016 and 2017). In 2018, the SLTA ran a stand-alone treasure market at the Strathalbyn Harness Racing Club while a small-scale Town Hall event was staged by an outside promoter. Conditions within the antiques industry and Strathalbyn itself have changed significantly in recent years, and when the fair was revived by the re-named STA in 2019, its venues were the Town Hall and St. Andrew’s Church Hall. COVID caused the cancellation of the fair in 2020, and in 2021, 2022 and 2023, the venues were the Town Hall and Carruthers Hall. Last year, the Town Hall renovations were running past schedule and Alexandrina Council generously halted the works and made the hall usable, although it remained an uncomfortable building site with no-go zones and only one functioning toilet. The Town Hall works are still on-going. Despite a planned finish date of the end of July, we were not prepared to assume the hall would be ready and could not expect council to pause the works again. The Strathalbyn Bands Festival had the same concerns and will be holding the festival in the Strathalbyn Oval Function Centre on Sundays 4th and 11th of August. Just as importantly, the internal changes to the Town Hall have rendered it too small to accommodate all of last year’s returning dealers. The organising and running of the fair is a huge job carried out by a limited number of volunteers, and a decision had to be made early in the year to either hold the fair in its entirety at the oval complex or not run it at all. Once again, a market will be held at Gilbert’s Motor Museum on both days. A shuttle bus will run between the oval and High Street, thus, fair-goers will be able to ride, park and walk or drive from High Street through Dawson Street to the oval and back. Regular fair patrons will be keen to also call into Strath’s antiques shops, and they will want to choose somewhere for coffee and lunch. We are doing our utmost to encourage fair patrons to visit Dawson Street and High Street over the weekend. We hope that traders (eateries, antique and speciality shops) will use their own social media and other advertising avenues to promote themselves and any specials they might be offering for the weekend. It has been suggested the fair could be held in ‘empty shops’ or ‘shop frontages and yards’ on High Street – this is an unfeasible idea.

The fair dealers need to be in large, comfortable, secure venues with their fellow exhibitors, so they are all equally visible and accessible to the public. We do not know what shops might be empty and cannot ask landlords to hold them empty. Using shop frontages would impede the business of the shop’s tenants and leave the dealers at the mercy of the weather. It takes most dealers all day on Friday to set up their eclectic stock. Overnight security is provided in the halls. Trading takes place on Saturday and Sunday. What protection would their stock have overnight if it were not in a secure hall? Every additional venue would require insurance, staffing, EFTPOS facilities and a float, security and amenities for the dealers. The 2024 Strathalbyn Antiques and Vintage Fair will be held in Carruthers Hall and the Strathalbyn Oval Function Centre on the 17th and 18th of August. We encourage readers to visit the fair and the Rotary Sunday Treasure Market, and to continue to support their local shops, traders and small businesses. Let’s all pull together, embrace what Strathalbyn has to offer, and welcome the visitors that help keep the area buoyant. Many will tell their friends about our beautiful town and return again to explore it further. The Strathalbyn Tourism Association does much more than stage the antique fair. We run Gilbert’s Motor Museum, which is self-funded and staffed entirely by volunteers. We produce the Strathalbyn Visitors’ Information Guide. As part of the Strathalbyn 185 programme, we have been working with SteamRanger to showcase and promote the special Highlander train journeys to Strathalbyn. Along with many smaller projects, we will once again be involved in the staging of Christmas Where the Angas Flows. After all, it will be Christmas soon enough! Winter will be behind us and it will be time to join together again in celebration.

REISA your game

Dear Editor, With the recent changes to legislation impacting the rental market I am somewhat surprised more effort was not taken to protect tenants. With a grossly understaffed Consumer and Business Services meant to hold property managers and tenants accountable and a voluntary membership into a privately funded Real Estate Institute of SA (REISA), is it any wonder the lowest common denominator is greed? Shameful, really. Such practices will eventually run the real estate market into the ground.

Who wants to invest in a property that has been allowed to depreciate on a grand scale? All for the sake of maintaining a commercial facade of putting people first. Raise your game and your standards REISA and real estate property managers. Ensuring the client’s property is appropriately and lawfully maintained is one of your principal duties – do it! Homeowners would do well to do their own periodic walk through in order to hold property managers accountable. Self-regulating industries leave a lot to be desired.

From the ashes

Kangaroo Island will celebrate a magical milestone in its rebuild after the 2019-20 bushfires, with the opening of the new visitors’ centre tomorrow. A silver lining born from the destruction of Rocky River Visitors’ Centre and Café during the catastrophic event, the new visitors’ centre will have large buffer zones to protect the site from future bushfires and has been built with Australian timber that is heat resistant. The new visitors’ centre is now the official gateway to Flinders Chase National Park and attractions at the west end of Kangaroo Island. The new building was designed by award-winning architects Troppo and features state-of-the-art stormwater harvesting systems, and is a self-sufficient power source as a safeguard during future emergencies. It is an incredible feeling to see this former Liberal Government project come to an end to mark a special new beginning for Kangaroo Island after the devastating 2019-20 bushfires. The delivery of the new visitors’ centre is a true silver lining from what was a dark and tragic time for Kangaroo Island. I’m proud to know I had a helping hand in seeing this rebuild come to life and it’s crucial for the economy – and Kangaroo Island tourism – that we have a special place for locals and visitors that feeds into some truly remarkable destinations like Flinders Chase, Kelly Hill Caves and iconic spots such as Admiral’s Arch and Remarkable Rocks. We know Kangaroo Island’s tourism industry is worth almost $200 million every year and we can only hope this figure continues to grow with the opening of the new visitors’ centre. It is without doubt that the new visitors’ centre will be bursting with tourists in the near future as word spreads about the opening and I can’t wait to get back to Kangaroo Island to experience the rebuild for myself.

Pool plans afloat

While winter has definitely now descended, there are some very keen swimmers already planning ahead for summer and the four-week trial extension of the Strathalbyn Swimming Pool season. As previously reported in The Southern Argus, Alexandrina Council elected members approved the trial extension in May, as well as to develop a plan to market what the pool can provide the local community and an in depth look at whether to enclose the pool. This development follows many years of campaigning by pool users for the facility’s season to be extended. Last week the next step was taken, with council representatives and pool committee members meeting to discuss a range of topics to do with the pool. The committee are keen for others to enjoy the pool as much as they do, and with Strathalbyn’s population expanding, feel they have increasing support. Main concerns and suggestions raised at last week’s meeting included daily maintenance of amenities, coin-operated barbecues, EFTPOS facilities, solar heating upgrades, extending opening to 10am, a chairlift for people with disabilities, and a day pass for swimmers, resurrecting the town’s swimming club, staging an open day to attract potential pool users, and holding a teddy bears picnic. Swimming is a sport of relatively low impact, with a myriad of benefits for a wide range of people. From gentle floating to trying to out beat records, it is something almost all people can enjoy to some degree. It keeps your heart rate up, while minimising impact on the body, builds endurance and muscle strength and cardiovascular fitness – it’s pretty much an all-over body workout. For those recovering from injuries, swimming can be a game-changer. While summer may seem quite some distance away, planning now will make all the difference for a successful expansion of what the Strathalbyn pool offers come opening time in summer.

July 2 to 4 was a great time of celebration for the Mount Compass Area School being their centenary, with schooling having begun on the 3rd of July 1899. The Mount Compass School has not always been situated where it is today; when Miss Mary Louisa Cameron, the first teacher opened school with just nine students on the 3rd of July, it was at Roadman's Cottage. The Peters family, with many members still living at Mount Compass, have had continual connections with the school since it first opened 100 years ago. Miss Cameron remained in charge until October 4, 1907, with the school after four years moved further south along the Victor Harbor road to the public hall.

For many years it has been the dream of Mr. Harold Stowe that Strathalbyn should have its own museum. That dream is about to be realised. On the 27th of July 1974, President of the National Trust of South Australia Mr. C. Warren Bonython will open the Strathalbyn National trust Museum in its own premises, the old police station and court house. It is appropriate the old building, secured by the hard work of Mr. Allen Gemmell, should be the home of the Museum as so much of the town's history revolves around its "Hall of Justice".

Creativity on show at EFS market

By Deirdre Graham

Eastern Fleurieu's Ashbourne campus hosted the latest Student Creation Market last month, showcasing the products made by students across the school's three small campuses.

Ashbourne Head of Campus Rebekah Fahey said the event was the third market to be run by the campuses.

"The aim is for the students to research, plan, design, make and market a product of their choice," she said.

"It is part of our deep learning school focus... the staff work with the students to decide on a topic.

"For example, Ashbourne students all made products that were connected to mini beast as this was our theme for Bush School this term.

"The students researched a number of mini beast, and then planned, designed and made their products."

Deep learning focuses on six global competencies, including character, collaboration, communication, creativity, critical thinking and citizenship.

Each of these were focused on as part of the Student Creation Market.

"The funds will be donated to a charity, (with) the Ashbourne students to make that decision," Ms Fahey said.

"The students worked well individually, and in pairs/groups to make and sell the products.

"It is a wonderful opportunity for the Ashbourne, Milang and Langhorne Creek students to connect to each other, (and) an excellent opportunity to build family/ community culture."

'Successful' planting festival at Monarto

Forty-two-thousand tubestocks were planted during last month's Frahn's Farm Planting Festival near Monarto.

The 550-hectare property is the major project of Bio R – a charity that reconstructs habitats to support native wildlife, and has hosted annual community planting festivals since 2016.

The project aims to provide habitat for declining woodland birds.

Across three weekends in June, volunteers were treated to "spectacular weather" as 42,000 tubestock were planted across 23 hectares within the second large kangaroo-proof enclosure.

An additional 1000 seedlings have supplemented the 2023 restoration site, and about 3000 tubestock have been planted into a seed orchard and raised beds to provide seed for future direct seeding.

Uncle Moogie's Welcome to Country on the first weekend set the tone of inclusivity, camaraderie and healing.

The team were "delighted" to host Chair of the Environment and Communications

Legislation Committee of the Federal Parliament Senator Karen Grogan, who toured the previous years' plantings and helped put tubestock in the ground.

Overall, 175 species of tubestock were planted and about 40 species of plants were direct seeded across the site before planting began.

As in previous years, this included a few species unfound in the area but occur in hotter and drier regions in the state, as a trial as a safety net in the face of predicted climate change.

To help meet the target of a 20 per cent increase in area of restoration over the next four years, Bio R included a more diverse mix of species in a direct seeding trial so they can supplement tubestock plantings in the future.

"We are so grateful to all who helped to make the Planting Festival a success," Plant Nursery Manager, Penny Paton, said.

This included community members who put plants in the ground, the team of volunteers, caterers, the support team, and the growers.

Strathalbyn pageant inspires Goolwa volunteers

By Tara Nash

Strathalbyn's Christmas Where the Angas Flows pageant is one of the most popular community events of the year, and the success behind its running may help Goolwa volunteers replicate something similar.

The newly formed Goolwa Community Association recently chose its executive committee and voted in its constitution, with the aim of planning Christmas celebrations and other community events throughout the year.

For many years, the town celebrated the festive season with a pageant and concert, organised by the Lions and Goolwa clubs respectively.

However, as previously reported in The Southern Argus, the membership numbers and age of members meant Lions were unable to continue the pageant.

The Christmas concert was in jeopardy last year due to financial challenges, however, was saved when local service groups sourced the remaining necessary funds and ended up pulling off a "first class" concert attended by about 3000 community members.

In a recent meeting, Goolwa Community Association regained momentum with brainstorming ideas.

These included the possibility of a concert and organising an upcoming meeting with Strathalbyn's volunteers to learn how their pageant is managed, and whether it could be replicated in Goolwa.

Chair Tamara McRobbie is calling for more volunteers in various capacities as "many hands make light work".

"We would love some more of the community to come along now that we have a committee in place," she said.

"I don't want this to feel like a lot of work – the more people that we have involved, the lighter the load."

For further information on volunteering, search 'Goolwa Community Association' on Facebook or email (goolwacccc@gmail.com).

Only a rolling rural landscape like this deserves an inspirational lifestyle build; whether you exploit its visual promise for a tree-change, explore self-sufficient, off-grid living, or graze from its 52 hectares, we urge you to do nothing but justice to its tranquil seclusion.

Shouldered by Wistow, Macclesfield and Strathalbyn, this is an unspoilt grazier’s escape - one that reveals a sense of freedom the minute you cross over the historic rail line, and one that offers dual road frontages, its best access via unsealed 166 Stirling Hill Road with alternate reach via sealed Long Valley Road.

It has long rural views to the north-west, the historic (now tourist) Steamranger train chugs seasonally along the eastern boundary, and its best grazing sits amongst the stonier ridges, graduating from undulating, cleaner country to steeper terrain in the west.

Naturally, its rise and fall finds a winding winter creek, while winter dams and majestic gums dot its vast and breathtaking tapestry.

The rest is up to you.

And when the real world begrudgingly calls, it’s a swift scenic drive to Wistow or Strathalbyn; for bigger urban retailers you’ll call on Mount Barker, with roughly a 50-minute drive to the Adelaide CBD.

There’s no better turn for big, beautiful seclusion.

You’ll love it for:

- SA Mains water connection
- New steel cattle yards with crush and loading ramp
- Two well fenced paddocks
- A grazier’s property with potential for an off-grid lifestyle
- Dual road frontages (1 sealed, 1 unsealed)
- Location - 8kms Macclesfield, 9kms Wistow & Strathalbyn, 13kms Mt Barker, 48kms Adelaide CBD - all approx.

Both gigs are free entry, family-friendly and perfect vibe for a cosy Sunday afternoon for a bevy and a sing-along.

E'nuf Said will also be performing this Saturday from 8pm in the front bar.

The Hood has been a meeting spot for locals since 1855 and has been owned by the Thomson family for the past 15 years.

'Positive feedback' on proposed code amendment

By Giordina McKay

The community turned out to the Milang Institute last Wednesday to hear Alexandrina Council's plans for a proposed Local Heritage Code Amendment for the town, and to share any concerns and feedback.

Minister for Planning Nick Champion granted approval in March this year for council to initiate a Code Amendment after comprehensive research revealed many of the residential and civic buildings constructed between the 1850s and 1900 – when the River Murray was a major trade route – remain intact in Milang and invaluable contribute to the character of the town.

The proposed Milang Local Heritage Code Amendment seeks to apply a Local Heritage Place Overlay to 25 properties, establish Historic Area Overlay across the area of Milang that exhibits the characteristics of the original survey and subdivision pattern, and apply a Heritage Adjacency overlay to properties adjacent to the approved Local Heritage Places to protect the town's substantial heritage.

The 25 properties being put forward for inclusion include:

- The Forge
- Primitive Methodist Chapel
- Milang Institute
- Former Police Station
- Soldier's Memorial Gardens
- Former Lake Hotel
- Former Butcher's Shop
- 'The Rookery'
- Milang Railway Station
- Milang Pier Hotel
- St Mary's Anglican Church
- Milang Post Office
- 'Royal' willow tree
- Chapel (now Uniting Church)
- Church of Christ chapel
- Former slaughterhouse at Lot 100 Milang Road
- Former Manse at 3 Orana Street
- Former nursing home at 6 Rivers Street
- Former Headmaster's residence at 24-25 Daranda Terrace
- Former shop and residence at 38 Cox Street, cnr of Lang Street
- 56-58 Watson Street
- 14 Orana Street
- 64 Ameroo Avenue

- 21 Lang Street

At council's second drop-in information session last week, community members had the opportunity to speak with Senior Town Planner Sarah Longden and Team Leader of Planning Policy Connie Parisi about the plans, and raise any concerns and/or feedback about the proposed code amendment.

About 24 attended across both drop-in sessions, providing "overall positive feedback" on the proposal.

"Protecting and promoting Alexandrina's history is a priority for our council, and Milang is one of our towns where much of the early heritage is still intact," Chief Executive Officer, Nigel Morris, said.

"This is evident through the original subdivision pattern, the surrounding parklands, and the historic buildings which remain from the 1850s to the early 1900s.

"This character is one of the many reasons why people choose to live in and visit Milang.

"The Milang Local Heritage Code Amendment seeks to apply new policy to further protect the heritage of this once thriving river port.

"Those who attended (the drop-in sessions) asked a range of questions, and overall, there was positive feedback about preserving the built heritage and maintaining the prevalent historic character of the town."

Community members have one more day to have their say by visiting (mysay.alexandrina.sa.gov.au/embeds/projects/93788/survey-tools/105656), emailing (alex@alexandrina.sa.gov.au), or completing a hard copy survey at either the Strathalbyn or Goolwa offices.

A report on the public feedback will be presented to council and then the State Government in the coming months.

Fear grows for popular Strathalbyn Christmas event's fireworks display

By Deirdre Graham

Cutting the fireworks or free children's rides are two measures the Christmas Where the Angas Flows committee may have to consider for this year's event, as it embarks on its fundraising goals for 2024.

Committee Chairman Graham Jenke said Christmas Where the Angas Flows typically costs more than $20,000 to run.

"We have always had a bit in the kitty each year, but the bit we have left over is getting shorter and shorter, and in actual fact, we probably ran at a slight loss last year," Mr Jenke said.

"We pay for the hiring of all the sound technology, (although), those people give their labour for nothing.

"The fireworks will be $6000 this year, and we get some rides in for the children and we provide that all free too, so there is a cost in that as well and insurance, and everything else.

"We do get some money from Alexandrina Council, but that gets swallowed up in road closures."

Mr Jenke said both the fireworks and/

or free children's rides were under threat.

"We have talked about the fact that if we had to cut anything, it would be that we wouldn't be able to provide free rides for the children and they would have to pay for it, or the fireworks," he said.

"That is the two that we would have to cut out, and that would possibly be $10,000 to $11,000."

The committee will soon be sending out its sponsors forms to those interested in supporting the iconic and popular event.

"We have about 250 people on our sponsors list, but not everybody responds to it," Mr Jenke said.

"We have different levels, but it would be nice to get a really big major sponsor to put in $5000 to $10,000.

"The levels range from $100 (bronze), $200 (silver) or $500 (gold), and we have a platinum – anyone that wants to put in above that becomes a platinum sponsor."

Mr Jenke said the available funds so far this year were below that at the same time in 2023.

"The nest egg is getting smaller all the time, as it all adds up," he said.

"It was a hugely successful event last year with the pageant, street stalls, childrens' entertainment, concert and fireworks.

"None of (it) would be possible without the continued support of the community and many local businesses to cover the costs of staging the event.

"The committee realises cost of living expenses have increased since last year, but we ask for (people's) continued support for this community event for the people of Strathalbyn."

The Christmas Where the Angas Flows Committee – which currently numbers seven-- will meet on Wednesday, July 17, at the Catholic Hall in Chapel Street at 7pm.

"If any interested people in the community would like to come along and join the committee as we plan for this year's event, we would welcome new faces as some of our current committee members have had to step back due to other commitments," Mr Jenke said.

Anyone unable to attend the meeting but would like to know more can contact Mr Jenke at (wattleglencorriedales@gmail.com).

A Quiet Place: Day One

RATING

"Sequels are death" was a phrase quoted by Jaws star Richard Dreyfuss, and it's one that seems to be shared by many in the industry and lovers of so-called 'A Grade' movies.

It's always a risk when a big production company or writer dares to expand on a universe that rated successfully with audiences, even riskier yet to extend that to a trilogy.

But John Krasinski's A Quiet Place: Day One does one thing that most don't that makes this third instalment a mild success – making the film read as a stand-alone.

Audiences were introduced to the A Quiet Place universe in 2018 with the release of the first film – which at the time seemed like the only one we were going to receive in the now three-part franchise – which starred Krasinski alongside wife Emily Blunt and young stars Millicent Simmonds and Noah Jupe as the Abbott family.

The movie is set a year down the track from the alien invasion that threatened the world into silence and would be considered by most viewers as one of the best thrillers of our generation.

The second film released two years later expands on the Abbott family and gives viewers a greater insight into the aliens that have been tormenting the human race, including our first glimpse at the infamous 'day one', which this latest instalment is centred on.

The third film brings in newcomers to the franchise Stranger Things actor Joseph Quinn and 12 Years A Slave and Us actress Lupita Nyong'o who star as two strangers – Samira and Eric – accompanied by furry feline Frodo, who have to join forces to fight their way out of and survive the early stages of this alien invasion.

Directed and co-written by Pig's Michael Sarnoski, the film features some terrifically-timed jump scares and scenes that will leave viewers on the edge of their seats, complemented by moments of earnestness and tenderness between the two protagonists under some harsh circumstances that exemplify what it means to be human.

It's these moments in which we witness the brilliant acting of Quinn and Nyong'o that make up for the 'average' plotline that brings no real 'new' information to lovers of the franchise.

In saying that, it does mean audiences who may not have seen the first two films could easily watch the third and not feel like they've 'missed out' on any critical background information about the premise of this universe Krasinski created or its antagonists.

All in all, it's a film you could comfortably watch in the quiet of your home with family or friends, and walk away having not regretted spent the past hour-and-a-half watching these characters interact in mostly complete silence.

Archers take aim at nationals

The Great Southern Archers put in strong performances at the weekend's state and national indoor championships, claiming seven state medals, and a Bronze and Silver national medal.

GSA vice president Shirley Biggs said the 61 entrants was the highest turnout the club has had – up from 56 last year.

Competition was tight in most categories with two points separating Gold and Silver in the Open Female Compound, one point between Gold and Bronze in Open Female Recurve, one point between Gold and Silver in the Open Male Compound, and eight points between Gold and Silver in the Open Male Recurve.

Great Southern Archers to do well were:

- Lucas Clinton – Under 18 Male Compound, State Gold
- Ryan Jessup – Open Male Longbow, State Silver
- Ryan Jessup – Open Male Barebow

Recurve, State Silver

- Vicki Braddy – 60+ Female Compound, State Gold, National Bronze
- Shirley Biggs – 60+ Female Compound, State Silver
- Elizabeth Hole – 60+ Female Barebow Recurve, State Gold, National Silver
- Norm Biggs – 60+ Male Longbow, State Gold.

Biggs said the best part of the weekend was watching young and upcoming archers excelling in their chosen sport, with many achieving PBs and State or National titles.

"It was noted by many of the top archers that Goolwa Sports Stadium is by far the best indoor facility in South Australia and one of the best in the whole of Australia," she said.

"The weekend ran without a hitch and all competitors made up a great atmosphere."

Demons repay the Roosters with a two point win

By Perry Jones

Willunga oval was the scene for another battle last Saturday when the Demons, late in the game, snatched a two point win over the Rooster to repay them for a four point loss at the start of the season at Strathalbyn.

Despite the sun being out for the match it was a cold easterly wind blowing across the ground for the match played at close quarters.

The Roosters had the first goal on the board when O'Grady, following up his play, sent the ball to the goal square for Simounds to take a strong mark and make no mistake.

The Demons not to be left out of proceedings had Altus doing plenty of work on the ball, appreciating the taps that Shirvington was able to win over Welk, as they went forward for Haskett, dodging traffic, to get their first goal eight minutes into the quarter.

Defences were doing the job at both ends to limit the scoring with Pegler and Jaxon Machin prominent for the Roosters, backed up by Tucker and O'Grady when they were not on the ball.

For Willunga Dumesny and Messenger were clearing the ball for Colwell and Miegler to send it into their attacking zone, while the Roosters had Wright, in and under, getting them forward until he went off with a knee injury.

The Roosters were able to get the next goal on the board when Lachlan Fox was set up by Crawford-Sandison before they were off target with three behinds, seeing their lead at the first break just four points as the Demons saw Beath, while on the ground, get a handball to Hams for a goal.

Not much changed in the second term as players went in hard for the ball, Willunga getting the first goal when the Roosters were pinged for handballing out on the full giving Shirvington the chance to make no mistake.

The Demons then looked like they were going to take control with input from Renney, Hutchens and Dumesny, while Shirvington was handy around the ground as a tall target.

It was Altus taking the ball from the pack to get the next goal for the Demons, followed by Shirvington and Dumesny combining to allow Sherry to put the ball through the big sticks, before Sherry missed an easy shot.

It was then the Roosters turn to respond and they did with some good team work,

Hoffman starting an extended purple patch in winning many possessions, backed up by Elliott, Tucker and O'Grady.

With Welk winning the centre tap the Roosters went forward for Lachlan Fox to take a spillage near goal to convert at the eleven minute mark, and as the Demon defence through Bekkers and Mills tried to stop the Roosters, it was a defence clearance by the Roosters' Tucker and O'Grady that saw Simounds receive the ball from Hoffman to make no mistake.

While Roosters' Keding and Pegler were also repelling the Demons it was drive from Renney, Remfrey and Altus keeping them going for Haskett, running through for the handball, able to bring up the two white flags.

Back came the Roosters when Hopkins trapped the Demons holding the ball to goal from a tight angle and then as Altus tried to barge through a tackle he was pinged for holding the ball to give Hopkins another full pointer, the Roosters six points up at half-time as Haskett missed a shot after the siren.

The Demons came out at the start of the third term to have another go at getting on top of the Roosters with Beath, Hutchens, Miegel and Altus putting in the effort. They had the first goal when Sherry trapped Rooster Keding holding the ball, and at the five-minute mark, as the Demons threw the ball out, Hoeck was in the right place to receive it and bring up the two white flags to put them in front.

As Shirvington and Welk were having a great battle in ruck the Roosters raised another effort as Pegler and Crawford-Sandison led their defence to see Elliott, Keding, Hoffman and Tucker put in the work to test the Demon defence led by Brennan and Messenger.

A the nine minute mark the Roosters had their first goal for the term when Keding picked off a poor Willunga kick out to then deliver the ball to Elliott for a full pointer, this followed five minutes later with Simounds, contesting a ruck duel in the goal square, somehow while in the air got boot to ball sending it through the big sticks.

At the twenty two minute mark Simounds was back in the action again to goal as O'Grady, bursting through the pack, delivered the ball.

The Demons had several chances late to get back at the Roosters with Schmidt hitting the post from a set shot, to see them trail at the last break by 11 points.

Again the Demons got the jump on the Roosters in the final term when a snap by Schmidt went through the big sticks in the first minute.

The Roosters responded two minutes later when Duffield, held without the ball, made no mistake but the Demons were starting to do just a bit more attacking thanks to the efforts of Schmidt, Hoeck. Beath and Altus as Shirvington, still doing plenty around the ground, converted a pass from Sherry.

The Roosters were doing a solid job of holding the Demons through Keding, Hodgson and Yeatman, while O'Grady and Tucker were trying to get them forward only to see Simounds and Elliott miss from snap shots and the Demons rushing another behind through.

The Roosters were still clinging to a four point lead at the sixteen minute mark when Schmidt missed a snap shot but they maintained the pressure to then hit the lead at the 22-minute mark as Beath came out of the pack near goals to snap what turned out to be a winning goal, the Roosters attacking near their goals as the siren sounded to give the Demons revenge for their first round defeat by the Roosters.

Southern Districts aiming for comeback at Country Championships

Southern Districts women won their last championship in 2022. Photo: Andrew Batten

By Giorgina McKay

Looking to make a comeback from last year, Southern Districts' men and women have their eyes set on the prize for this weekend's Think! Road Safety SA Country Football Championships in Victor Harbor.

About 250 of the state's best male and female country players from six zones – Central, Eastern, Eyre Peninsula, South East, Northern and Southern Districts – will go head-to-head in matches at Victor Harbor and Encounter Bay ovals from tomorrow for ultimate glory.

Last year's championships saw Eastern take out the men's title, while Central claimed their first in the women's.

Southern Districts, which took third, will be looking to topple both crowns this weekend, particularly with the championships being held on home soil.

Port Noarlunga's A Grade Women Coach Phillip Marks will lead the Southern women with Assistant Coach Andrew Cook by his side, while McLaren District's Gianni Petrucci returns to coach the Southern men, with Sally Fuller joining him as Assistant Coach.

In his second year, Petrucci is bringing lessons from his first to the weekend's matches.

"I think the importance of winning your first game kind of sets you up for the second day," he said.

"Also, having some variation in your squad – some guys that can perform different roles –because it's that next step up of football, so if they're not finding the football as a midfielder you need to be able to play them somewhere else."

All who played in the association match in addition to several extras have been invited to train this week for potential inclusion in the final squad, which will be picked tonight.

Petrucci said the talent to pick from "looks good on paper", leaving him to believe Southern have every chance of taking out this year's championships.

"I'd like to think we're as good a chance as any," he said.

"Hopefully, because it's a home country champs, we get a few more blokes put their hand up, so I'd like to think we're a decent chance.

"I think it would be a good thing (to win) for everyone involved.

"I don't like losing at the best of times, so every time I take the field or whatever side I coach takes the field I want them to win, so we'll be going there to win and hopefully, it's some more exposure for some of our footballers and leagues."

Goolwa/Port Elliot Football Club raises the bar

Women's A Grade Team Manager Jamie Bennett, Bar Manager Rowena Sheridan, Under 14 Girls Assistant Coach Ellie Fry, Women's Co-ordinator Amber McKinlay, and Club Secretary Dene McKinlay encourage all club members and the community to attend tonight's Raiise program.

By Giorgina McKay

At a time when family and domestic violence is a prevalent issue Australia-wide, the Goolwa/Port Elliot Football Club is taking steps to cultivate a culture of respect by being the first in the Great Southern Football League to host the Raiise program tonight.

According to the Department of Social Services, one woman is killed on average by an intimate partner every seven days, while one in four women have experience emotional abuse by a current or former partner.

Raiise is a respectful club environments education program focused on highlighting the importance of gender equality, challenging stereotypes in sporting environments, and empowering participants to actively support others in promoting respectful behaviour in sporting clubs and their community to meet its overarching goal – the prevention of violence against women.

Trained facilitators come out to clubs at no cost to run an hour-and-a-half session that gives participants essential knowledge and practical skills to support a positive and inclusive club environment.

Club Bar Manager Rowena Sheridan first heard of the program through the Office for Women and believed it was a great initiative to share with the club and community.

"The program aims to promote respectful club environments, gender equality, diversity and inclusion, a culture of respect, and to contribute to the prevention of family and domestic violence, which is a very important issue in society at present," she said.

"With the information presented, we are sure all those in attendance will share the information with our wider community."

"This is the first year of the program and the club is excited to be the first in the Great Southern Football League to host the program."

All senior men and women, U17 Girls and Senior Colts players will be in attendance.

The free session is also open to parents, families and community members aged 15 and over at the Goolwa Oval clubrooms tonight from 7.30pm.

If you or someone you know is experiencing domestic and/or family violence, please contact the Domestic Violence Crisis Line on 1800 800 098 or 1800RESPECT.

Bays have the upper hand at Hawk Park

The Hawks hosted the Encounter Bay Eagles last weekend at their Murray Road ground.

Conditions were fine and cool, with a light easterly wind not favouring either end of the ground.

Both teams had key forwards missing, with Uebergang unavailable for the Hawks, and Neale for the Bays was injured as well.

At the first bounce, it was Cole for the Hawks taking the tip against C Tonkin for the Eagles.

An interesting battle between these two ruck men continued all afternoon, as many observers would consider these two the pick of the big men in the GSFL.

Early footy was congested with plenty of ball ups.

Eventually, the Bays had the first score with Pearsons scooping up a ball in the square and kicking truly.

Soon afterwards, the scores were levelled when Howell for the home side kicked his first from a mark, and tit for tat goals continued.

Firstly, Love for the Eagles kicked a six-pointer followed by the Hawks' Kellock doing the same after marking close to goal.

Both sides were working hard, with scrappy play at times.

M Cleggett for the Hawks kicked two late goals from marks, and the Eagles' Bailey soccered a goal from a spillage in the visitor's square.

At the first break, the home side held a narrow seven-point lead over the visitors.

The second quarter had the Bays out of the blocks early.

Good midfield work had the visitors peppering their forward line constantly, with Love kicking the first goal for the term.

Next it was Horrocks for the Bays kicking truly, allowing the Eagles to retain the lead.

The visitors' attacking mode was quick passing down the corridor, whereas the Hawks took a different approach, maintaining possession with shorter kicks.

The Hawks eventually found their groove, with M Cleggett kicking his third goal for the game, as he was getting on top of his defender in Baldock.

The Hawks then pushed on with further goals to H Bruce and Howell, with the latter goaling after receiving a free.

The Eagles managed a late goal, but it was matched by the Hawks' Dominish, minutes afterwards, leaving the home side with an eight-point margin at the big break.

Quarter three was once again a tight affair.

Costello had the first goal for the Bays after receiving a free, and a 25-metre penalty.

Both sides were going hard at it, but the visitors were generally cleaner with their marking and disposal.

The Hawks had good passages of play, but let themselves down at times with dropped marks and poor kicking.

J Towk and Derham for the Hawks were doing well in the Hawks' defence.

Horrocks and Bradford were getting plenty of the ball for the Eagles as well.

The next goal came from the boot of H Bruce for the Hawks after he received a free, and shortly afterwards the home side kicked another through Howell.

However, the Eagles gained the upper hand late in the quarter, with Horrocks nailing two goals, one of which was from a mark, the other came after he scooped up the ball after a dropped Hawks' mark, and made no mistake.

At the last break, the Bays were holding on by a point.

The final quarter had the Bays making the early moves.

Two goals came from the Eagle's Pepper, who had been quite up to this point.

Both teams were giving it their best in a tight tussle.

A mark and a goal to M Cleggett gave the home side some hope, but it was Davis for the Eagles who put the visitors a further six points ahead, with a neat left foot snap from the square.

For the remainder of the quarter, the Hawks had the ball in their forward arc constantly, but the Eagles flooded down and stopped any score progression by the home side.

The Hawks were somewhat unlucky in the last term with two of their shots hitting the post, but it was to no avail as the Bays came home with an 11-point victory at the final siren.

The visitors had good contributors in Horrocks, who nailed four goals as well as racking up plenty of touches around the ground.

Also, Pearsons was handy up forward, and C Tonkin was useful in ruck.

The Hawks were well-served by J Towk down back, Dominish on ball, and by M Cleggett who kicked four goals for the afternoon.

Roosters sit third after another win

Another solid performance from Strathalbyn's U14 and U17 Girls sides saw them claim wins against Victor Harbor at McLaren on Sunday.

Starting off the day were the U14s, who played the majority of the game in their forward half and steadily stretched the lead throughout the game.

Final score was 4.10 to nil, securing the Roosters third spot on the ladder – a massive achievement for the young team.

Macey Parker kicked two goals, with singles to Poppy Groom and Quba Verwey.

Best on Ground included Lacey Willsmore, Macie Parker, Natasha Vogelsang, Lily Walker, Anna Scott and Charlotte Diepgroend.

The U17 Girls were again short on players through sickness and injury, but five of the U14s stepped up and contributed to the 12-a-side game.

The extra space on the ground allowed Strathalbyn to use the space to their advantage, keeping the scoreboard pressure on Victor Harbor across the four quarters.

The Roosters' second quarter was their best, kicking 3.1 with the wind.

The final score was 5.5 to 0.2.

Marley Tape kicked three goals and Ruby Erbsland two.

Best on Ground included Ruby Erbsland, Marley Tape, Lily Jenke, Kayla Schubert, Elise Franke and Evie Bielby-Spooner.

Strathalbyn Netball Club

11&U (1)

Strathalbyn 13 v Willunga 12

It was a close game, where the girls came back from sickness and a bye last week, but they didn't stop pushing to get over the line by one goal to beat Willunga. It was not the best game we have played as a team, and it was a little sloppy with some silly mistakes. Our defensive game was on point, though even, forcing our goalies to put their best defensive foot forward, and with that, we had some great interceptions on the centre passes and plenty of turnovers, giving us plenty of the ball. There's always room for improvements. It was wonderful to come away with a win, and to keep our second position on the ladder!

11&U (2)

Strathalbyn 6 v Willunga 20

Strathalbyn really improved from the first game, playing the top team where they scored no goals. Strath kept them to one goal in the third quarter, and it was a good effort against the undefeated side - great game, everyone!

11&U (3)

Strathalbyn 5 v Willunga 5

It was a perfectly sunny morning for a netball game at Willunga for the Under 11 Division 3 team. There were a number of goal attempts in the first quarter for Strath, while Willunga managed to convert two. By the end of the third quarter, Strath had scored four goals with many more opportunities in the circle. There was solid work in defence, with wonderful intercepts for the entirety of the game. Both teams finished the match with five goals apiece.

13&U (1)

Strathalbyn 43 v Willunga 28

We were expecting a tough game between the top two teams on the ladder, and the weather was kind, so a good game was had. There were some good passages of play by both teams, with Willunga making use of some errors to lead by one at the first break. The second saw some changes with strengthening our defence end, and created some turnovers, which our goalies made count with some great goals, to see us go with a small lead at main break. We kept the foot down and, again with some great goals, were able to increase our lead, heading into the last. With awesome defence in the last, the goalies continued to work as a team. Great accuracy in goals saw us run away with the win. Thank you goes to Eva, Ains and Molly from the 2s for helping out, and to London for keeping a correct count in our coaches' book.

Strathalbyn 39 v Willunga 7

Strath was first to settle into a rhythm, helped along with accurate shooting from London Pingel in goal attack, and strong rebounds by Ainsley Wagenknecht in goal shooter, despite her being head and shoulders shorter than the Willunga defenders. Willunga struggled to transition the ball into their attacking end, with Strath's full court defence forcing them to make lots of cross court passes with chances for pick-offs. Ava Gotzheim worked tirelessly in the centre court, constantly running her heart out in attacking and defending roles as centre. Strath had 11 unanswered goals at the first break. In the second quarter, Molly Whittam continued to play the perfect wing attack role, receiving the centre passes, feeding to the goalies and showing great vision to collect any loose balls. Meanwhile, in wing defence, Layla Daws showed tenacity and focus to pressure every lead, and to pass and provide driving leads back into Strath's attack. Strath added nine more goals to Willunga's one. Strath continued their dominance in the third quarter, with Lauren Bley in goal defence playing a nice floating role, picking up loose balls and turnovers while down in attack, and with Mia Tape in goal shooter providing height and consistency under the ring. Strath led 28-5 at the final break. Strath mixed up positions in the final term, but their depth and versatility meant they were never in trouble. They won comfortably, 39-7.

13&U (3)

Strathalbyn 18 v Willunga 24

It was a brilliant day for netball, and we didn't know what to expect, but the girls were prepared for a fight. It was a good start, even though we were a bit flat and played players out of position to give them a go, but it was a close first quarter. The second we changed things up and, unfortunately, made some errors, and we were then down at the main break. We kept trying hard, but continued to miss our targets, and Willunga made it count. We went into the last still running hard with some great defence being played, and some great accuracy in goals by the girls but, unfortunately, we went down by six.

9&U Gold

The Strath girls came out strong in the first quarter, with both teams getting a few goals. Willunga showed impressive goal accuracy and movement down the court.

9&U Green

A midday game against Willunga was something very different for the girls. With a gorgeous winter sunny day, it was lots of fun for the girls to play a wonderful game.

Inter 1

Strathalbyn 42 v Willunga 32

Strathalbyn clinched a tight victory with consistent play, led by standout goalie, Sienna Beeching. The game remained fiercely contested throughout, but Strathalbyn's composure made the difference in securing the win.

Inter 2

Strathalbyn 39 v Willunga 56

The team faced a strong, well-drilled Willunga team. We did well to implement strategies to disrupt their flow at times, but needed to capitalise on our end.

Inter 3

Strathalbyn 46 v Willunga 36

This week saw second-placed Strath face off against third-placed Willunga, guaranteeing a tough match up for both teams. Strath were able to start strong, with defensive intensity down the court which has characterised most of their games this season. Progressively, Strath managed to build a solid lead, before Willunga came out firing in the final quarter, making up 10 goals to whittle away Strath's lead to only 10. There were positive signs for both teams throughout the match, as we edge closer to finals time.

Inter 4

Strathalbyn 24 v Willunga 25

Unfortunately, Willunga were too good for us, and we got our first loss of the season. It was a great game, with very even competition. We look forward to hopefully getting the opportunity to play them again in finals

League

Strathalbyn 41 v Willunga 34

It was a tough battle against a different Willunga line up, from what we saw last time. Strath got the lead early, and managed to put the foot down and build throughout the game. There was strong work by our mid courters, to remain calm and composed to deliver the ball into our goalies, which put us in a great position to get the win!

Senior 2

Strathalbyn 49 v Willunga 51

A back and forth, tight battle all game resulted in Willunga just getting over the line. Strath defence put up an excellent fight, and kept us right in the contest until the last whistle. We had really strong work throughout the court, with some great connections seen in our attack end. There were plenty of positives to take from this, heading towards the end of the season!

Senior 3

Strathalbyn 51 v Willunga 43

It was a close battle all game between Strath and Willunga, however, Strath's composure and defensive pressure all over the court let them take home the win

Senior 4

Strathalbyn 51 v Willunga 48

Strath had a strong first half and fought to keep the lead for the second, leaving with the win! It was great to have a full team this week, and the team clicked well to set up fantastic plays all the way down the court.

Senior 5

Strathalbyn 43 v Willunga 41

You little beauty - beating Willunga was the best!

Senior 6

Strathalbyn 28 v Willunga 48

The game began with both teams locked in a fierce battle, ending the first quarter with a nail-biting tie. Unfortunately, Strath struggled to convert opportunities into points in the second and third quarter. The girls came back strong in the last quarter but, unfortunately, it wasn't enough to close the big lead Willunga had earned.

Senior 7

Strathalbyn 28 v Willunga 53

Strath started out really well, being able to keep within a few goals each quarter. Willunga had a good third quarter, and managed to push out their lead and, at that point, Strath just couldn't slow them down. Some really good passages of play throughout the game. But still some basic things we got wrong that we need to work on at training. Still a great effort and an enjoyable game with Willunga. Thanks again to Stella Roberts for helping us out and seamlessly fitting in to our team, you're such a little superstar and we love having you out there with us! Enjoy the week off, ladies - rest up and be ready for our next 'battle'!

Both teams started strong, showing great skills and determination. It was goal for goal with the game being very even for the first half, and with Myponga up by three. The speed of Tarlie Smart helped Mount Compass capitalise on turnovers. In the third quarter, Myponga secured a strong lead with accurate shooting and full court pressure. Myponga continued to take the lead with defensive turnovers from Rachelle Rothwell. Mount Compass applied great pressure over the court, however Myponga continued to capitalise on turnovers, winning the game by 18. Thank you goes to umpires, timers and scorers.

Myponga 40 DEF BY Mount Compass 47

Heading into this game, we knew it was going to be a tough one. Having to combat a strong opponent, we started with a different line up, one that was designed to counteract them. Swapping Sophie and Georgia around in defence worked a treat, up against both Kellie and Kelly from Mount Compass in goals. The movements and height of our defenders allowed us to pick off passes and close down space in their goal ring. Backed up by Macky and Danni on the ring, saw us only trail by two at the first break. Movements in the mid court, with Danni running the court up against the speed and agility from Prue, was brilliant to watch, as neither player gave in. Grace, in the wing, allowed her to feed the ball into the goalies and assist with moving the ball around to help us get past a strong Mount Compass defence end. Levelling with them for the quarter, and even having the lead during the game, this was a great game to be involved in, though this saw us still trailing by two. There were no changes for Myponga, with Compass swapping a few players around in a bid to shut them down. Shooting from Sam and Kiara was challenged every time, with tight defence work from Daniella and Kimberly. There was passing in from Grace and Danni which was spot on. Interceptions from both sides and scoring off centre passes, saw the game again remain level and us down by two. Swapping Danni and Grace in the mid court gave fresh legs, and with both Sophie and Georgia also swapping, it gave a bit more drive through the mid court. Some great ball challenges between Macky and Prue gave spectators a great match up to watch. Unfortunately, some mistimed passes and unforced errors crept into our game, allowing Mount Compass to capitalise and take the win by seven goals. All up, it was a great game to watch, with both sides knowing that they had given their all, and it showed us that we can adapt to positional changes and come out strong.

Myponga 65 DEF Mount Compass 12

With everyone looking amazing in their pink, supporting a great fundraiser, the Myponga ladies started the game strong. With awesome defence from both Amy Mathewson and Amelia Thorpe in the circle, they created pressure and made it hard for the Mount Compass attack.

There were great drives out of defence from Tayla Harvey and Merridie McLaren, into the attack line with Billie-Jo, and providing great feeds into the shooting circle. Roxie Deacon and Tarnia Detrey were able to capitalise in the goal circle. The Mount Compass ladies didn't give up, making changes and applying defensive pressure throughout the game. However, Myponga were too strong and came away with an impressive win.

Senior 5

Myponga 72 DEF Mount Compass 35

Myponga took on Mount Compass after a bye last week. Julie and Natasha were hard to beat in the goal ring, with some great passes in and accurate shooting. Megan Smith was accurate down the other end, even with the great hands over pressure from Heidi. The whole team put good pressure on down the court, with multiple intercepts being converted, resulting in a big win!

Senior 6

Myponga 42 DEF Mount Compass 26

With Jo and Kim away, we had the lovely Sienna Tomlinson in goals with Larissa who did a fantastic job. Myponga had some good passages of play down the court but overall, it was a scrappy game with many skill errors. Melissa Coombs made some great passes into the circle, and Alana McGrath knocked a few balls away with her great reach. Larissa Edson worked hard all day, battling often two players at once. Nicole McLaren was able to get some great interceptions and rebounds, and it was great to have her back after missing last week. Myponga took the win away, but it wasn't pretty.

Senior 7

Myponga 39 DEF Mount Compass 34

Mount Compass came out strong, connecting well in attack to put Myponga on the back foot and down by two goals at quarter time.

Myponga defence applied pressure all game, creating many turnovers to keep them in touch with Mount Compass at every break. Mount Compass took a handy lead into the final quarter, so it was up to the Myponga team to dig deep all over the court. There was great defence from Paula Bongiorno and Kristy Smith in the final quarter, creating key opportunities to score which were capitalised on by Myponga goalies, to take out the win by five goals.

Inter 3

Myponga 43 DEF Mount Compass 24

This was a very tightly contested game in the first half, with Mount Compass applying lots of pressure which caused turnovers that their goalies, Paige McKenzie, in particular, was able to convert. Myponga found their feet in the second half, with some great ball movement through the mid court by Sienna Tomlinson, to extend their lead through the third and last quarter to win by 19. Massive thanks go to Sienna from the Inter 4s, who filled in for us and shot some great goals. Also, thanks to Kayla for umpiring.

Inter 4

Myponga 44 DEF Mount Compass 19

What a game - the mudlarks came out strong and hard! With a mix of players away, we had a reset and went back to basics. Our defensive circle of Emily Lines, Tayla Deacon and Rose Wallace, did an amazing job to keep Compass to three goals in the first, and goalless in the second. Our amazing shooters, Sienna Jones, Maddy Strapp and Sophie Kahl, had a great day making the Compass defenders, Gloria Elischar and Lilian Fay, work really hard. We're not to forget our mid court team, Asha Mansell and Mia Jones, who were speedy and eventually found space, and began to time their leads superbly. Big thanks to Mia Jones and Tayla Deacon for joining the Inter 4s today. Both girls have a bright future in netball, and they were a pleasure to have as part of our team.

Myponga 25 DEF Mount Compass 18

With only playing Mount Compass five weeks ago in a makeup game, Myponga were determined to play stronger. Mount Compass started the game strong, taking a quick lead, and leading by two at the first break. Myponga tightened up on defence, with intercepts all over the court, gaining the lead at half time. An even third quarter from both teams led into an exciting last. Myponga made a few changes, finishing the game off with a seven-goal win.

11 Div1

Myponga 14 DEF BY Mount Compass 18

It was a sunny morning in Myponga versus Compass. Mount Compass had some tall players which was tough on Myponga, and which meant no lobs and that the girls needed to get in front. We were down by two at half time. In the third quarter we started off strong, but with no bench for Myponga, we struggled and lost by four. We would like to thank Mount Compass for coming out and having a great intense game!

9 & Under

DRAW

In a sea of pink, Myponga got off to a flying start with a great first quarter. Aysha made some great leads at wing attack, while Stephanie and Bonnie moved well in the goal ring around a very tall Compass defender. Myponga have been practising their passing at training, which was very evident through strong plays all the way up the court. Compass made some changes in the second half, while Kenzi dominated the centre court, and with accurate shooting from Ebony and Charlotte. Thanks to umpires and scorers.

Willunga Netball Club

9 & Under Gold

It was a very tight contest by both teams.

First quarter was a back-and-forth affair with Strathalbyn's defence keeping Willunga to three goals.

Luckily for Willunga, in the second and fourth quarters, we managed to keep our accuracy, and Scarlet and Claire scored nine of the 13 goals during these periods.

The defence from both sides had a lot of work to do, however, accuracy ended up determining the final result.

It was a very good game for both sides.

9 & Under Green

First quarter was a tight contest between both sides, with strong passing in attack and throughout the court.

It was even up until half time, with both teams showing excellent shooting.

In the third quarter, Willunga passed well and applied strong defensive pressure down the court, and converted their opportunities in the ring.

It was a strong win from Willunga with all players playing as a team.

11 & Under Div 1

Willunga 12 – Strathalbyn 13

Willunga had a lot of opportunities to convert turnovers but, unfortunately, our passing let us down.

We had some nice passages of play with some amazing intercepts by our defenders.

Strathalbyn were up to the task and came out with a one goal win.

11 & Under Div 2

Willunga 20 – Strathalbyn 6

Willunga played a strong game today. Asher, in centre, bought the ball down well, and connected with Daisy and Michaela who scored the goals.

Our defenders worked well, stopping Strathalbyn from scoring opportunities.

To their credit, Strathalbyn never gave up.

11 & Under Div 3

Willunga 5 – Strathalbyn

The game between Willunga and Strathalbyn was fairly evenly matched, as shown, with the final result - a draw.

Both teams showed a strong mid court and good communication across the court, and showed amazing improvements in their fundamental skills since they last played against each other.

Willunga had several Under 9 girls playing in the team, and they did a great job in the higher division.

13 & Under Div 1

Willunga 28 – Strathalbyn43

It was always going to be a tough day for Willunga, coming up against the top of the table - Strathalbyn.

Willunga came out firing in the first quarter, taking Strath by surprise, and were one up at the first break.

It was a tough contest through the second quarter, with Strath taking a three-goal lead into the main break.

There was outstanding shooting by A Bertholini, with E Smith making the defenders work hard, while Strath really took it to the next level.

Willunga just couldn't keep up the pressure which saw Strathalbyn take a 15-goal win.

13 & Under Div 2

Willunga 7 – Strathalbyn 39

Today we played our final game against Strathalbyn for the minor round.

Strathalbyn maintained strong defensive pressure throughout the duration of the game and across the entire court.

Willunga managed to also apply defensive pressure on Strathalbyn, but only on a few occasions.

It was a great game to watch, with both teams encouraging each other on and off the court.

It was a good win for Strathalbyn.

13 & Under Div 3

Willunga 24 – Strathalbyn 18

It was a very competitive game today. All played well with an even contest across the court.

Willunga appeared to want the win more and came away with it.

It was a good game to watch.

Inter 1

Willunga 32 – Strathalbyn 42

Willunga had a very strong start to the game, going head-to-head with Strathalbyn.

We lost our way during the second quarter to be behind by 14 goals at half time.

In the second half, the girls came back fighting, taking the game back in hand but, unfortunately, the damage had been done in the second quarter.

Unfortunately, we could not claw back the deficit - going down by 10 goals in the end.

It was a super effort by both teams.

Inter 2

Willunga 56 – Strathalbyn 39

On the last time we met, Strath beat Willunga by 10 goals.

This week, Willunga started strong in attack, and Grace McAvaney led out of the centre well.

Both teams went goal for goal, with Willunga winning two turnovers to lead at quarter time by two goals.

Charlotte George in defence, provided pressure to Ruby Vears in the second quarter, and Maelin Lock was shooting consistently to have Willunga lead by 10 at half time.

Mia Hutchinson played well in wing defence for Strathalbyn, and provided pressure to the Willunga attack in the third quarter.

The final term saw Maelin Lock, for Willunga, lead the game in goals, fed well by Grace McAvaney.

Willunga took the win 56 to 39.

Inter 3

Willunga 36 – Strathalbyn 46

Strathalbyn got off to a great start with several unanswered goals.

As Willunga settled, they were able to match it with Strath for the remainder of the first quarter.

In the second quarter, Strath were able to make the most of every opportunity - increasing their lead going into the main break.

Willunga worked hard, but were unable to contain Strathalbyn in the third quarter.

The final quarter saw Willunga find their rhythm and hard work to reduce Strath's lead, taking the final quarter, but not the game - well done, everybody.

Inter 4

Willunga 25 – Strathalbyn 24

A fantastically well contested game from the outset, resulted in some nervous ball handling and general turnovers in the first quarter by both teams.

Goalies all took some time to settle in, and the defence in the circle for both teams worked hard.

Willunga gathered their focus and were determined which saw them five goals ahead at half time.

Strathalbyn created some fast gains and capitalised with quick goals.

Willunga refocused, worked hard, and played for each other with level heads.

A strong performance across the court created a great game to view, with Willunga scoring a one goal win.

League

Willunga 34 – Strathalbyn 41

The league game was dominated by defence at both ends of the court.

Jordan V was outstanding in goal defence for Strathalbyn, and couldn't be stopped.

Young Stella Hockham won ball for Willunga, but the team just couldn't convert when needed. Strathalbyn won, 41 to 34.

Senior2

Willunga 51 – Strathalbyn 49

Willunga played consistently in all four quarters.

The girls have been battling with little niggles and sickness recently, and getting a win was very sweet.

There were no standout players as they all worked as a team defensively and in attack.

It was a good start to the second half of the season, and we hope to continue that way.

Senior 3

Willunga 43 – Strathalbyn 51

A strongly contested first quarter saw no team able to take control of the game.

Strathalbyn began to settle in the second quarter, although Willunga did manage several turnovers but were unable to convert at the other end.

The third quarter mirrored the second, and again in the final quarter.

Willunga maintained the defensive pressure, but couldn't close the gap Stath had leading into the final quarter.

Senior 4

Willunga 49 – Strathalbyn 51

It was a very even quarter to start, with both teams going goal for goal, with Willunga finally being able to take a two-goal lead.

Some accurate shooting by Strathalbyn goalies, Charlotte W and Georgia D, saw them with a seven-goal lead at half time.

Willunga's defensive effort increased in the third, with a lot of tips and turnovers to fight back to be two goals behind at three quarter time.

The defence from both teams was strong, which made scoring difficult.

Senior 5

Willunga 41 – Strathalbyn 43

It was a strong and competitive game from both teams, with close scoring throughout the game. Strathalbyn managed a two-goal win.

Senior 6

Willunga 48 – Strathalbyn 28

In the first quarter, both teams had many ball-handling errors, which meant it was a low scoring quarter.

Strathalbyn and Willunga mid courters worked hard.

Strath's goal shooter was a tall target, which made the Willunga defenders change their game style to accommodate this.

Willunga shooters got their mojo, were very accurate and proved the game winners.

Senior 7

Willunga 53 – Strathalbyn 28

It was a slow start by both teams with Willunga leading by four at the first stoppage.

Both teams struggled to goal unless close to the post due to the gusty conditions.

Teams went goal for goal in the second quarter, with Willunga only increasing their lead by one goal, making them five up at half time.

A change in the shooters and defenders saw Willunga increase their lead.

Willunga centre player, Evie Konings was instrumental with some intercepts and movement down the court, to give a good win to Willunga.

Murray Mouth finish line for epic paddle

Lameroo resident Seaton Nassif finished an incredible 2000km paddle at the Murray Mouth last week.

By Tara Nash

A kayaker finished an incredible 2000km paddle at the Murray Mouth last week, after a 64-day venture to fundraise for mental health services. Lameroo resident Seaton Nassif has fundraised more than $2500 for Black Dog Institute, after the seed was planted when he was younger and told people he was going to kayak the whole river one day. "Then I went through a bit of a rough patch for about two, three years, I hit rock bottom, and I thought I needed to do something to change my life," he said. "I was reading a book and it said 'go back to things you used to say as a kid, even if it was a joke'."

Starting from Yarrawonga in Victoria,

Nassif journeyed for nine weeks along the river which proved to be challenging to stay motivated. "There were a lot of days on the kayak when I thought 'I don't really want to be doing this', but the only way to overcome that was to keep paddling," Nassif said. "But I just got up, got out and made it happen. "I'm glad I did it solo... previously I overthought, but being alone in nature, there's no real distractions of the hustle and bustle of everyday life. "I was able to sit with my thoughts and organise everything in my head." Nassif plans to continue this momentum into the future, by planning an upcoming big run or cycle. Donations can still be made via the Black Dog Institute page.

Murray Bridge Rifle Club

A fine winter's day awaited shooters on Saturday at the Deed Rifle Range in Monarto, as the Murray Bridge Rifle Club held it's annual 'Cranwell-15' Trophy from a range of 600 metres. The weather was cold and crisp, but skies were clear and the winds were light and consistent, making for some very good scores. The only possible, however, was shot in TR by Andrew Heard, finished with 75.09, ahead of Robert Paech on 74.08, and Jasmine Irvine on 73.04. It also saw him claim the Cranwell Trophy with a handicap score of 88.3. A large F-Class field also saw close competition, with five shooters only separated by three points. Finishing ahead off-rifle was trophy sponsor, John Cranwell, with an 89.06. Close behind him was David McDonald (88.08) and Adrian Conlon (88.06), Gordon Harrison (88.07) and David Newmann (86.04). However, the Cranwell Trophy, based on handicap, went to David McDonald, whose 99.0 was just enough to finish ahead of Gordon Harrison's 98.4. The shoot marked the end of the Club's championship year, with its AGM being held in the afternoon. The new championship will start next week from the range of 300 metres.

Kerry Vine strikes again

By Perry Jones

Kerry Vine was at it again last Saturday in winning the Stroke round with an impressive 83 off the stick for a nett 72 to deny forty five other players of being the overall winner of the day.

Conditions were ideal for a change at the course as A grade player Kerry, despite having to put up with comments all day in with playing hackers Allen Anderson, Kingsley Handke and John Owen, shot a 42 off the stick on the front nine and 41 on the back.

Kerry won on a count back from Andrew Muller who won the C grade with 97 off the stick, while A grader Chris Barker was next with a 73 off the stick for a nett 75 the same nett score as son Cooper Barker who won the B Grade, having 94 off the stick, 52 on the front and 42 on the back.

Kerry must have had a few laughs while going around with his crew, John Owen producing a fair few classics, like on the par three sixth, able to get over the creek off the tee but then proceeding to have another six shots to get on the green for two putts and a total of nine for the hole.

John then next time around (15th) had an 'airy' off the tee and was claiming that a strike of lightning blinded him, obviously meaning the sun got in his eyes, also having trouble with his grip on the club after his miss.

It was also on the fifteenth that another member of the group in Allen Anderson also followed John with an 'airy' off the tee but his ball didn't get over the creek, which had Kerry and Kingsley a bit nervous to tee off, luckily both landing their shots up near the green.

Allen after he had played reasonably well on the first nine said at the start of the second nine he felt like a new man and that looked the case when he was on the green for three to then sink the putt for a par four on the tenth.

However next hole he hit the wall with a nine on the eleventh, dragging Kingsley back to his standard as he had eight for the hole.

Allen was using Andrew Smith's putter again for the round and was again complaining about it all day but on the fourteenth used it to putt the ball in off the green, Kerry asking Allen 'what's wrong with the putter now?'.

Allen finished with holes of seven eleven times plus an eight and a nine for 115 off the stick, Kingsley having 110 off the stick, while John Owen also had 110 off the stick but he did show a bit of talent on the par three seventeenth when his tee shot went left off the tee curled around over the trees and landed on the green to pick up nearest the pin before settling for a par on the hole.

Sean Naylor went out with new clubs on Saturday and might be wanting to trade them in already as, probably for the first time, he won the Naga award with 96 off the stick for a nett 90.

Sean was getting plenty of advice from his other A grade players in his group in Andrew Hentschke and Graeme Bertholini, particularly on the magical hole around the dam on the seventh when he finished with nine, as he continued to cover more ground than the early settlers.

The next time around the dam, the sixteenth, he went a bit better with eight for the hole, captain Berti showing Sean how easy the conditions were when on the tenth cut the corner over the trees off the tee to finish twenty metres from the green to pick up a birdie.

Speaking of new gear Damon Mayes rocked up on Saturday with a new buggy but he had trouble handling it particularly when near the green on the fifth as it started rolling down the slope to the small dam.

Having chased it down Damon must have been a bit flustered as getting his ball on the green proceeded to have four putts for a nine but he did make amends next hole with a birdie on the par three.

Kirk Richardson in his new golf cart for some reason on a sunny day used the lights on it, probably thinking he might be able to see where he hit his ball better, it didn't work having 90 off the stick for a nett 84 in A grade.

Gordon Robson was quite pleased with his effort to get his ball on the par five third with his second shot, just eight inches from the hole but not so pleased when he missed his eagle putt having to settle for a birdie.

Another one not so pleased was Mick Beasley when Paul Coombe with one of his shots hit Mick's cart, Paul, hacking his way around the course for 104 off the stick, however a bit straighter on the on the ninth when he had the longest drive (19+) for the day.

Curator Red Sorrell lost the plot a bit near the end of his round, the sixteenth bringing him undone with a nine, having gone in the dam on his way to 103 off the stick, while his partner Geoff Hall could have done better off the stick than 84, three putting on three holes during his round.

Terry Merritt has certainly lost his merit in his game, the sixteenth also bringing him undone with eleven shots and on the tenth managed to have ten shots, finishing with 118 off the stick.

Derek Keane played some great shots off the tee but certainly messed up plenty of second shots with just one par on the front nine, the sixteenth one of his nightmares for the round after a long tee shot.

His next shot on this hole saw the ball roll down the bank of the dam just short of the water and then in playing it from where it was his next shot caught the bank and this time the ball rolled into the water having nine for the hole.

Derek was still trying to go under 50 on the back nine at the last with a reasonably easy putt but you guessed it the putt missed as he finished with 96 of the stick for a nett 85.

At the end of the day and at the lucky card draw to have a go at the putting jackpot, captain Graeme Bertholini didn't appear to be impressed when Randall Pitt's card was drawn out again for the third week in a row but Berti was a bit happier that his card also came out along with Sean Naylor's who was trying to win more than just the Naga award on the day.

As all lined up putting left handed so the jackpot didn't go off.

Cup with the following playing: 11a.m. D.Keane v G.Bertholini, 11.07a.m. K.Richardson v H.Kelly, 11.14a.m. E.Heyns v G.Hall, 11.21a.m. P.Perrin v M.Condon.

Strathalbyn Ladies Golf

July Monthly Medallist is Penny Geue

Winner and July Monthly Medallist, Penny Geue with runner-up, Cara Eastwood.

Marie Kingsbury in a pickle.

On Wednesday, July 3, 14 ladies played a round that included stroke, putting, monthly medal, McBain and international bowl competitions.

The winner on the day in the stroke competition was Penny Geue with a fantastic 78 nett.

She was closely followed by Cara Eastwood with 79, while Di Krutli and Marie Kingsbury scored 81 each.

Carol Pelle, Ann Semple, Mel Johnson and Tonya Merritt could not be split, as they all finished with 82.

Next came Jo Pickhaver on 83, Viv Dahl on 84, Pauline Walkom and Charmaine Aplin both on 86, Jo Cullen on 90 and Sue Pryor on 94.

Sue Phillips and Maureen Need played nine holes, and finished with 41 and 51, respectively.

In the putting competition, Jo P had a good day, and finished with 26.

Marie and Jo C had 30, Pauline, Charmaine, Carol and Di had 31, Penny, 32, Tonya and Cara, 33, Mel and Viv, 34, Sue Pry, 36, and Ann, 37 putts for the game.

For the nine-holers, Sue Ph had 21 and Maureen had 24 putts.

No one was accurate with their drive on the ninth hole, so no nearest the pin was won.

There was also, no gobblers or birdies for the day.

The ladies welcomed new member Viv Dahl to their club, and hoped she would enjoy her time playing at Strathalbyn.

The dam edge had a couple of visitors, with both ladies able to get their ball out first hit – Jo P on the seventh and Carol on the 16th.

Marie's ball decided to climb a tree and settle in the bark.

See her try to get it out – two, maybe three shots later!

Someone, who will remain nameless, ventured into the creek on the sixth, not once, twice or even three times.

She gave it a fourth try as well - luckily, one ball was found!

All we can say was that the weather was good for golf, and that after the rain in the previous week, the fairways played well.

Let's hope for good weather and happy golf next week.
