Class of 2023 ready for formal

By Giorgina McKay

An evening of reminiscing, dining, and dancing awaits Eastern Fleurieu students at tomorrow night's school formal.

Held at Lake Breeze Wines, the Strathalbyn 7-12 campus' annual night of nights not only recognises and celebrates the diversity of this year's soon-to-be graduates, but their journey through a tumultuous few years of high school.

The night's festivities will include fine dining, music provided by a DJ, speeches from staff, including Principal Ian Kent, and the presentation of a staff-made video.

Last year, staff donned double denim, track suits, tie-dye and flannels for a '90s inspired video, where they danced and sang to Got the Feelin' for the Class of 2022.

Staff will once again travel back in time, channelling the alt-scene of the early 2000s for this year's rendition.

"We're definitely channelling our inner mischief makers," Senior Leader, Matt Taylor, said.

A roaming photographer and photoboosts will capture the night's celebrations, which have been made possible with the help of students' fundraising efforts.

The cohort held a 'wine drive' in partnership with Lake Breeze Wines and Bleasdale Vineyards earlier in the year, raising a couple thousand dollars to help cover costs such as the DJ and photographer.

Mr Taylor felt it was important every student had the opportunity to enjoy formal.

"I feel like it aligns with the inclusive culture we've been trying to build here," he said.

"This group in particular have had four years of probably some of the most turbulent education anyone has really experienced in school for a very long time, so we've been doing a lot of work with the kids to try to rebuild the cohort and culture.

"We feel events like this are really important milestones in a person's life to stop and recognise the journey they've come on thus far, but also the journey they've come along with everyone else that's been around them.

"That's why we felt it was important for everyone to be able to attend."

Parents, caregivers, and other family members will have an opportunity to celebrate the night with students on the front lawns prior to the event.

Backpacker visa changes to affect Mayo communities

A South Australian senator has slammed visa changes implemented by the Federal Government for backpackers and working holiday-makers, which will significantly impact Mayo communities and the local economy.

More than 137,000 WHM visa holders are currently in Australia, and make up to 80 per cent of the harvest labour force in horticulture, while in other commodities, they account for five to 15 per cent of the junior, casual and seasonal workforce.

As of Saturday, the cost of the Working Holiday Maker (WHM) visa has increased by $130, making it the highest visa fee of its kind in the world.

The government is also considering cutting the WHM visa to one year, and removing any regional work requirements.

As a large rural electorate, Senator Andrew McLachlan said Mayo communities heavily rely on working holiday-makers to take up employment in essential industries, and support businesses by spending money locally.

"By making the Working Holiday Maker visa so expensive, it will discourage backpackers from coming to Australia, which means fewer workers helping in agriculture and hospitality jobs, and fewer visitors supporting our tourism businesses," he said.

"If Labor cuts the backpacker visa to just one year, it will devastate our regional economies in South Australia and around the country.

"As I travel around the electorate, I meet backpackers contributing to our communities... their contribution in Mayo cannot be underestimated.

"The Coalition continues to support our successful Working Holiday Maker program, and Prime Minister Anthony Albanese needs to stand up today and match our commitment."

Strathalbyn in top 10 'Ag towns'

Strathalbyn is among the Ag Town of the Year finalists competing for a top three spot.

The award highlights the importance of developing and maintaining a strong and vibrant agriculture sector in South Australia by recognising towns excelling in agricultural practices, strengthening their region, and supporting a vibrant and resilient community.

Following a public voting period,

Strathalbyn has made the top 11 finalists, with two towns coming in equal tenth place this year.

The towns will be invited to provide written submissions to be reviewed by a panel of independent judges, who will select three finalists.

The finalists will then be visited for assessment, with one ultimately proclaimed as South Australian Ag Town of the Year for 2023.

"Having a top 10 is a new innovation as the Ag Town of the Year awards evolve, providing the opportunity to widen the recognition and appreciation of the towns, their surrounding regions, and of course, their respective communities that make them such dynamic and welcoming places to live," Minister for Primary Industries and Regional Development, Clare Scriven, said.

"Our regions contribute $29 billion to the state's economy each year, and their contribution deserves to be celebrated.

"Congratulations to our top 10 towns, and all the best for the next stage in what is a very rigorous process to become our very worthy Ag Town of the Year for 2023."

The winner will be announced at the Regional Showcase Awards' celebration evening on Thursday, November 9.

'General rate smoothing' considers economic climate...

RISES LESS THAN CPI

By Tara Nash

Using a three-year rating strategy, a local council has adopted rate increases below CPI in response to current and challenging economic conditions.

Mount Barker District Council will increase its general rates by 5.6 per cent – 2.3 per cent below CPI – plus 3.96 per cent from new developments and capital improvements, with some eligible ratepayers receiving a concessional rate cap of 4 per cent.

The rate rise was part of council's 2023-24 Annual Business Plan which was adopted during Monday night's general meeting.

Some major commitments include almost $1.2 million into new footpaths, the Regional Aquatic and Leisure Centre, RV parks in Mount Barker and Macclesfield, a corporate emissions reduction plan and the upgrade to the Keith Stephenson Park play space.

Callington Showground Pavilion will receive a council contribution of $70,000.

Council received 60 written submissions during the consultation process compared to 95 last year.

A three-year 'smoothing' approach is being followed for rate setting, meaning 2023/2024 rate increases are less than CPI of 7.9 per cent, then for the following two years, rates will increase at a rate greater than CPI.

Mayor David Leach said this approach is to help ratepayers through current economic conditions and forecast high inflation continuing beyond 2023.

"The rising cost of living is currently impacting many in our community," he said.

"The global pandemic is the most recent example of how global shocks can influence local economic conditions and how we must be prepared for future shocks and have the capacity to evolve and adapt our strategy when needed."

Councillor Ian Grosser liked the smoothing approach, but said "a lot of explanation" will be required over the next couple of years when rates increase higher than CPI, while councillor Samantha Jones also supported the concept.

Cr Jones believed this was the "most informed, consulted upon and innovative" Annual Business Plan she had been involved in and commended staff for how the information was "collected, collated and analysed".

"(Rate smoothing) may be lost on some people in the community, but (it is during) times when every dollar can make a difference," she said.

"I think it's a really innovative approach that we've taken to try and smooth that over the next few years."

However, Macclesfield Community Association questioned the smoothing approach.

"We encourage council to focus on delivering fewer costly projects for the next several years, so as to reduce the need for rates increases," a spokesperson said.

"It is acknowledged that 'rate smoothing' is intended to reduce the impact in 2023/24, however the modelled increases over the following two financial years will still be problematic for many households already experiencing cost of living pressures from rent or mortgages, groceries, and energy bills etc.

"The 'rate smoothing' strategy simply distributes the increases across the following financial years, rather than reducing the cost to households.

"Further unprecedented increases in CPI, coupled with council's proposed 'rate smoothing' program will compound the detrimental effects on struggling households even further."

The association was supportive of various initiatives including an RV park for Macclesfield, a library outreach program for small townships and the continued rollout of new footpaths, despite Macclesfield being left off the list in the coming year.

Friends of the Library of Mount Barker also supported identifying new opportunities to increase public library services and presence in outlying townships.

Funding for Meadows intersection

By Tara Nash

Mount Barker District Council secured just over $208,000 of funding towards upgrading a Meadows intersection from a Mawson Green developer.

The funding for the Mawson/Battunga/Nottage Roads intersection follows a 2012 infrastructure agreement, where the developer, Devine was responsible for 60 per cent of the costs, while 40 per cent was a council responsibility, and in negotiation with the State Government.

At the time, a roundabout was not contemplated and was only recently committed by the Department of Infrastructure and Transport (DIT), with concept designs, preliminary cost estimates and proposed funding arrangements still unknown.

Council expects DIT will primarily fund the roundabout, while council will be responsible for associated works, such as kerbing, footpaths and parking.

As Devine is now seeking to progress to the final stage of the Mawson Green development, it needs to meet its obligations, and in negotiations with council, will pay out $208,364 towards the works.

Councillor Harry Seager found the intersection's history made this "quite a complicated legal arrangement".

"I'm very satisfied with this and will support it and am pretty pleased with the clarity of this report," he said.

"I think it's important that the community understand that the roundabout wasn't on the agenda when this was put forward and therefore it would be unreasonable for them to pay that kind of money."

Strathalbyn Caravan Park proposes overflow area...

S'MORE THE MERRIER?

By Tara Nash

Strathalbyn Caravan Park's previously flagged expansion is gaining traction following the submission of plans for an overflow location with Alexandrina Council last week, proposing six large caravan sites along Coronation Road.

Lodged plans detail new sites and service points adjacent to Carruthers Hall – an area which sparked ongoing concerns amongst some nearby residents – and more than $40,000 of income per annum is expected to be generated.

As reported in The Southern Argus earlier this year, a petition and flyer were circulated detailing trepidations around caravans and tents being located in the proposed overflow site, with concerns ranging from "unnecessary domestic noise" and alcohol consumption, to "uncontrolled discharging" of greywater.

Calls were made for the caravan park to find an alternative location if a proven demand for a larger site was found.

At the time, local councillor and Strathalbyn Oval Controlling Committee Chairperson Craig Maidment said no lease or dry area conditions were broken, and foreshadowed the committee was exploring park expansion options.

Now plans have been lodged for the six caravan-only sites with access to water, power and greywater disposal.

According to historic records, this is the same location of the original camping ground, when the Oval Controlling Committee first established the caravan park on Coronation Road.

Alexandrina Council recently undertook tree planting adjacent to Carruthers Hall which will provide a privacy screen in time, and curtail caravanners' "invasion of privacy" by the general public. Photo: Tara Nash

The Southern Argus May 4, 2023.

The site will accommodate larger caravans to meet the increasing numbers arriving that struggle to manoeuvre the present caravan park's smaller spaces.

Alexandrina Council has already undertaken tree planting adjacent to the area which will provide a privacy screen in time, and curtail caravanners' "invasion of privacy" by the general public.

Strathalbyn Caravan Park profits would fund the upgrade of the facilities at no cost to council.

The overflow section will sometimes be blocked from use, particularly in the week leading up to the Strathalbyn Show, all Strathalbyn Football Club home games, and events such as the Strathalbyn Antique Fair.

May to October is expected to see a low occupancy.

"The current footprint of the Strathalbyn Caravan Park is too small to accommodate demand," the application stated.

"There are 39 caravan/campsites and only six cabins, with nowhere to expand."

The "unprecedented demand" for Strathalbyn accommodation was attributed to a range of factors including recent floods, delays in housing construction, increasing numbers of homeless, and more people living in caravans and moving around Australia.

Being close to the town centre, the park often has people staying multiple nights.

The demand has caused Strathalbyn Caravan Park to turn people away weekly and to formalise another area for expansion.

Strathalbyn Caravan Park is not a council asset and is a "vibrant business built up over many years" by a "committed group of volunteers", as the application states.

The caravan park revenue supports the upkeep of the oval complex, coming in around $100,000 in maintenance costs per year.

Some costs over the past 12 months include $30,000 for oval turf maintenance, $20,000 in solar installation, and $10,000 across cabin upgrades.

This year, the committee will focus on the $600,000 netball/tennis courts upgrade, including court resurfacing, new LED lighting and poles, perimeter fencing, tennis nets and netball posts.

Since 2009, the committee has amassed well over $700,000 in assets.

"The Caravan Park is an initiative by all the clubs to generate a source of income which is poured back into the oval complex to improve the amenity for all Alexandrina ratepayers," the application stated.

"This is truly a community asset managed for the community entirely by committed volunteers."

The Argus understands the submission will be discussed at council's coming general meeting before moving to the Fleurieu Regional Assessment Panel and opening to community consultation.

Pantry opens new door

By Tara Nash

Country Life Compassion's Pantry Club relocated to a new property last month, opening potential to expand its future support services.

Strathalbyn's food assistance charity moved from Chapel Street to Callington Road to host Emmanuel Christian Outreach sessions, expand its emergency food storage space, and to diversify future support.

With a big backyard area and large shed, the space has potential for other community-projects such as a community garden and space to cook meals together.

Further planned refurbishments include redoing floors, adding insulation, and painting, and future working bees will be scheduled to help with the development.

The Pantry Club co-ordinator Paquita Wise is finding an increased need for emergency relief as many households grapple with the rising cost of living.

"One of our pantry members said to me recently, 'you guys are like family because you look out for me' – that makes everything worth it," Ms Wise said.

"That's beautiful because that means we're a welcoming environment and there's no judgement, which is what we want."

Food or monetary donations can also be made at The Pantry Club, Strathalbyn Churches Bookshop, and Woolworths Strathalbyn, the latter which also shares donations with Strath Neighbourhood Centre and Milang Old School House Community Centre (MOSHCC).

Eastern Fleurieu School campuses are also collecting non-perishable food items in their front office areas.

"We're very thankful for the people who donate, because without them, we wouldn't be able to do this," she said.

The Pantry Club co-ordinator Paquita Wise is excited about relocating to Callington Road, Strathalbyn.

Matt Boyle, Tanya Hobbs, Michelle Fenner, Vivianne Whittaker, John Whittaker and Malcolm Edmonds, are among volunteers behind Strathalbyn's Pantry Club.

"(Woolworths) makes it easy and convenient and the donations are fantastic."

Pantry Club is open Tuesday mornings, from 9.15am to 11.30am, in Strathalbyn, and at Callington hall fortnightly, 8.45am to about 10.30am

For further information, to donate, or assist in The Pantry Club's development, contact (0407 979 853).

The Pantry Club has relocated to 27 Callington Road, Strathalbyn.

New funding to support regional communities

A new $5 million Enabling Infrastructure Program aims to assist South Australia's regions to develop thriving and resilient communities, with Stage 1 Expressions of Interest (EOI) now open.

As part of the State Government's annual $15 million Thriving Regions Fund, the program offers grants between $50,000 and $1 million to support infrastructure projects that can commence within six months of receiving funding.

Interested and eligible applicants such as regional businesses, Local Government authorities, charities, and co-operative are now able to submit an EOI, which will be assessed, including in consultation with relevant Regional Development Australia associations, before being shortlisted by Minister for Primary Industries and Regional Development Clare Scriven.

Successful candidates will then be invited to submit a more detailed application for further consideration as part of the Stage 2 process.

"The State Government has been diligent in understanding the needs of regional communities, and the Thriving Regions Fund and this new Enabling Infrastructure Program is an important part of supporting regions," Ms Scriven said.

"Through this exciting new initiative, we are looking at infrastructure projects that can strengthen and further build regional communities, particularly those that improve the quality of life or attract and retain people, businesses, and service providers in our regions to support a strong local economy and lifestyle.

"Our regional industries contribute $29 billion to the state's economy, and they do this while working through challenges such as drought, flooding, biosecurity threats, and changing world markets.

"Enhancing and supporting our resilient regional communities is vitally important, and why this program and other initiatives from the Thriving Regions Fund are a key opportunity for the State Government to do that."

To be considered for Stage 1, EOIs must be received before 12pm on Wednesday, August 9.

For further information and submit an EOI, visit (www.pir.sa.gov.au/enabling-infrastructure).

Fundraising quiz night

Country Life Compassion is hosting a fundraising quiz night at Strathalbyn Show Hall, on July 22, with dinner from 6pm and a quiz from 7.30pm, with quiz masters Mixed Bag, the band Kick the Dog and a silent auction.

Tables of eight to 10 people can be booked at $10 per person.

For further information and bookings, contact Prue Pethick on: 0414 756 900.

Breaking bread with the community

Residents are invited to share a meal with others in the community, at Strathalbyn Inter Church Council's event 'Meals for Mates' at Strathalbyn Lutheran Church Hall on July 21 and August 18, from 6pm to 8pm.

Starting last month, the event will be held three times over winter, and Strathalbyn Inter Church Council's Paquita Wise said the meals help break isolation and strengthen friendships within the community.

"The people who have been, say it's very welcoming and they've really enjoyed it there," she said.

"They talk... and (knowing) other people are struggling sometimes helps because you don't feel like you're alone.

"It's a good, hearty meal for people." Meals for Mates offers a two-course meal for a gold coin donation.

Eastern Fleurieu pays respect to Aboriginal culture for NAIDOC Week

By Giorgina McKay

Eastern Fleurieu students came together to commemorate Aboriginal culture and First Nations people as part of a special celebration to kick off NAIDOC Week on Monday.

The Alexandrina Council-supported event invited students from both Strathalbyn campuses to the East Terrace site to learn about the importance of NAIDOC Week, and more on Aboriginal culture and First Nations people from Peramangk representatives Mandy Brown, and David and Kyle Booth, reflecting this year's theme of 'For Our Elders'.

Ms Brown started with a Welcome to Country, inviting attendees to share with First Nations people in looking after each other, as well as the land, waters and animals.

Kyle Booth then performed the smoking ceremony, while his father David played the Yidaki.

David noted the significance of the event. "To be able to be here at the school and be part of this ceremony for NAIDOC Week's celebration of Aboriginal culture, and to have Auntie Mandy here to welcome you all to country and have a connection is very special," he said.

"The (smoking) ceremony has taken place for thousands of years all across country. "Aboriginal people use the smoking ceremony to help cleanse anybody coming into that space or area of country from any negative energy, but also to help bring on the good energy within the group and the people coming to that area and space."

"The smoke billowing out over the country would also let ancestors know you're coming here to visit on country, so it is a very important ceremony."

David finished the formal festivities by sharing an Aboriginal story, before students shared bush tucker made by Eastern Fleurieu 7-12 students.

The school participated in other NAIDOC activities throughout the week, including workshops with Jade Brook and David Booth, and a lunch-time basketball game between Years 5 and 6 students who Eastern Fleurieu 7-12 students Tait Hanley, Jaeleo Penny, Tanisha Wilson, Coby Sharrock, Abby Ware, and Katelyn and Lydia Rigney joined the school's younger cohort for NAIDOC Week celebrations.

Students' speech competition

Local high school students are being given the opportunity to deliver a speech live in Parliament House thanks to a newly-launched competition.

House of Representatives Speaker Milton Dick and Member for Mayo Rebekha Sharkie recently launched the My First Speech competition for high schools in the Mayo electorate.

This national competition challenges years 10, 11 and 12 students to envision themselves as newly elected Members of the House of Representatives and film a 90-second speech on a topic of importance to them.

The winners, accompanied by a parent or guardian, will be flown to Canberra to deliver their speeches live at Parliament House and participate in program tailored to deepen their understanding of the legislative process.

Ms Sharkie said this is an opportunity for local young people to shine a national spotlight on issues that matter to them.

"The students participating in this competition represent our future leaders, the young people who will make lasting change for generations to come," she said.

Mr Dick believes the competition will educate young people on politics.

"One of my key priorities as Speaker has been to promote parliamentary education to students across the country, and this is yet another exciting way that young people can take an active role in our democratic system," he said.

"This competition will provide high school students with the chance learn more about the way our nation's democracy works, and how actively engaging with the parliamentary process can draw attention to the issues that are most important to them."

The submission deadline for the competition is August 11.

For further information on the competition, visit: (www.aph.gov.au/myfirstspeech).

Students enter property market

By Tara Nash

Step aside Channel 9 – Eastern Fleurieu School Strathalbyn students have competed in their own version of The Block by refurbishing a home and selling it at auction.

The eight-week project began with Year 10 architecture students given a three-dimensional model of a 1950s brick house.

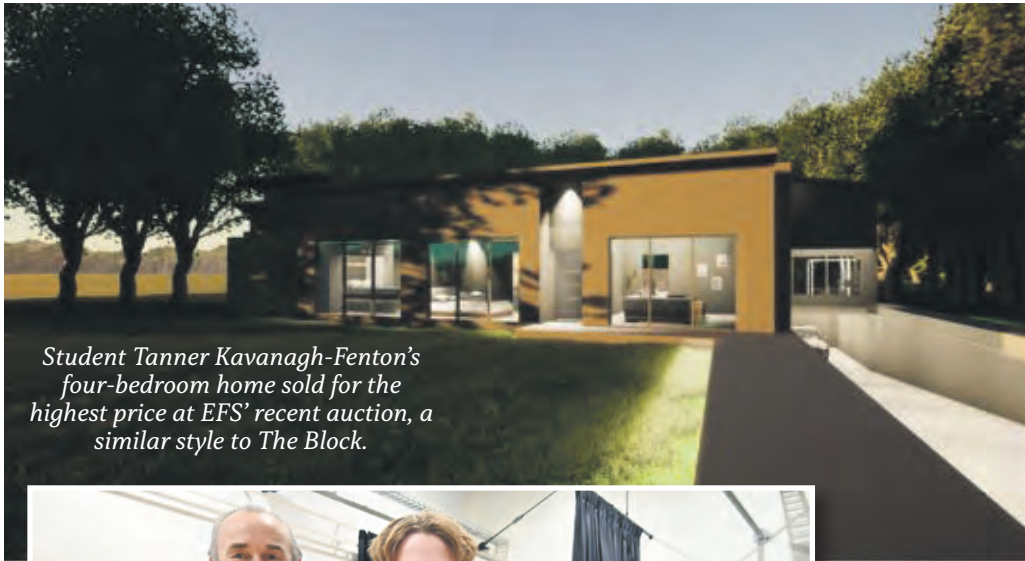

Using the architectural skills learned throughout the term, students researched, renovated and designed a home using industry-standard software.

A local real estate agent valued the properties and the top six went to auction last month.

Williams Real Estate's Lindsay Warner conducted the auction with support from Kerry Macaulay, of Harcourts, while students were given scenarios of what they needed from a house and their budget, and made bids.

Architecture teacher Polly Macaulay said the project's aim was to introduce students to the real estate market, establish industry connections, and have an understanding of auctioneering processes.

Student Tanner Kavanagh-Fenton's extravagant four-bedroom home sold for the highest price, and included two bathrooms, an inground pool, underground parking, a gym and retreat and granny flat.

Break-in at Goolwa business

Hills Fleurieu police are investigating a break-in at a Goolwa business last Monday. On June 26, a Hutchinson Road business premises was entered, but nothing was stolen. Anyone with information is urged to contact Crime Stoppers on 1800 333 000 or online at (www.crimestopperssa.com.au). To further reduce the chances of becoming a theft victim, residents are asked to consider the following security tips:

- Lock vehicle doors and close windows.
- Install an audible alarm.
- Park vehicles in a well-lit area or garage at night.
- Ensure all valuables are removed from vehicles or are concealed in the boot before arriving to a destination.
- Engrave valuables with a driver’s licence number prefixed with ‘S’ for South Australia.
- Avoid placing bags and wallets on the passenger seat where they could be easily grabbed. Anyone who witnesses suspicious behaviour should contact the police assistance line on 131 444. For further practical tips, visit (<https://www.police.sa.gov.au/your-safety/crime-prevention-and-security/safety-and-security-tips>).

Crane fire at Mount Compass

A crane caused chaos at Mount Compass last Tuesday after it caught fire on a popular road. At about 10.30am on June 27, four Country Fire Service (CFS) crews and SA Police were called to Victor Harbor Road after a 30-tonne crane caught alight. Crews managed to extinguish the fire quickly, stopping the flames from spreading and causing any additional damage to the crane. Firefighters cleared any diesel spilt on the road during the fire, and remained on scene to assist with traffic control until the crane could be relocated.

Truck roll-over at Currency Creek

By Giorgina McKay

A male driver was taken to hospital with minor injuries after his truck rolled at Currency Creek on Tuesday. Just before 7.30am, local Country Fire Service and State Emergency Service crews, SA Police, and SA Ambulance Service were called to Alexandrina Road after a truck rolled onto its side. The male driver managed to exit the vehicle, and was taken to hospital for treatment of minor injuries. The truck was completely off-road, and a heavy tow had to remove the vehicle later that morning. The road was briefly closed during that time.

Drivers caught unlicensed in Murraylands

Two local drivers were caught driving while disqualified in the Murraylands on the weekend. At about 11.30am on Sunday, police stopped a ute travelling on Scenscher Road at Monarto, where checks revealed the driver was disqualified. Police spoke to the driver, a 41-year-old Callington man, and reported him. He will appear in court at a later date. At about 5pm that same day, police stopped a car travelling on Swanport Road at Murray Bridge, where checks revealed the registered owner had a disqualified driver’s licence. Police spoke to the driver, a 30-year-old Murray Bridge man, and reported him. His car was impounded for 28 days, and he will appear in court at a later date.

Murray Bridge man to serve prison term for child abuse

A Murray Bridge man will serve an almost 10-year jail term for allegedly sexually abusing a minor and supplying them with drugs. The Adelaide District Court heard Thomas Daniel was 24-years-old when he regularly supplied the victim, then aged 13, with cannabis, who gradually started to smoke it daily and became reliant on the drug. It is alleged the sexual offending started during a camping trip before gradually escalating. Mr Daniel is believed to have threatened to discontinue the supply of cannabis at times. A police investigation began when the victim started seeing a therapist, who submitted a child abuse report in June 2020. Mr Daniel, now aged 31, pleaded guilty to maintaining an unlawful sexual relationship with and supplying a controlled drug to a child. Judge Heath Barklay sentenced the Murray Bridge resident in May to nine-and-a-half years imprisonment, with a non-parole period of five-and-a-half years.

Several antiques were recently stolen from The Round House at Murray Bridge.

Stolen antiques at Murray Bridge

Murray Bridge police are investigating the theft of antiques from a Murray Bridge business last Sunday. At about 4.30pm on June 25, Railway Terrace’s The Round House was broken into and several antiques were stolen, including a clock and crockery. Anyone with any information is asked to contact Crime Stoppers on 1800 333 000 or online at (www.crimestopperssa.com.au).

Mount Barker woman to serve home detention over false disability payments

A Mount Barker woman who falsely claimed almost $100,000 in disability payments while employed will serve her sentence in home detention. Kristin Danger, aged 48, pleaded guilty earlier this year to a single count of obtaining financial advantage through deception. Ms Danger was bedbound for several years with a medical condition and started receiving the payments legitimately in 2004, but in 2017, she started working at Mobilong Prison, where she signed a contract stating she had no disability or impairment. For three years, nine months, and two weeks, Ms Danger continued to claim payments while employed at the prison, totalling to $93,576 over 99 consecutive fortnights. While fronting the District Court on Monday, Judge Michael Durrant noted if the Australian Taxation Office (ATO) had failed to discover the irregularity, Ms Danger would have continued to claim the payments, and her actions risked undermining the confidence in the disability pension system. Stephen Ey, for Ms Danger, told the court his client had PTSD and impaired decision-making abilities, and as a former prison guard, would likely be targeted behind bars. The mother-of-two previously read an apology in court, and has paid back $10,000 of her debt since leaving corrections. Judge Durrant sentenced Ms Danger to two years imprisonment to be served in home detention.

Domestic violence campaign targets coercive behaviours

A campaign was recently launched by the State Government and Legal Services Commission to raise community awareness about coercive control and the associated behaviours that make up this form of domestic abuse. The term coercive control is becoming increasingly known in the community, and the new $110,000 campaign continues to grow that awareness on the patterns of behaviour, including emotional, psychological and financial abuse, and provide information on where to seek help, including how to apply for an intervention order. In South Australia, no criminal charges need to be laid by police for a magistrate to grant an intervention order. Minister for the Prevention of Domestic and Family Violence Katrine Hildyard assured the government was deeply committed to tackling every form of violence. “Sadly, domestic violence occurs through incidents of physical violence and patterns of coercive, controlling behaviour that aim to diminish a person’s sense of self,” she said. “Shockingly, in 99 per cent of domestic violence homicides, coercive, controlling behaviour was a factor before that horrific final act – this represents a compelling call to urgent action. “In the lead up to legislation being introduced, this important campaign, which builds on our See the Signs campaign launched earlier this year, is focused on ensuring South Australians understand what it is, and how they can seek support or help a loved one experiencing it.” Legal Services Commission CEO Gabrielle Canny was proud of the campaign and acknowledged the significant work across government and non-government sectors to tackle coercive control. “Domestic and family violence is a scourge in this country, and sadly, we’re all too familiar with the appalling statistic that on average, one woman per week is murdered by her current or former partner,” she said. “We know many people who have experienced coercive control, particularly women, don’t necessarily seek help unless they have also experienced physical or sexual forms of abuse. “The community at large needs to be aware coercive control is an insidious form of abuse that can often be a precursor to physical or sexual violence. “The clear message to the South Australian community is coercive control is unacceptable, but there is help available.”

Over 200 people witnessed the commissioning and blessing of the P.S. William Randell at Goolwa last Saturday afternoon. The William Randell is a traditionally built paddle steamer of a grey box on steel frames with hard wooden deck and a wooden super structure. She is the first boat built in this manner since the P.S.Canberra in 1913. The boat has taken five and a half years to build, a one person job by owner builder Roly Bartlett of Goolwa. The boat has 10ft. paddles coupled to a 7h.p. Ruston & Hornsby single cylinder steam engine.

The Milang Oval Incorporated is at present in the midst of the installation of a 6 and 4 inch water main from Lake Alexandrina to the oval. This project which will cost $3,000 will provide a larger amount of water for the Oval and also for the Milang Bowling club, at a reduced cost. The main has been laid via the parklands and will therefore provide the parklands with a connection for the eventual turfing and planting of trees in that area.

Life-saving donation for Rotary club AED project

By Georgina McKay

A generous donation to the Rotary Club of Strathalbyn's Automated External Defibrillator (AED) project is helping to equip and connect communities with the life-saving technology.

Through the CMV Group Staff Foundation – an initiative that allows employees to donate a portion of their salary which is distributed to registered charities – the Langhorne Creek farms division recently made a financial contribution to Rotary Club of Strathalbyn's AED project.

The foundation has helped CMV donate in excess of $2 million to more than 500 charities over the past 15 years.

"Our CMV Farms division was excited to be able to provide funding to Rotary Club of Strathalbyn in support of the AED project to enable (it) to purchase and install more AEDs in local area, including Langhorne Creek, Milang, Belvidere, Woodchester, and Ashbourne," CMV Farms Langhorne Creek Property Manager, Phil Reilly, said.

"Living and working in the community, it is important to our staff to be able to give back to the region, and the installation of the AEDs is such an important project and of great benefit to the community."

Sparked in early 2022 when husband and father-of-two Andrew Lee experienced heart failure, the project aims to raise awareness of sudden cardiac arrest, the importance of publicly accessible defibrillators and where they can be accessed in the community, with

"It's scoping and finding out where there already is an AED, then putting them where there's not (one)..."

– Vivienne Goodenough

the help of Heart of the Nation.

CMV's donation will go towards the purchase of two AEDs – one for Ashbourne and another for Langhorne Creek – which will be accessible to the public 24/7 in an emergency.

"It's scoping and finding out where there already is an AED, then putting them where there's not (one)," Rotary President-elect, Vivienne Goodenough, said.

"We've already got this one (at Belvidere), so we said Ashbourne doesn't have one and at the other side of Langhorne Creek, we'll probably put one in the Frank Potts Reserve because there's nothing over that side either.

"It's all about what the Staff Foundation is doing, then we're helping to facilitate that by being the people who know about the project, and can help source and put (AEDs) where they're most needed.

"It's amazing; we just can't thank them enough."

Ms Goodenough hoped more businesses would be encouraged to buy an AED for their premises.

Call to local land managers

Land owners and managers can have their say on future land management services, as Landscapes Hills and Fleurieu seeks feedback.

As stewards of the unique landscapes, private landholders and land managers play a crucial role in the sustainability of the land, waters and natural assets across the Hills and Fleurieu.

The region's passionate and committed land managers possess knowledge and experience that can help shape support and services offered by Landscapes Hills and Fleurieu in the coming years.

Landscapes Hills and Fleurieu is one of nine regional South Australian landscape boards, and works together with land managers, First Nations peoples, community groups and other organisations to sustainably manage the region's beautiful, biodiverse and productive landscapes.

"To ensure a comprehensive understanding of land management challenges, restoration opportunities and people's capacity, we're calling on help from our local land managers," Landscapes Hills and Fleurieu's Team Leader Planning and MERI, Alison Skinner, said.

"By sharing your knowledge and experiences, you can shape our future initiatives and services offered.

"At this stage, we are asking those who own or manage parcels of land in the region that is greater than one hectare in area, to complete a short survey – the feedback will help us offer the right support in the right places."

Landscapes Hills and Fleurieu is seeking as many land managers to participate in the survey as possible, whether they already use the organisation's services or not.

"This is about identifying gaps and landholder needs, and connecting them to the right knowledge, services and funding opportunities," Ms Skinner said.

"We live in such a special region with some of the most biodiverse and productive landscapes in the country.

"Most of this land is owned privately, so we have a real opportunity to work together and create landscape-scale change and sustainability."

All survey participants will go in the draw to win one of five $100 gift vouchers.

The survey is open until August 6 via: (landscape.sa.gov.au/hf).

Schools in Brief

Eastern Fleurieu R-12 School

Eastern Fleurieu Ashbourne students recently attended a ‘Music is Fun’ performance at the Strathalbyn R-6 campus, which was a showcase of dancing, singing, puppets, musical instruction, and various instruments.

Students were engaged and entertained, with various groups getting involved in elaborate costumes and contrasting performances.

Goolwa Secondary College

Goolwa Secondary College’s Year 8 Civics class recently walked to the Goolwa Wharf to discuss precinct developments with Mark from the Oscar W.

Students listened intently as he talked about the exciting progress being made, and gave them a tour of the paddlesteamer.

Tyndale Christian School

Over the June long weekend, Year 4 student Taylor and Year 5 student Leroy represented Tyndale Christian School in the SA Junior Soccer Association Championships U12s division, while Year 5 student Emerson and Year 7 student Maddie competed in the U13s Girls team.

The boys fell short of making the Grand Final after losing to Port Lincoln, while the girls clinched the top spot in their division and secured third place in the Semi-Finals.

Macclesfield Primary School

Macclesfield Primary School students have enjoyed learning about music this term, particularly pitch, beat, and rhythm.

At the beginning of the term, students learned to create a body percussion, and produced their own seven-beat combination that they performed at assembly.

Students then learned how to play the glockenspiel.

Letters to the Editor

Budget concerns

Dear Editor, re: Alexandrina Council draft budget.

I write to voice my deep concern regarding the draft budget prepared by Alexandrina Council.

As a self-funded retiree, after almost a lifetime of working hard, I find myself going backwards with the amount of rates and taxes I am required to pay.

With the cost of living rapidly increasing I cannot support another increase in council rates.

Particularly after the Valuer General has increased property values in the region by an average of 14 per cent. Hindmarsh Island is due for an 18 per cent increase in capital values.

Alexandrina Council’s budget indicates an income in excess of $60 million, it has debts in excess of $44 million and there is no attempt at decreasing this debt in the draft budget.

The council’s wages bill is in excess of $19 million and I am told it is due to increase dramatically next year.

I urge the elected councillors to reject this draft budget and request a reduction in expenditure by at least 20 per cent across all areas.

If an across-the-board approach is not acceptable, perhaps start by removing all new projects and positions, this will save over $2 million

I also reject the comparison made at a recent meeting that Alexandrina Council is similar to Burnside Council area, the only comparison I see is the expensive council rates.

I have spoken to many people since last month’s budget roadshow presentations, many did not know about them.

Perhaps more needs to be done to inform ratepayers.

Graeme Foristal, Hindmarsh Island

Mystery of the missing merger business case

Peter Malinauskas came under fire on Monday after admitting he funded the almost $500 million university merger without applying any independent analysis to the merger business case, or even reading it himself.

Before the election Peter Malinauskas promised South Australians there would be a University Commission – a serious process that would give consideration to costs as well as benefits, and risks as well as opportunities, of a university merger.

After the election, Peter Malinauskas ditched his policy for a Commission and instead chose to enter into direct negotiations with Uni SA and Adelaide Uni, and they have put together business cases for their councils based on those negotiations.

They have negotiated a deal that they see as in their institutions’ interests.

That’s their job, and obviously they are happy to have half a billion of taxpayer investment.

Peter Malinauskas’ job, and the Government’s job, is to determine if the proposal, including all the planning done by the universities, is in our state’s best interests.

His spectacular own goal (this week), admitting he hasn’t read the business case, was followed up by the stunning revelation from Deputy Premier Susan Close that the Government hasn’t even seen the business case, or been given a copy by the universities.

Nor has the Government conducted its own business case, or cost/benefit analysis, to demonstrate that the proposed investment is in the state’s best interests.

If Peter Malinauskas did his job properly, and followed basic process and procedure, we wouldn’t even be in this mess right now because the public would have been across the crucial detail from day dot – the way it should be in circumstances such as these.

(Monday’s) revelations have underscored why a Parliamentary Inquiry into the proposal is so important, and why all sides of politics are supporting it.

It will do the work Labor should have done.

If Peter Malinauskas didn’t bother to ask for or read the business case for the merger, we can only imagine on what basis he decided it was in the state’s interest to spend half a billion dollars in this way.

Just because he says so isn’t a good enough reason.

Opposition spokesperson for Education, John Gardner

TEXTS TO THE EDITOR

Congratulations to Donna, Kim and the staff at The Hive on an outstanding achievement. You should be proud of what you have accomplished over 15 years in business. Hayley, Strathalbyn

I’m so glad to hear the Duck Race is making its return this year alongside the Shannons Adelaide Rally. Both events bring much-needed tourism to the town, which will be fantastic for all the local businesses. I’ve already marked November 19 in my calendar! Max, Strathalbyn

Sad to see so many local businesses struggling with the increase to their electricity bills. Hopefully, they can find an alternative solution. James, Goolwa

Our View

Thursday, July 6, 2023 Park expansion a no-brainer

A surge in caravanning holidays during the pandemic has seen local accommodation parks become increasingly popular.

The old adage of exploring one’s own backyard has become further supported, as more people embrace working from home opportunities and hit the road to discover ever-changing natural offices.

But an RV adventure is not always a holiday, but a necessity.

When lower-income households are squeezed, rental prices skyrocket, and housing shortages force many into cars, tents or motorhomes, caravan parks become a sanctuary for those seeking a safe place to sleep.

But when places like the Strathalbyn Caravan Park have no vacancies, more people are forced to consider sleeping rough or illegally camping.

Strathalbyn’s Oval Controlling Committee has submitted plans with Alexandrina Council for an overflow location, proposing six large caravan sites along Coronation Road, adjacent to Carruthers Hall.

Previous camping in this vicinity caused some controversy with nearby residents concerned with additional noise and behaviour of those camped, along with potential “devaluing” of local houses.

In response, council has planted new trees along the fence line to act as a future privacy screen.

Calls to relocate the park altogether seemed to fall on deaf ears, as many recognised the need for tourism traffic within the centre of town.

While the happiness of local residents is important, the community should turn its attention to the bigger picture of the ongoing social crisis.

The anticipated $40,000 of income per annum generated by the overflow establishment is sure to go back into the community precinct, without interfering with popular events.

The massive increase in funding for housing outlined in the recent State Budget should have begun years ago.

Six additional local caravan sites might seem like a small step in addressing the region’s housing crisis, but it is a step in the right direction.

Little things make big things happen.

As local students prepare for their formal, what do you remember of your school formal?

Jeanette Gower, Strathalbyn

“I remember I was at an all-girls’ school. We were supposed to bring a date. I didn’t know a single boy, not one! So, I didn’t go.”

Lian Jaensch, Langhorne Creek

“It was very different to these days... the thrill of getting dressed up and going out with all your friends to celebrate the end of schooling and all the years you’ve had together. It was a dinner at one of the local pubs, I remember being with all my friends, getting dressed up and feeling grown up.”

Janelle Paech, Mount Jagged

“I went to two – a year 11 and year 12 formal – at Victor Harbor High School. They were lots of fun.”

Chris Francis, Milang

“I remember my year 12 formal in 1984. I wore a white suit with pink bow tie – a John Travolta wannabe.”

Giant Hailwood collection another Gilbert’s Motor Museum drawcard

Four Ducati replicas are the prize pieces of Derek Lamb’s Mike Hailwood collection, which are now on display at Gilbert’s Motor Museum. Photo: Giorgina McKay

By Giorgina McKay

A decade-long dedication to one of the world’s greatest racers has accumulated into what’s believed to be the largest collection of Mike Hailwood memorabilia in Australia, which can now be appreciated by other diehard fans at Gilbert’s Motor Museum.

Stanley Michael ‘Mike the Bike’ Bailey Hailwood was a British professional racer regarded by many as ‘the greatest of all time’ for his nine-time world champion status, 76 Grand Prix race wins, four consecutive 500cc world championships, and 14 Isle of Man TT victories.

He retired from motorcycle racing in 1967 to take up Formula One, but returned to his roots 11 years later to win the 1978 Isle of Man in what’s considered the biggest comeback in sporting history.

Hailwood sadly died in 1981 in a car accident on his way to a fish and chip shop in Warwickshire with his two kids, claiming the life of his daughter Michelle and leaving his son David the lone survivor.

But even in death, the Brit is beloved by diehard fans across the world, including One Tree Hill’s Derek Lamb who claims to own the largest collection of Hailwood memorabilia in the country.

Lamb has spent the past 10 years purchasing everything Hailwood related, particularly items related to the racer’s 1978 Isle of Man win.

“It’s classed as the world’s greatest sporting comeback ever because no one gave him a chance and he blew everyone away,” Lamb said.

“He wanted to come back and have a race, and Honda’s factory race team said ‘no, you’ve been out of racing for too long and you’re too old’, so Ducati said ‘we’ll put together a bike for you’.

“He got sponsored by Castrol and came back to not only beat all the current world champions 11 years after retirement, but he broke the lap record.

“The Honda world champion blew up trying to keep up with him, and the support (Hailwood) got after it was just phenomenal for the underdog.”

Pieces of Lamb’s collection can now be viewed and appreciated by Hailwood fans at the Gilbert’s Motor Museum.

Taking centre stage in the collection are four replica Ducatis worth almost $300,000, including a 1979 replica of which only 200 prototypes were made and one from 1981

A shelf display features rare and one-of-a-kind items dedicated to Mike Hailwood’s 1978 Isle of Man comeback win.

with a two-piece fairing.

Lamb plans on buying the missing 1980 model to complete the bike quintet.

“When I saw the four bikes on the trailer, I was like a kid in the candy store,” he said.

“You’ll never see this amount of bikes together in a collection.

“Even bringing them on the trailer, there were people taking photos, a couple of cars pulling up alongside and not overtaking just to see them.

“The only bike I’m missing is the 1980 model, which I will eventually get to complete the five models of the SS frame bikes.”

In addition to the Ducatis, rare and one-of-a-kind items such as Hailwood’s 1979 jacket, miniature models, a vinyl record with commentary from the infamous Isle of Man race, and a 1978 Isle of Man pin and fridge magnet have been delivered to the Strathalbyn tourist attraction, where they will be displayed for approximately six to 12 months.

It’s hoped the feature film being developed about Hailwood’s comeback win, which stars Eric Bana as the lead, will be released during this time to draw more fans to the museum.

“Because of the success of Rush and Ford versus Ferrari in Hollywood, they’ve come back to doing movies on motorsports,” Lamb said.

“If the movie comes out while the bikes are here, it will be fantastic because that’s going to get so much attention, and people will come here just to look at the Mike Hailwood stuff.

“It was all my own room, and when friends and family would come over they said ‘people need to see this’.

“I thought this would be fantastic, and it’s great that Grant (Chandler) and the other people here are happy to take it on.”

Ladies' Probus members enjoying their lunch at Finniss. INSET: Guest speaker, Professor Chris Daniels with Maggie Minchin at the club's June meeting.

Ladies' Probus enjoys Finniss outing

A day of fun, friendship and food was enjoyed by 17 Strathalbyn Ladies' Probus members, who travelled to the Finniss Store on May 22.

They look forward to their next excursion to Karkoo, Oakbank, on August 23.

The June general meeting began with a welcome by President, Athalie Martin, with acknowledgement of members, Heather Grosser and Kay Brazzalotto, who were unable to join meetings for some time, and absent committee members, Jeanette Leonard who is travelling in Darwin, and Margaret Smith who is in Rome.

Pat Spence shared her story on how she came to live in Australia.

Pat was born in Kilmarock, Scotland. Her father played in a band, had several jobs and Pat remembers him coming home with a tool bag under his arm.

When war broke out, he was deemed unfit for service and worked for the Department of Defence making wooden bases for army tents.

After the war ended, jobs became scarce, so in May 1949, he immigrated to Australia.

In the interim Pat's mother found work in a knitting factory.

Meanwhile, cities had a housing shortage, so Pat's dad worked in Leigh Creek.

On January 3, 1950, after some very sad farewells, Pat along with her mother, sister and two brothers, boarded the HMS Somersetshire for Australia.

The journey had some hiccups, for example, getting stuck in the Suez Canal and a rudder problem on the Red Sea, but seven weeks later they arrived in Port Adelaide, excited to meet with their dad again. A further day later, they reached their new Leigh Creek home.

Strathalbyn Ladies' Probus members are now waiting for the next instalment from Pat.

Guest speaker was Professor Chris Daniels talking about nature in cities, and why cities need nature.

He worked with the ABC for 20 years and is an ecologist in the university system.

Professor Daniels is passionate about koalas and their wellbeing, along with Australia's extensive unique fauna and flora, and how we can and must help preservation.

Australia exclusively has more than 560,000 species of plants, animals and birds.

Interestingly, attendees were asked what species are most likely to kill people, and surprisingly, cows were first, horses second, then, bees, sharks, snakes and dogs.

Further discussion surrounded Mount Barker and Strathalbyn's rapid building development, with the destruction of trees and claimed poor planning.

Maggie Minchin thanked Prof Daniels and made a presentation on behalf of those present.

The next general meeting is in the Lutheran Hall, July 10, at 9.45am.

Any ladies are most cordially welcome.

CTP premiums fall

In good news for South Australian motorists, Comprehensive Third Party (CTP) premiums will decrease from this month under the state's compulsory third-party insurance scheme.

The competitive CTP scheme introduced in 2016 means all policy holders of annual premiums fell, including five per cent for metro goods-carrying light vehicles and six per cent for non-metro, 13 per cent for metro taxis and 15 per cent for those in the country, five per cent for metro rideshare and 16 per cent for country, and seven per cent for metro public passenger small chauffeurs and six per cent for non-metro.

The cheapest premium offered to motorists is $276.84 from July 1 for metropolitan-based private passenger vehicles – down 6 per cent – while non-metropolitan-based vehicles have a four per cent reduction.

Government fees and changes, including drivers' licence renewals and car registration, rose by about 4.8 per cent in 2023-24, but by using the traditional calculation methods, was kept almost 40 per cent below inflation.

"We are working hard to help struggling households, including partnering with the Federal Government to provide hundreds of dollars in energy relief for half-a-million SA households and businesses," SA Treasurer, Stephen Mullighan, said.

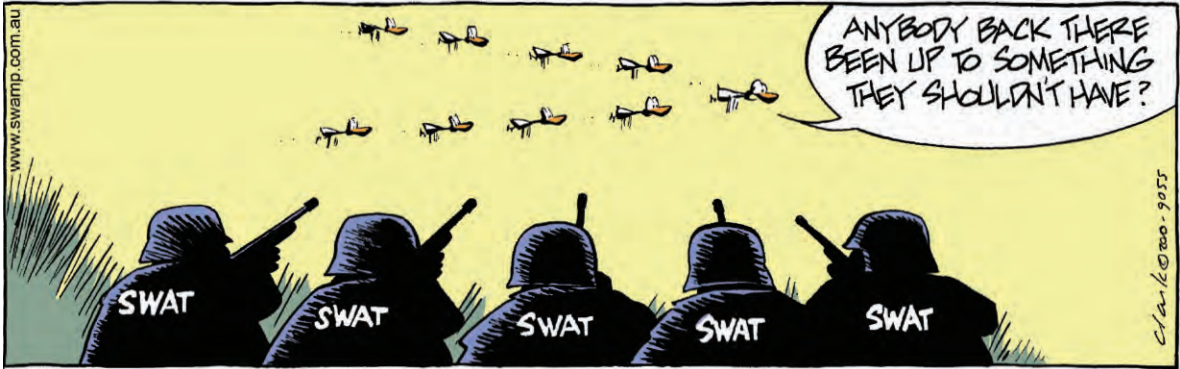

"We are also providing free public transport for eligible seniors 24 hours a day, seven days a week, and have kept our promise of no new taxes.

"Motorists are continuing to benefit from the competitive CTP scheme introduced by the previous Labor Government, with annual premiums to fall from July 1.

"We are continuing to deliver on our promise to use the traditional method of setting fees and charges, which means we can keep increases to well below CPI."

MILANG MATTERS

Published in the first edition of each month.

Mega donation for Milang Rescue

By Tara Nash

A giant cheque of $6350 was presented to Milang Marine Search and Rescue Squadron volunteers on Sunday, a generous donation fundraised by the Langhorne Creek Wine Show Charity Auction in May.

Langhorne Creek Grape and Wine Executive Officer Lian Jaensch was pleased to support a volunteer-run organisation that helps local communities.

“We’ve got local families who are involved with it and the lake is very important to our region,” she said.

“A lot of our locals use the lake for recreation and we understand how important it is to keep people safe out there, because it’s not as benign as it might look.”

The annual auction has raised more than $45,000 over 10 plus years, with different recipient organisations chosen each year, such as the Cancer Council, Beyond Blue and The Pantry Club.

Auction items are donated by members and are often special releases, imperials, magnums, special box sets, and this year’s included a commemorative signed cricket bat.

“It’s really pleasing each year to be able to donate something and give back,” Ms Jaensch said.

“We try to choose things that are close to peoples’ hearts or can help community groups.”

The cheque presentation was held during Milang Marine Search and Rescue Squadron’s annual general meeting on Sunday.

Commodore Chris Francis thanked the Langhorne Creek Grape and Wine Region for its generosity, and will allocate the funds towards first aid courses for the 40 volunteers, insurance and fuel as the group gears up for a bigger summer than last.

“The donation was incredible,” he said.

“That’s really helped us out a huge amount.”

“It’s important for our crewing and safety – it’s really valuable to the club.”

During floods last summer, the boat jetty and ramp was closed for much of the season, so Milang Marine Search and Rescue Squadron was quiet.

However, this summer the volunteers are planning to be more active, as is Milang Regatta Club, which is held in the same venue and Mr Francis is also the commodore.

“Hopefully this summer we can get active and get some sailors on the water,” he said.

“Last summer was a write-off, basically, the lake was dangerous to be on.

“Hopefully this year, everything is back to normal and we can have fun on the lake again.”

The club is currently organising quotes to install toilets and showers, which could be around $150,000.

“Without them, the club can’t reach its potential,” Mr Francis added.

“We’re a step away from having something great if we can get the facility up to standard.”

As well as come-and-try days and other upcoming planned events, the clubrooms will host a BSA motorcycle show and shine of about 300 bikes in November.

The recently installed playground at the Milang Foreshore includes a ship-themed climbing unit with a slide, carousel, and swings, among other new equipment.

New Milang playground getting tick of approval

A brand-new playground recently installed at the Milang Foreshore has quickly become a hit with locals and visitors.

As previously reported in The Southern Argus, Alexandrina Council began construction on the playground towards the end of last year following consultation with local residents, including students and Milang Community Centre members.

The new addition to the foreshore includes swings, a ship-themed climbing unit with a slide, a spinner, carousel, mini hopper, springer, a shade sail for warmer months, and a smart picnic table fitted with Wi-Fi and phone charging facilities.

The playground aims to provide a ‘fun and safe’ place for young children and families to enjoy the outdoors in summer, and attract visitors from outside the region.

It has already been commended by locals, who said the playground has been given a ‘face lift’ and makes the foreshore look welcoming.

Lucky swing for Mount Compass Tennis Club

Mount Compass Tennis Club has been 'served' a community grant from Alexandrina Council to help continue its junior coaching program, and keep children active and in sport.

The club's Junior Tennis Coaching and Outreach Program has been running after school on Wednesdays for the past three seasons, providing local school-aged children with free access to a coach in a safe and relaxed environment, along with a snack.

The program has been funded through fundraising activities and sponsorships, but this has become increasingly challenging to continue over the past few years.

Due to increasing demand, then-Club Junior Co-ordinator and current President Emily Down recently sought financial assistance from council through its Community Donation Program to help deliver the much-needed program from September 2023 to April 2024.

"There is a need to encourage and engage children in outdoor activities, exercise, sport and social play, and we provide a structured, yet open and inclusive, environment to encourage this," Down wrote in a letter to council.

"The success of this program is evident from regular attendance, increased club teams and membership, and the friendships fostered and strengthened in the community.

"With growing interest from local families, we are seeking additional funding to continue this successful and valued program."

At last month's council meeting, elected members agreed to provide $1800 to the club, which will go towards 1.5 hours of regular coaching and weekly food supplies.

Ms Down extended her gratitude to council.

"We are so appreciative to Alexandrina Council, which decided to take our request for funding to their recent council meeting and voted 'yes' to give us the funds for this program," she said.

"The Junior Tennis Coaching and Outreach Program provides a fun and friendly environment for children to connect with each other and learn a new skill, while staying healthy and active.

"We hope to continue this program to promote engagement of children after school, and provide active and social play opportunities."

Past President Vanessa Tilby applauded the team for keeping the program alive.

"The maintenance of courts and things is so expensive, and as a small club now, you don't have the funds or volunteer hours necessarily," she said.

"(The program) gives parents a bit of reprieve to get home at a normal time because their kids are being looked after, fed, and taught something.

"I think it's brilliant, and I applaud these girls for taking it on and keeping it going."

Local derby puts on a show

When Victor plays the Bays in a local derby, it is invariably a close contest regardless of their positions on the ladder, and Saturday night was no exception.

A match in the wet and under lights only added to the physicality and intense pressure from the opening bounce, but it was the home side that responded at first with Basham's straight shot on the run in the opening minute which soon followed by a mark and goal to Bartram.

Bays soon took advantage of the wind and, even without Tyson at full forward, banged on four goals to one to take a 10-point lead into the first change, thanks mainly to three from Pepper.

Victor needed to respond in the second term with the southerly buster now at their backs, and did so, with their best patch of the night.

From Treloars hit outs to the eager on-ballers at his feet, the Roos ran the ball through the corridor quickly to give their potent forward line every opportunity to convert.

The Eagles' defence was stretched trying to cover all the scoring options, with Elmes slotting two early, Overall using his dominance of the air, and Neville showing off his accurate kicking to combine five goals for the quarter.

At the other end the Victor defence held firm, only allowing two points for the Bays going into the breeze, and enjoyed a now handy 20-point lead at the long break.

The third term proved a real arm wrestle and they stayed very even as the rain tumbled down for the majority of time played.

The midfielders wrestled it out with Bays' Horrocks and Christophers coming in from the wings to negate the influence of McKinnon, Ross, Dowling and Yeomans for the Harbors.

Baldock and Hills led the defence from the half back line for the visitors, while Wiese, the Coopers and Kleinigs did the same for the home side.

At two goals apiece, Victor maintained a bit of breathing space with 22 points in the bank at the last change.

With nothing to lose, and the rain now gone, the Bays stormed out of the blocks with three unanswered goals in the opening minutes of the last.

It was Williams, with the first from a close set shot, and then being followed by Fraser Tonkin who marked and goaled after a very hot holding the ball on the arc which he followed with a carbon copy soon after from a mark 30 out and, all of a sudden, the margin was three points.

After some time slogging things out, Neville slotted truly against the tide, but the relief was short-lived as Williams goaled again, and this time from an incredible shot from outside the boundary by the netball courts when a Victor clearance from the goal square went off the side of the boot.

Nobody in the packed clubrooms was watching the Ashes or Port Power on the telly, because the real excitement was out on the oval with a traditional rivalry that could only be forged in the crucible of a 100-hundred-year-old contest with local pride at stake.

If there was ever a time for a leader to stand up, it was now, and the 50-metre goal from Michael Ross with a wet slippery ball brought a grateful roar from the home supporters, and the assembled 1993 premiership reunion past players, as the game entered time on.

The result was put to bed with a late goal for Victor from Stock, and with a very much deserved final goal to Ben Davis to reduce Victors' winning margin to two straight kicks.

Everyone involved will, no doubt, enjoy this week off to recover from the first night game local derby at Victor Oval.

Hawks too smart for the Roosters

By Perry Jones

The Hawks, coming off a disappointing loss to the Bays in the previous match, turned things around last Saturday when they proved too smart for the Roosters with an eight-point win at Langhorne Creek during Centenary Round.

Conditions were good for football at the Creek, with the Hawks up and about early doing most of the attacking, keeping the Rooster defence on their toes which was led by Cooper Machin, despite getting crunched during the term.

The Hawks, however, were making some basic mistakes when in attack, and should have had a handy lead, with Mitch Cleggett cleverly taking a Rooster tap and able to bring up the two white flags for the first time of the match.

With Blackwell able to run around unattended and adding drive from Helyar and Dominish, the Hawks set up numerous forward thrusts as they had the next goal on the board with an accurate kick from the boundary by Helyar.

While Welk was having an even battle with Keynes in ruck, the Roosters were still having problems clearing the balls from the stoppages, but Wright, Clamp and Jake Stafford were doing their best to open up scoring opportunities.

However, it was just four behinds for the Roosters for the term as they tried to get past some handy rebound work from the Hawks' Reichelt, Derham and Clifford.

The Hawks, looking more organised, had the final goal on the board for the term when Keynes made no mistake, for a 16-point lead.

In the second term it was more like how the Roosters could play early, going in harder for the ball as they had the first goal on the board, when a pass from Elliott saw Fergusson take a good mark for the conversion.

The Roosters were getting value from attacking work by Elliott, Fergusson and Tucker as they then had the next goal on the board, seeing Hawk Dominish muck up a short pass in defence which let Jake Stafford in for the full-pointer.

The Roosters, through Mundy in his first A grade game, and Butler, O'Grady and Cooper Machin, held the Hawk attacks as the Roosters went forward again for Clamp to have a shot at goal in trapping the Hawks holding the ball, but he missed.

It wasn't the case, however, when Simounds gave the Hawk defence the run around to make no mistake to give the Roosters the lead.

Then, the Hawks started to take over again as the Roosters had a rest, seeing Blackwell adding to their rebound work and being backed up by Clifford and Derham, to shut the Roosters out for the rest of the term.

With Jones, Dominish and Rothe working the ball forward, while Keynes was shading Welk in ruck, the Hawks were back in front when a handball from Follett was taken by Howell for a goal, followed by Keynes, picking up a charity ruck free near goal to convert again for the Hawks, who went in at half time eight points clear.

The Hawks were right on the ball at the start of the third term with Helyar, Blackwell on his own again and Dominish pumping the ball forward early, with the latter having the first goal when he swooped on the spillage to make no mistake.

Next, Hawk Cleggett was tall enough to mark the ball from behind to give the Hawks another major in what was becoming an arm wrestle, with players able to get away when tackled when not even attempting to get rid of the ball.

While the Hawks continued to spread to open up running opportunities, it was, despite some stop start football, saw the Roosters being able to get back into the contest with Godfrey, Wright and Tucker doing enough attacking work to test the Hawk defence work, led by Clifford.

A Godfrey pass found Clamp able to bring up the first goal in the term for the Roosters, followed by Elliott pulling in a strong mark to set Will Stafford up for a full pointer, and so responded to the Hawks' opening goals.

While O'Grady and Edwards were keeping a lid on the Hawks' moves as they failed to add to their score, the Roosters, despite Simounds being off with a groin injury, were able to see Gilbert get the ball to Wright to set Fergusson up for the mark.

Following up his play, Wright got the ball back off Fergusson for a successful shot at goal and saw the Roosters just three points down at the last break.

The Hawks had the first goal on the board in the last term when Follett slipped out the handball to allow Helyar to take the ball and dribble it through the big sticks, but the Roosters did have the reply when Godfrey from the boundary made no mistake.

However, the Hawks were still smart enough to keep running to open spaces to give themselves opportunities, as the Roosters had too many becoming just spectators.

With Keynes in his battle, and with Welk in ruck winning himself the 'Centenary Medal' for best on ground, the Hawks were still taking the ball most of time from the stoppages by work from Dominish, and Jones, as Helyar, Rothe and Bates sent the ball forward.

The Hawks got away again when Towk sent the ball forward for Rothe to take a strong mark to convert, and then Dominish found Kartinyeri on his own for the Hawks to raise the two white flags again.

Time was running out for the Roosters, who showed that if they did win the ball at the centre bounces, they could get into attack quickly which they did for Clamp to goal, but most times the Hawk defenders Clifford, Dawson, Derham and Reichelt were in control.

With another goal as Bates, from a free, sent the ball forward for Towk to mark and make no mistake, virtually sealed the game in the Hawks' favour, and the Roosters with Godfrey and Wright still putting in the attacking effort, got the final goal on the board through Tucker.

The win has put the Hawks back in the hunt for a spot in the final five, while the Roosters have blown another chance at making the finals, though one never knows which team is going to turn up, brilliant one day, ordinary the next.

Hawks and Roosters unite for mental health conversation

By Giorgina McKay

The 'eye-opening' reality of mental health, particularly for men, was driven home for those at Langhorne Creek Football Club's (LCFC) Shaka Project presentation last Wednesday night.

As previously reported in The Southern Argus, the club partnered with The Shaka Project to deliver an hour-long workshop designed to ignite conversations around mental health, and encourage connection, mateship and brotherhood through the 'shaka' in conjunction with the Great Southern Football League's Mental Health Breakthrough Community Round and LCFC's own 'Cooney Cup', which is played for by the Senior Colts.

Almost 80 people, comprising mainly of local sporting club members, attended last Wednesday's session to hear Sean Weir openly and honestly share his own mental health journey.

He also explained the key signs to identify if someone may be struggling, and emphasised the importance of having healthy habits, whether it be going to the gym, playing sport, or pursuing other hobbies.

"Sean was very real and honest throughout the entire presentation," Club President, Jessica Chandler, said.

"I have received nothing but positive feedback from everyone who attended the event.

"Sean delivered the messages in such a raw and relatable way to all age groups within the room, and given recent suicides in our community, it was a very timely presentation and a reminder to look out for one another.

"I've had multiple people ask for Sean's details for future events, so I have no doubt we will see him again."

One of the staggering statistics to come out of the presentation was that seven men a day commit suicide in Australia, equating to about two football teams a week.

Chandler said it was a 'scary' thought.

"It really hit home when he talked about the statistics around men's mental health," she said.

"It was also extremely eye-opening when he explained the 'crisis mode', and the feeling of having no hope or reason to live.

"Statistically speaking – given the size of the audience in attendance – a quarter of the room was said to be in 'crisis mode', which is just unfathomable to look around and wonder if people are silently struggling."

Moving forward, the club plans to continue having raw conversations around mental health, and creating safe spaces to do so.

Chandler thanked Weir for being part of the club's journey towards a 'mentally happier and healthier' community.

Almost 80 people were in attendance at Langhorne Creek Football Club's Shaka Project presentation last Wednesday night.

"LCFC is extremely passionate about (mental health), and will continue to provide a platform for these presentations each season," she said.

"If there is opportunity to do more, we certainly will because at the end of the day, we are a big family at Hawk Park, and we need every single person to feel supported.

"We continue to thank Carol and the Cooney family for the continuation of the Cooney Cup each season, which allows us to open up and acknowledge mental health as the precursor for these raw conversations.

"I commend Sean's strength and openness in being so raw and real with his own story, and sharing that with complete strangers."

Spring comes early to Goolwa Oval

By Busted Knee

Magpie swooping season started early at the Goolwa Oval on Saturday, when the Centenary Round was celebrated.

The warning signs have been evident for most of the season, with Reece Slape's Magpies showing supporters little glimpses all year of what may be possible.

Mount Compass Bulldogs travelled to the Magpies Nest with 12 premiership points in their pocket and eyeing off higher positions on the table.

The game started in cold, but dry and sunny conditions, and perfect for football.

A light two-goal breeze favoured the main entrance end, and the Magpies kicked with it.

Proceedings started at a frenetic pace, with the Magpie on-ballers sent them forward to score again and again.

Clean hands and a strong attack on the ball had the Bulldogs on the back foot, but they settled eventually and got their scoring started.

However, these Magpies kept swooping and responded to take a 14-point lead into quarter-time.

The Bulldogs responded as good teams do, and their midfield lifted their work rate, taking the game away from their Magpie counterparts to bang on two quick goals with the breeze and close the gap.

It was the Magpies turn to respond. They were being challenged by a team with strong finals aspirations, but could they be?

Short answer was an emphatic 'yes'!

The Magpie midfield lifted to the challenge.

Daniel Fry went harder, the defence, led by Reece Slape, tightened up, and Brett Heintze started to make his presence felt around the ground, as did Jesse Bates and Ryan Carnelly.

These players brought a lot of others into the game, and the Magpies scored to steady, then scored again to go goal-to-goal with the Bulldogs.

It was a very entertaining quarter of football that saw the Magpies extend their lead to 16 points at half-time.

The third quarter is also known as the premiership quarter because the long half-time break gives coaching staff and players the opportunity to do a little navel gazing, and reset to correct things that have not gone well or to plan in the first half – probably a fair bit of that went on in the Bulldogs' rooms, and everyone awaited the outcome.

The quarter got under way much like the first.

Magpies were first to the ball, had cleaner hands, found teammates and scored.

James Fry was busy and dangerous, while Jesse Bates played one of the best games I have seen him play.

Ryan Carnelly just went about doing what he does, week in and week out, working his butt off, getting the footy and using it well.

Daniel Fry was the living definition of 'in & under'.

Jacob Hughes was very effective and Kosta Dekoning was becoming a powerhouse around the ground, while Jye Bottroff was working hard in defence, along with Reece Slape to make life difficult for the Bulldogs' forwards.

Then there was Brett Heintze, who was dominating around the ground and kicking goals.

Magpies swooped to a 30-point lead at three-quarter time.

The unspoken question in supporter's minds was 'Can they finish it?'

There was one noticeable difference around the three-quarter time huddle (compared to previous matches where the Magpies were in contention) – where everyone was fit, the bench was intact, and everyone was becoming accustomed to their roles and sick to death of fade outs.

It showed in the voice coming out of the huddle, where there was a steely determination to finish the job.

The breeze was still a factor, where one would rather be kicking with it than against it (when 30 points down), and the Bulldogs came out snarling, but could not penetrate the stoic Magpie defence led by Slape and Bottroff.

The 100-gamer, young Fred Nissen, and the 400-gamer, mature Dale Cuthbert, played their hearts out as they always have for this club.

Dale Cuthbert's goal was a highlight in his 400th game for the club.

The mallee bull continued his rampage, marking everything, while Ryan Carnelly kept doing what he does.

Kai Iwao was working out the pace of A Grade footy and was doing good things.

More Magpie players were brought into the game, and they combined well to play some sparkling footy and run out 48-point winners.

Brett Heintze was superb, and was awarded the Centenary Medal.

Southern Districts teams seek Country Championships title

Last year's SA Women's Country Champions Southern Districts are preparing to retain back-to-back glory this weekend. Photo: Andrew Batten

By Giorgina McKay

It will be a tale of redemption for one Southern Districts team and a battle to retain back-to-back glory for the other at the 2023 THINK! Road Safety SA Country Football Championships this weekend.

The Barossa Valley's Nuriootpa and Angaston Football Clubs will host the Southern Districts, South East, Central, Northern, Eastern, and Eyre Peninsula zones this Saturday and Sunday for the annual event, which showcases and celebrates the best of country football.

McLaren District's Gianni Petrucci returns as Southern Districts Men's Coach, while Willunga's Wade Phillips makes a return for Southern Districts Women, alongside Southern Football League's Mark Rix.

After a devastating loss at Whyalla last year, the Southern Districts Men will be looking for redemption this weekend.

"As a zone, we weren't happy with the results last year," Petrucci told The Southern Argus.

"To finish as low as we did when we usually are such a strong zone, we definitely want to bounce back this year."

The men had their first combined training session on Tuesday and will have one more tonight before the final team is selected.

"There's obviously some (players) that aren't available through injury, which is a bit disappointing, but all in all, it looks like hopefully, we should have a decent squad to pick from," Petrucci said.

"The only thing we'll look to work on is building some connections and comradery; you can't work on too many tactics and game play because it's only two training sessions.

"But all these guys that are putting their hand up that have played association footy know how to play football, so I'm not going to be trying to teach them anything different.

"It's more about how quickly we can bond with each other."

Petrucci looked forward to representing the zone and association with both the men and women at a 'spectacular' venue.

"It's better for us because last year it was very difficult to get people to go away to Whyalla, whereas this year, the Barossa is not that far away," he added.

"We know Barossa is a good place; it's got some nice, big ovals, which will suit the side we want to pick."

Meanwhile, the Southern Districts Women, who remain undefeated, will be fighting to retain their back-to-back title.

Like Petrucci, Phillips has a good spread of women across different age levels and experience to select from, who will hopefully help the zone clinch its third win.

Phillips, who recently led the Great Southern Football League to association victory, was optimistic about those chances.

"We're backing up the title, so we want to be able to put a strong team out that suits the style of play we want," he told The Argus.

"It's really hard to know what other zones are bringing, so we just have to go with what we know and hope it's enough.

"We've got a few more younger girls (this year), and hopefully, it (pushes them) to some higher levels of footy and gets them in front of some SANFL clubs."

Phillips similarly looked forward to playing at a closer venue with the combined leagues.

"It's always nice to combine the leagues and build some more relationships," he said.

"We work well together, and always come together at this time and play in the right spirit."

Hawks ‘little superstars’ wrap up Auskick season

By Giorgina McKay

Langhorne Creek Football Club's (LCFC) youngest hawks wrapped up their Auskick season last Wednesday with a final skills session followed by presentations.

Twelve kids braved wet and muddy conditions at Langhorne Creek Oval to complete their final session for the year, led by Coach Darcy Clifford.

The group has spent the past 10 weeks participating in weekly skill-based activities while having some fun along the way.

Club President Jessica Chandler was impressed with how far the 'little superstars' had come.

"This year, we were stoked with our Auskick program, and having 16 little Hawks join us every Wednesday night was such a highlight for us," she said.

"We welcomed multiple new families along the way, and it was really pleasing to show them what footy life is like 'just down the road'.

"It's been really exciting to be part of this program and seeing the next generation of Hawks show so much love for the game already, plus these kids are super talented."

"Although we have loads of fun along the way, there is also a skill focus too, which was evident considering how much they had developed in the final session."

The night ended with a certificate and medal presentation, and a sausage sizzle.

Chandler noted the best part of this year's season was the relationships formed with the kids and their families, among other aspects.

She looked forward to welcoming the young footballers back next season as the next crop of Moddi stars.

"By having a small group of kids, we are able to tailor the sessions to a very personalised format, and interact and instruct them all individually," she added.

"It's about being part of something bigger than what just happens on the field, and by having a senior club leader like Darcy as our coach, it really drives that connection between junior and senior footy – something we are so passionate about."

"We are so proud of them all, and how much they have grown in confidence throughout the program."

"I again want to thank everyone who was part of LCFC Auskick in 2023, and can't wait to do it all again next year."

Magpies fly high for GSFL centenary round

Goolwa/Port Elliot's (GPE) A Grade Women kept the winning streak going for the Great Southern Football League's centenary round, defeating Yankalilla/Encounter Bay at Strathalbyn on Sunday.

The U14 Girls started the morning off against the Stingrays in chilly temperatures, but brought the best defensive pressure they've shown all year.

Each week, the girls have shown growth and improvement, making for exciting games.

Best on Ground was Ruby Wurlod-Jury, with Dee Kartinyeri and Matisse Robinson also having an impressive game.

Lily Brennan was also in the best players list, with a great goal in the third quarter.

Next it was the A Grade Women's turn to take on Yankalilla/Encounter Bay in cold, overcast weather.

It was a tight first quarter, with GPE kicking the only goal.

In the second, the girls scored two goals to one, with a 13-point lead at half-time.

The Magpies were able to keep the Stingrays scoreless for the second half, kicking one more goal to finish winners, 26 points to 8.

Indiana Quaremba scored two goals, while Tessa Grant and Rachel Wood scored one.

Best on Ground included Indi Miller, who received the Centenary Medal, Kalani Bates, Renee Moon, Laura Jones, Taya Forbes, and Tessa Grant.

Finally, the U17s took to the oval to face Strathalbyn on the opposition's home deck.

The girls showed some great signs, moving the ball well, but without having scoreboard success.

This saw them go down to Strathalbyn, 68 points to nil.

Roosters claim major win over the Magpies

Strathalbyn's U17 Girls had a big win against Goolwa/Port Elliot on Sunday during their last home game for the season.

The U14s started out against Willunga at Strathalbyn Oval, before a group of them joined the U17s to take on the Magpies.

Everyone played in the team's usual style, bringing lots of pressure and effort to the game and the scoreboard showed the results, with Strathalbyn winning 68 points to nil.

Lily Jenke scored five goals, while Isla Wagenknecht and MacKenzie Cutting kicked two each, and Bella Herbut scored one.

Best on Ground included Lily Jenke, Charlotte Collins, Brooke Goslett, Ava Laan, Sienna Ballantyne, and Romany Gully.

Strathalbyn 22 v Langhorne Creek 45

Strathalbyn really pushed the Creek girls to be only down by three goals at half time.

In the second half Creek were able to run it out better than Strath to achieve a comfortable win.

Senior 2

Strathalbyn 23 v Langhorne Creek 51

Creek were too good, when they pulled away every quarter, as they were smarter with the ball.

Strath tried different combinations, but to no avail.

Well done, Creek.

Senior 3

Strathalbyn 29 v Langhorne Creek 44

Strath and Creek had a hard-fought tussle with an even match-up for three quarters, sharing the lead in-between breaks.

Creek started the last quarter with a couple of turnovers that were converted into goals, which were the turning points that allowed them to win the game.

Senior 4

Strathalbyn 21 v Langhorne Creek 60

Strath started well and had some good plays, but Creek had the strength to play a tough, fast game and took a good win.

Senior 5

Strathalbyn 22 v Langhorne Creek 58

Strath's best quarter was the third quarter where they shot their highest score for the game, however, they were outscored by a strong Creek team that won convincingly.

Senior 6

Strathalbyn 24 v Langhorne Creek 48

The score didn't reflect the game, as Strath played well.

Both teams had some awesome shooting, however, Creek took the win.

Inter 1

Strathalbyn 29 v Langhorne Creek 44

Strath's best quarter was the third where they scored the same as the Creek after making strategic positional changes.

However, they were unable to maintain that momentum into the last quarter, with Creek having a good win.

Inter 2

Strathalbyn 33 v Langhorne Creek 47

It was a great start from each team, going goal for goal, with accurate shooting from Mia and Olivia.

Langhorne Creek pulled away in the third quarter to take an 11-goal lead.

In the last quarter, there was a lot of back and forth with Mackenzie taking many intercepts.

Well done on a top defensive game, and congrats to Langhorne Creek on a consistent game.

Inter 3

Strathalbyn 47 v Langhorne Creek 33

At the local derby, where last time they played and it was close, both teams came out hard with pressure on every pass.

Creek goalies capitalised on every feed-in, as did Strath, and each team made it hard to get an easy pass.

Strath's consistent, defensive pressure forced some turnovers which gave them a comfortable lead, and even though they had some rough patches, it still enabled them to hang onto a handy lead thanks to an awesome team game with everyone contributing.

Inter 4

Strathalbyn (White) 7 v Strathalbyn (Red) 67

An unplanned opening line up made for a wobbly start, but by quarter time Strath (White) had settled well.

Being outplayed by a much faster team, they held well until half time.

Some inconsistent efforts made things harder in the third and fourth quarter, with only some Strath (White) players really committed to the game.

This was a very strong game for the Strath (Red) team, with great passing and movement on the court.

Defensive pressure was well applied, with Isla making many intercepts enabling Strath (Red) to have a sound win.

Catherine from Strath (White) never gave up and played well throughout the game.

13 & Under (D1)

Strathalbyn 35 v Langhorne Creek 15

In what was going to be a closely contested game, it lived up to expectations from the start.

With good defence at both ends, it was close at the first break, however, Strath came out a lot stronger from then on and pulled away to run out winners.

9 & Under

Langhorne Creek v Strathalbyn

It was a fun game which saw both teams getting plenty of the ball. There was great defensive pressure from both teams, making it hard for the goalies, with the final score 4-4.

U13s Div 1

Langhorne Creek 15 v Strathalbyn 35

It was a great even first quarter with both teams capitalising off their defenders' intercepts, seeing Creek down by only three at the first quarter. Strath gained a strong momentum for the remainder of the game, and slick attack and great connections down the court, with a great game having been played by all. Well done, Strath girls.

U13s Div 3

Langhorne Creek 24 v Strathalbyn 8

Saturday was a beautiful day for an awesome game of netball.

The Hawks girls played their best game yet, everything came together and we all contributed hugely to the outcome. It was the highest score for the year; well done, girls! Thanks to Strath for an awesome game.

Inter 3

Langhorne Creek 33 v Strathalbyn 47

Inter 2

Langhorne Creek 47 v Strathalbyn 33

It was set to be a good game between both teams sitting equal top. Creek had a full-strength side and led at each quarter, building to a win over Strath by 14 goals. There was really strong performance by all Creek girls over the court.

Inter 1

Langhorne Creek 44 v Strathalbyn 29

On Saturday, both teams were well prepared for a top four clash. The first quarter was evenly contested and neither side let any easy passes through.

The Creek girls were able to find some momentum and whilst Strath had some excellent plays, the Creek edged to a nine-goal lead at half time.

Strath fought hard in the third, and held the score going into the last, but were unable to slow down Langhorne Creek in the last quarter, who were able to find another gear.

A great standard of Netball was displayed. Well done, both teams.

Senior 6

Langhorne Creek 48 v Strathalbyn 24

Each team got off to a slow start with plenty of turnovers. It was a good clean game played in good spirits, and as the pace quickened Creek got the better of the turnovers and ran away with a good win.

Senior 5

Langhorne Creek 58 v Strathalbyn 22

Senior 5s had a tough game on Saturday. Having a key defender away meant a few people were playing outside of their normal positions. After a bit of a slow start everyone adapted well, and Langhorne Creek came away with a 36-goal win.

Senior 4

Langhorne Creek 60 v Strathalbyn 21

The Creek girls came out firing, and were leading by eight goals at the end of the first quarter. Awesome defensive pressure by Creek kept Strath to three goals in the second quarter. Creek had great passages of play down the court, with our midcourt having great feeding into the goal circle, and our goalies were on point! Great game, girls.

Senior 3

Langhorne Creek 44 v Strathalbyn 29

The weather gods turned it on for a brilliant day of netball. Excellent defensive pressure from both sides kept a close contest. In the spirit of milestone players, Emily Rodgers, the Creek girls managed to play a very solid fourth quarter and win by 15! Congratulations on 150 senior games, Emily.

Senior 2

Langhorne Creek 51 v Strathalbyn 23

It was a beautiful day for netball at Langhorne Creek, and both teams came out firing after a close game in Round 1. Langhorne Creek caused many turnovers, and won by 28 goals! Thank you, Strathalbyn.

League

Langhorne Creek 45 v Strathalbyn 32

Always a tight contest, this showdown did not disappoint. Some excellent attacking passages of play, and full court defensive pressure, kept the scores close until three quarter time. Langhorne Creek managed to break the game open in the last quarter, and run out winners by 13.

Myponga Netball Club

League

Myponga 38 v Yankalilla 39

Myponga fought hard in what was a tough battle against Yankalilla on Saturday.

Coming out strong in the first quarter, Myponga's Jordan Hooper and Melissa Hedger caused havoc in the Tigers' attacking third, enabling the Mudlarks to take the lead by six at quarter-time.

Continuing their lead into the second, Myponga's mid court was steady and precise with the ball, allowing shooters, Emma Haskett and Sarah Raper, to move freely within the circle.

Myponga led by seven at half time.

Going into the third, Yankalilla made some changes that allowed the ball to flow more freely into shooters, Brooke Jeffs and Emily van den Munckhof.

Yank defenders, Brooke McIntyre and Mills Basedow, worked hard to close the gap on the scoreboard, gaining intercepts and deflections throughout the Mudlarks' attacking third.

Myponga led by three, heading into the last.

Yankalilla continued to build on their whole court defensive pressure, while Myponga fought hard to hold onto their lead.

Despite their best efforts, Myponga fell short by one goal at the final whistle.

Senior 2

Myponga 39 v Yankalilla 29

The weather, on Saturday, proved to be sunny with a light drizzle.

There was enough rain to make the ball slippery, adding to the difficulty of the game.

Both teams came out firing with a desire to further secure a spot in the top four.

The first quarter saw each team fight for every loose ball, but Myponga was able to take advantage of turnovers to take the lead.

The second quarter saw goalies, Abby Stock and Zoe Glazbrook, work well in the goal circle against Yanks strong defence.

Yankalilla made changes entering the third quarter in hopes to shake up the game, and with a new goalie they worked hard to bring the ball down the court and create pressure on Myponga, however, these efforts were matched by Myponga as they continued to gain a more convincing lead.

The final quarter saw great voice and passages of play from both teams, as each club demonstrated some young talent stepping up to a big game.

Myponga continued with strength and took the win.

Senior 4

Myponga 39 v Yankalilla 12

Myponga, looking to get another handy win on the board, came out with pressure all over the court.

Myponga came together as a team, working hard to capitalise on the turnovers.

The strong defence kept Yankalilla with only 12 goals for the game.

Well done, ladies; great game.

Senior 5

Myponga 37 v Yankalilla 30

The game started evenly, with both teams making some silly errors, however, Myponga were able to take a six-goal lead at the first quarter break.

The second quarter saw Myponga apply pressure all the way down the court to force Yankalilla to make errors, and Jules and Tarnia were able to convert aided with some brilliant passing into the circle by Kayla and Susan, to take a healthy lead at the half time break.

The third quarter saw Yankalilla fight back with some excellent shooting by their goal attack, Sharn Elder.

Myponga's Kate Hodgetts took a nasty fall, but came back on to play the remainder of the game out.

The rain came out to say hello in the second half and after a couple of falls, all players were a little hesitant to compete for the ball as they normally would have, however, Myponga's defenders kept their pressure up and they were able to come out winners by seven.

Thank you to Pete and Susan for filling in for us.

We hope that your injury isn't as bad as it seems, Susan, as we have all our fingers crossed for you.

Senior 6

Myponga 62 v Yankalilla 28

Great teamwork and a very even contribution by every Myponga player resulted in another strong win, 62-28.

The strong defence, all over the court, saw some good interceptions which were delivered to our goalies, Larissa Edson and Olivia Atze, who again shot very accurately, providing a very positive team focus.

There was strong defence by Yankalilla's goal keeper, Megan Ward, throughout the game and she was well supported by an improved young team who gave it their all.

There was great shooting by Fiona Fulton, as we have come to expect, and great sportsmanship by all players who made it a very enjoyable game.

Inter 1

Myponga 32 v Yankalilla 29

Myponga hosted the second round against Yankalilla on a chilly morning.

Yankalilla were hungry for the win after falling short to Myponga in the first round.

Myponga held the lead throughout the first half of the game with star player, goal keeper Tayte Mathewson, working hard in defence, collecting rebounds and intercepts.

Myponga centre Grace Deacon, and Yankalilla centre Sienna Bull, both kept the speed going up and down the court, controlling the game play for each team.

Mexie Marks, Yankalilla's goal shooter, worked hard in the goal circle and executed her shots terrifically well.

The last quarter began with the scores even, setting pressure and tensions all over the court.

Yankalilla defenders, Sophie

Blacburne and Kaylee Howes played body on with tough defence making it hard for Myponga's goalies, Alesia Nowacki and Grace Deacon, but they stood tall and were assisted with some great intercepts through the mid court by Myponga wing defence Jorja Alldritt, and Myponga wing attack Jade Ellis.

The game went down to the wire, with both teams not giving an inch right up to the final whistle, but Myponga were able to come out on top with a 3-goal win in what was a great game.

Inter 2

Myponga 44 v Yankalilla 42

Myponga girls were hungry for a win and with both teams being evenly matched, it was going to be a great game.

Pongy girls came out firing and got a handy 6-1 lead before Yank stepped up the pressure and gained the lead.

Throughout the game there was many great passages of play from each team.

Myponga dominated in the final quarter to come out the victors on the day; well done, ladies.

Inter 3

Myponga 42 v Yankalilla 28

After only losing by two the last time they played Yankalilla, Myponga was keen to come out on top this time around.

Yankalilla showed that they weren't going to make it easy, beginning with a very close first quarter.

Defensive pressure from Pearl Little and Izzy Reinhardt in the midcourt helped Myponga to gain a small lead at the end of the first half.

Myponga continued to apply pressure and score off of turnovers, and most importantly, scored quickly off of their own centre passes which ultimately won them the game.

It was a great match from both sides.

Inter 4

Myponga 14 v Yankalilla 28

A sunny day in Myponga meant it was perfect conditions for netball.

The first quarter started fairly even with both Myponga and Yankalilla creating great defensive pressure.

Yank went into quarter time with a slight lead, and continued to apply full court pressure into the second quarter.

Myponga had some great passages of play, but struggled to score.

Yank continued to push on in the third quarter, securing many rebounds and capitalising off them.

This extended their lead going into the last quarter.

Yank finished off strong, winning by 15.

11 Div2

Myponga 4 v Yankalilla 26

Myponga Under 11 Div 2 took on Yankalilla in fine conditions for the first half of the match.

Yank were strong in moving the ball down the court, but Myponga kept the pressure on with some great defence, especially from Caitlin Wallace.

In the second half of the match Yank had a healthy lead, however, some accurate shooting from Myponga's Macey Harris saw the Mudlarks gain some confidence in their overall game which was lovely to watch.

The rain in the second half wasn't welcome, but Yank continued with great shooting and movement of the ball winning the match.

9 & Under

Draw

It was an evenly matched game against Myponga and Yankalilla on Saturday.

All girls on court, for each side, played very well and tried to get in front to come out the winners.

The game was played in good sportsmanship, and both coaches were very pleased with their efforts.

Thanks, Yankalilla, for a very exciting game, and thanks to the umpires.

Murray Bridge Rifle Club

Nobby nails it

The Murray Bridge Rifle Club kicked off its 2023/24 championship year with a shoot from 300 metres on Saturday.

Fresh, but relatively steady conditions, with a gentle wind from the right, allowed for some good scores to be shot, especially in F-Class where Ian 'Nobby' Elston had a fantastic day out.

Nobby scored a possible of 60.05 in his round, and followed it up with a 59.03 in his second to top score for the day with 119.08.

He was easily the top off-rifle in F-Open, two points ahead of David McDonald who shot a 58.04 and 59.06 for 117.10.

Gordon Harrison had almost the same score, with a 58.04 and 59.04 to claim top off-rifle for F-Standard with 117.08.

It was very close in the handicap battle as well, with less than a point separating the top three shooters.

Ultimately, it was Nobby's possible in the first round that proved the difference as he won by 0.4 from Gordon, who was only 0.3 ahead of McDonald.

In Target Rifle, Andrew Heard was the top off-rifle shooter for the day, winning by three points from Greg Traeger, 95.06 to 92.01.

It was Daniel Irvine who claimed the handicap award, his 91.04 enough with his handicap to give him a four-point win.

There were no magpies shot in Target Rifle this week, but it was not the case in F-Class, where Peter Casley claimed the award with two birds.

Next week the championship continues from 500 metres.

Full Scores:
F-Class: I Elston (FO) 60.05, 59.03, 119.08 (130.6), G Harrison (FS) 58.03, 59.04, 117.08 (130.2), D McDonald (FO) 58.04, 59.06, 117.10 (129.9), J Cranwell (FO) 56.02, 58.05, 114.07 (123.3), F Marshall (FS) 55.02, 51.00, 106.02 (117.4), W Halliday (FO) 47.03, 49.01, 96.04 (116.0), P Casley (FS) 47.01, 53.01, 100.02 (115.7)
TR: D Irvine 45.02, 46.02, 91.04 (108.4), A Heard 48.02, 47.04, 95.06 (104.5), G Traeger 44.00, 48.01, 92.01 (97.9).

Ian 'Nobby' Elston prepares for his next shot on the way to an almost perfect day.

Gordon Harrison fires on his way to winning F-Standard.

Strathalbyn Ladies Golf

Tonya Merritt wins Par

On Wednesday June 28, only six ladies ventured out for the Par round.

Illness, appointments, holidays, and weather concerns prompted many ladies to stay away from the course.

Tonya Merritt won the day with +4, while Mel Johnson won the longest drive on the third hole.

No-one won the NTP on the seventeenth hole.

The other ladies, Di Krutli, Ann Semple, Penny Geue and Jo Pickhaver had varying success on the course.

Better luck next week, ladies.

Strathalbyn Golf

Early bird Phil Perrin takes Stableford round

By Perry Jones

Most of the early birds did the best in the Stableford competition, run by the Strathalbyn Golf Club last Saturday, with Phil Perrin winning the day and the A grade section with 36 points.

Starting around seven o'clock in the morning, the early birds copped the rain that fell on the day making it hard to get any run on the fairways, but that didn't deter Phil, getting the nearest second shot prize (0-18) on the ninth, and coming home strongly being one under par for the last four holes, to take the A grade top honours with 36 from club captain, Graeme Bertholini, on 34.

In B grade, it was Don Bell getting his act together to take that grade with 35 points starting well with a birdie on the second for 16 on the first nine, having pars on most of the par three holes, and having 19 on the back nine.

He was a bit better than brother Dave who had a shocker, not being able to chip and putt while his driver also went south in the end, to just miss the Naga award with 20 points, C grader Sam Avramidis, taking that prize in a countback with his 20 points.

There were 32 starters for the day and just six of them in C grade, with Darryl Holt top with 28 points on a countback from Kim Wittwer, who couldn't complain about not winning a ball, starting off on the right foot, driving well and getting a couple of pars before things went pear-shaped and was heard to say late that he had had enough.

Other early players, Mike Semple, Dan Adams and Erik Heyns, who were just ahead of Phil and Peter McNulty, the latter improving his form with 32 points, didn't do too bad on the day finishing with 33, 31 and 33 points respectively.

Mike, besides parring the par five third and twelfth holes for three points each, did have a bit of trouble on the par five seventh and sixteenth next time around, firstly hitting the big tree at the corner of the dam for the ball to go out of bounds to scrub the hole and then next time around did well to still gain a point after going in the dam.

Dan had a few problems with his chipping, while Erik with his handicap going out to 17 was trying to get it to go back in, only missed one fairway in his round to pick up three or four pars.

Comments came from Gordon Robson, Kym Nelson and Brenton Welk that they all had solid rounds of rubbish golf, with Gordon having just 28 points scrubbing the par five third and twelfth holes, Kym with just 25 points getting nothing from the first three holes before picking up a par on the fourth, and Brenton having just 24 points and seen inspecting the creek named after him, at one stage.

If not for tree problems, Ben McLeod should have come in with a better score than 27, as he played the par five twelfth very well with a good tee shot and, then in pulling out his three wood, got the ball to travel some 210 metres onto the green to set up and eagle putt, though unfortunately, had to settle for a birdie.

Ben also picked up nearest the pin on the fifteenth and seventeenth, with his tee shot on the par three seventeenth almost a slam dunk effort for a hole in one.

One of Ben's partners, Henry Kelly, also picked up a birdie on the twelfth with his third shot on the green, and then produced a long and successful putt.

A bit of putting improvement was noted on Brian Simpson's game after having had his eyesight fixed (and having shrugged off a bit of a back problem), although it didn't help him much on the day having just eight points from the first ten holes before he lifted his ratings with four pars on the next five holes to finish with 26 points, and a three-putter on the last was no help to his cause.

Ben Clark went around with Brian for a handy 33 points, while another member in the group, Lord Haberfield, missed too many easy putts to finish on 28 points.

John Owen was out again to have a bash, and was supposed to be going around with the last pair, Andrew Hentschke and Andrew Pavy, but they left him on the practice putting green, leaving it to Derek Keane to go back and pick him up to play with his group which included Des Kelly and Kim Wittwer.

John finished with just 25 points, having had a bit of trouble off the tee on the sixteenth, when he hit the trees on the left-hand side and really didn't want to find the ball.

Luckily, Des found his ball in an awkward position, John extracted it well through the trees at the next shot, and was tickled pink when he still got a point for the hole.

Des had a reasonable round of 30 points after just 13 on the front nine with no pars recorded, but with three pars on the way home, picked up another 17 points on the back nine.

While Kim Wittwer saw his game fall to bits, another member in the group, Derek, scored only 25 points and must have been all golfed out having been down to Robe for a week of golf with the president, Randall Pitt.

The only thing that Randall collected on his trip was a dose of Covid, which saw him missing on Saturday.

Both John and Derek also had a go at the putting jackpot at the end of the day to no avail, and John with his sunglasses on, initially aiming at what he thought was the target in one of the marker balls placed on the green, until it was mentioned that he should take his glasses off.

John then got close to claiming the prize but, like Derek, missed the jackpot.

One prize that did go off on the day, was the meat tray, won by Kirk Richardson.

Langhorne Creek Paralympian sets sights on gold

Langhorne Creek three-time Paralympian Michael Roeger is looking like a strong contender for the gold at the World Para Athletics Championships in Paris, which starts this Saturday, after eclipsing his own world record.

Racing at the Rose City Mile in Portland, USA, the local product clocked a time of 3:44:83 against a field of able-bodied athletes in the 1500-metre, beating his previous record from 2017 of 3:46:51.

The time will unfortunately be excluded from the World Para Athletics world record book due to the meeting being unsanctioned, however, it has given Roger the added confidence to hopefully win his first world title on the track.

"It's nice to have the official and unofficial world records now," he said.

"I thought my 1500-metre days were over when I moved on to the marathon, but I think all that training has just given me strength to come back to (it).

"I've gone into the Paralympics and World Championships confident before, but I've never run this quick weeks out from my main race, and I've never been in this good a position physically before, so I'm really looking forward to Paris.

"To put the world on notice three weeks out from the World Para Athletics Championships is a huge confidence booster for me."

A gold medal on the track is desirable for Roger, who had to step back down to his 1500-metre origins after the marathon T46 was removed from the Paris Paralympic program.

While finally running a sub 3:45 was special, Roger said Paris was a different ball game.

"Paris will be very different... these races are all paced and fast," he said.

"Previously when I've run it at World Champs, I haven't got the job done.

"The last three years of training has taught me I can lead from the front and go hard if I need to, but I'm going to make sure in Paris, I get the job done."

Roger noted he couldn't have beaten his record without the help of Coach Philo Saunders, who will also help him in the lead-up to the championships.

"We've had to scale back and look at what we can do better, and he's done that – I can't thank him enough," he said.

"To be training with the full Paralympic distance squad in the USA over the last three weeks thanks to Athletics Australia has been incredible.

"The results are showing, and hopefully, we have a good prep in these last few weeks."

Elliotts crowned Alexandrina Bridge Club champions

Last Wednesday saw the culmination of Alexandrina Contract Bridge Club's playing sessions for the 2022-23 season.

President John Elliott and Secretary Garry Skuse started by giving a brief rundown of the year's achievements.

The highlight was an increase of players from a steady base of 24 regulars to more than 30, partly attributed to successful teaching, the end of COVID restrictions, and a cohesive group of people who enjoy playing bridge together and each other's company.

It was decided to have a 'bring a plate' luncheon, with some people bringing savouries and others sweets, so generous, the club failed to finish it all at lunch-time and made up for it at afternoon tea-time.

After the midday feast, prizes were distributed.

First cab off the rank was a special vote of thanks to Marie Pike for many devoted years of looking after the club's normal session afternoon teas.

Next came the Marj Edmonds prize for the pair who had attended the most sessions, which was won by Sue Caddy and Helen Conolly.

Marj Edmonds is a former club member whose attendance was, until her death, the most frequent of all members because she lived for her bridge.

The award was donated by Garry Skuse and Helen Conolly in her memory.

This was followed by a new trophy donated by John Elliott and his wife, Pat, for the Most Improved Pair for 2022-23, which was awarded to Valmai Philips and Mary Rowley – both regular players from Murray Bridge.

The Club Champions, with the highest average score over a minimum of 30 sessions, were John and Pat Elliott.

Club Championship Runners Up were Sue Caddy and Helen Conolly.

Sue Caddy also read out a letter from players, thanking John for his time and efforts over the year to make the club a great success.

Most Improved Pair for 2022-23 were Valmai Philips and Mary Rowley.

Championship Runners Up and Marj Edmonds prize recipients were Sue Caddy and Helen Conolly.

Winners of the 2023 Club Championship were President John Elliott and Pat Elliott.

BIDDING

West 1H: Normal Opening, 5c Major.

North 3C*: Leaping Michaels, showing 5 - 5 in Clubs and the other Major, with good High Card Points.

East 3H: Support for 1H from partner.

South 3S: Showing Spade support and some useful values.

West 4H: 10 tricks by the Law of Total Tricks.

North 4S: 16 Total Points, a bit pre-emptive, but worth a try.

Leaping Michaels is a variation of Michaels Cue bids, though not exactly a Cue bid itself, as it does not involve bidding a suit that the other side has already bid.

Its usefulness is that it is the only way of showing 5-5 in Clubs and the other Major, after opponents have themselves opened with a Major suit.

The catch is that opportunities to use it are extremely rare, and your partner may not recognise it when you use it.

Ideally, your side is Not Vulnerable and the other side is Vulnerable, and if that is not true, as in this example, you need to have some good High Card Points as compensation, to make it worthwhile.

In this case, West makes a completely normal opening bid of 1H, and North leaps into action with a jump bid to 3C, because this is the mechanism: Other side bids a Major, the next bid must be a jump to 3C.

After the hand was over, South admitted that she thought that 3C indicated a 7-card suit with a pre-emptive 7-card Club suit, and it took a pregnant pause to awaken from the drudge of a series of un-interesting hands and low expectations.

During that pause, East also took a long time to re-evaluate her hand, and just before making a bid to 3H, South woke up and Alerted North's call, and was asked for an explanation, which was along the lines, "I think that is a Leaping Michaels bid, showing 5-5 in Clubs and Spades, the other Major."

East still bid 3H, having decided that the Law of Total Tricks allowed the bid (based on a 5-card opening from partner, therefore 9 trumps between the two hands).

South bid 3S to show the Major fit, also realising there was a double fit in Clubs. West continued with 4H because of the 6-card Heart suit, and North ended the auction with 4 Spades.

The lead was the ♥Ace and in the final wash-up, East/West took 1 Heart, one Club and one Diamond for 10 tricks.

On the day, two pairs played in 4S, one making 10, one making 9, another was in 3S making 10. The other tables played in 4H, all going down by one or two tricks.

Public Notices

ALEXANDRINA COUNCIL
Community Consultation
Middleton, Milang, Port Elliot Master Plans

Notice is hereby given that Alexandrina Council seeks community feedback on the three (3) proposed Master Plans for Middleton, Milang, and Port Elliot. The plans were prepared based on a series of location based co-design workshops and My Say input from the community. The Master Plans were commenced following community outcomes from the 2021 Village Conversations.

To provide feedback regarding the proposed Draft Master Plans, visit Council's My Say Alexandrina website at mysay.alexandrina.sa.gov.au or email alex@alexandrina.sa.gov.au or by post to the Chief Executive Officer, PO Box 21, Goolwa SA 5214. Submissions regarding the proposed Plans will be accepted by Council until September 2023 following the Village Conversations community engagement sessions (dates TBC). For further information please call Council's Strategic Planning Officer on 8555 7000.
