Mt Compass named in the worst locations for kangaroo crashes...

KANGA-BOOM

By Tara Nash

Mount Compass has been named in the top five locations for kangaroo collisions in SA, sparking safety calls from local advocates.

Car crashes with kangaroos continue to skyrocket in SA, with RAA Insurance receiving more than 2100 claims in the past year – a 44 per cent jump on the same period two years ago – which is likely due to the state's lack of rainfall bringing the marsupials towards the road in search of food.

RAA has also revealed which suburbs and towns are worst for kangaroo crashes, based on the last three years of insurance claim data.

Mount Compass recorded 64 collisions and ranked fourth in the state, with Victor Harbor ranking 10th with 40 accidents.

These incidents are sometimes attended by Goolwa-based not-for-profit Wildlife Welfare Organisation.

About a month ago, Wildlife Rescue Centre Manager Justin Biddle was receiving a call about a kangaroo being hit almost every day, and said it feels like more of them are on the move.

Art residency opens in Macclesfield

Mount Barker District Council Arts Officer Sally Hardy encourages local artists to apply for the program. Photos: Georgina McKay

Creative individuals living in the Hills Fleurieu region or interstate are invited to apply for Mount Barker District Council's new artists-in-residence program at the historic Three Brothers Arms Hotel in Macclesfield.

The six-month pilot program 'Make Believe Dream Create' offers artists the opportunity to base themselves in a picturesque, self-contained studio at the oldest pub in the Adelaide Hills while they work on their latest projects.

Council Arts Officer Sally Hardy said the program was a unique opportunity for artists to be inspired by Macclesfield's beauty, history and charm in a dedicated creative space at no cost.

"Being a professional artist is not for the faint-hearted – on one hand, you need the discipline to produce great art on a regular basis and on the other, you're running a business and managing everything that comes with that," she said.

"By offering the studio rent-free, we're removing a layer of financial pressure, and providing artists with their own space where they have the mental and physical room to embark on a new artistic endeavour or the next stage of an existing project."

Make Believe Dream Create is the latest council-led initiative aimed at creating a strong and sustainable arts sector in Mount Barker.

It will run from August 2025 until January 2026, and offer residences of two, four and six weeks to emerging, mid-career and professional artists across Australia working in any art form.

"We're excited to see the calibre of artists who apply for this rare opportunity, and our goal is to see this pilot program evolve with residencies offered in different townships across our district in coming years," Ms Harding said.

Mount Barker District Council Arts Officer Sally Hardy and Three Brothers Arms Hotel proprietor John Jagt inside the building where some of the magic will happen.

"The importance of creating opportunities for professional artists to practice their art and be visible to the community can't be underestimated.

"It's a vital conduit for connection, shared experience and belonging, and that's what builds a strong community."

Applicants living outside the council area will need to demonstrate their project has a connection with the Mount Barker district.

Artists are also required to work from the studio at least three days a week and provide local residents with an opportunity to engage with their work once their residency ends.

Applications for the program are simple and close at midnight on Sunday, July 20.

For more information and to apply, visit (www.mountbarker.sa.gov.au/arts), or contact Sally Hardy on 08 8393 6460 or by email at (shardy@mountbarker.sa.gov.au).

Town Hall sustains water damage

By Georgina McKay

Recent heavy rain caused minor water damage to the Strathalbyn Town Hall. The issue was caused by gutters overflowing due to a build-up of debris, which blocked the water flow, and has been addressed with minor repairs to the internal painting. Scaffolding was set up last week to safely clean the gutters, removing any build-up and preventing future damage to the hall. This is not the first time the hall has experienced issues. In 2023, works uncovered contaminants of mercury and lead in the roof void, potentially from the storage of old cinema equipment and batteries. And more recently, in 2024, the builder overseeing the works – Stride Construction – stopped work at the site. The latest damage won't cause delays to the hall's 'soft opening' in July.

Calls for speed limit review

By Tara Nash

Calls have been made for a reduced speed limit on a "thoroughfare to the south", sparked by safety concerns from community members. Wistow Community Association is advocating for a reduced speed limit and installation of a traffic island along Wellington Road, which runs through the town's centre and has heavy traffic of commuters between Strathalbyn to Mount Barker. The strip between Long Valley Road and Paech Road – that also includes a bus stop and several shops – is currently 60km/h. "We need to action something fairly quickly – it's a busy road," President, Ken Hutchinson, said.

"It's the thoroughfare to the south, and people from Goolwa, Strath, and Langhorne Creek – it's their thoroughfare to get to the freeway. "There are kids... who have to negotiate semi-trailers, concrete trucks, cattle trucks, cars, and buses (when crossing the road)."

A Department for Infrastructure and Transport spokesperson said a recent review found the current speed limit appropriate for the road and traffic conditions. The review included an analysis of the road development, layout, function, traffic volumes and crash statistics.

“ There are kids who have to negotiate semi-trailers, concrete trucks, cattle trucks, cars, and buses when crossing the road... ”

– Ken Hutchinson

“While there are currently no plans to install a pedestrian refuge at this location, we are continually assessing the road network to identify opportunities to improve road safety,” the spokesperson said. “We prioritise improvements on roads with the greatest need, based on a variety of factors including traffic volume, safety, and pavement condition. “We undertake reviews of speed limits and road conditions as requested from a number of sources including members of the public, local councils, the RAA, SA Police or the heavy vehicle industry.”

Hills Interchange upgrade contracts awarded

Contracts have been awarded to deliver $150 million worth of upgrades to the Mount Barker and Verdun Interchanges, allowing major construction to begin later this year. South Australian company Bardavcol Pty Ltd has been awarded the contract for the upgrade of the Mount Barker Interchange, while a joint venture between BMD and Leed will undertake the Verdun Interchange upgrade. The interchange projects aim to improve connectivity to the South Eastern Freeway, and improve the capacity of the interchanges in response to existing and projected growth for Mount Barker and the Adelaide Hills area. The Mount Barker Interchange will be upgraded to include a new three-lane bridge across the South Eastern Freeway for north-bound traffic, the conversion of the existing bridge to accommodate three lanes of south-bound traffic and a new shared use path, plus improved ramp capacity and new traffic signals to improve safety. The project will also include pavement rehabilitation and safety upgrades such as smart lighting, while the existing Verdun Interchange will be upgraded to a full interchange, allowing access to and from the South Eastern Freeway in both directions to improve connectivity and traffic flow. It will feature an east-bound entry ramp towards Mount Barker and a new west-bound exit ramp, which will cross under the existing west-bound entry ramp and connect with a new roundabout at Mount Barker Road adjacent to Silver Road. “These works will provide a much-needed upgrade to the way Adelaide Hills residents travel,” Minister for Infrastructure and Transport, Tom Koutsantonis, said. “We’re seeing significant population growth in Mount Barker and surrounding areas, and we need to ensure we have the road infrastructure in place to support this. “Both of these contractors have a great history delivering significant infrastructure projects in South Australia. “With these contracts now awarded, we can get on with delivering these projects to make travelling on and off the South Eastern Freeway for locals and tourists much easier and safer.” The project will support approximately 260 full-time equivalent jobs per year during the construction period. Major construction on the interchanges is expected to begin in late 2025 and be completed by late 2027.

Artist rendering of the interchange upgrades.

Mental health support for drought-impacted farmers

A comprehensive $2.5 million mental health support strategy has been initiated for South Australian communities impacted by the drought.

The Mental Health Support Program forms part of the State Government's $73 million drought assistance package, which was first announced in November last year and expanded in April.

More than $1.2 million will be invested in expanding trusted NGO mental health service providers across regional SA, including Centacare (with KWY), Uniting SA, Mind and Skylight, enabling these local services to deliver more support to individuals and groups.

These programs will involve mental health support workers on the ground who will work directly with affected community members.

Referral pathways are also being broadly expanded to ensure these services can be accessed through a range of new and locally established referrers, including Rural Financial Counsellors (via Rural Business Support), Family and Business Support Mentors and local GPs, plus self-referral from July 1.

At least eight men's tables will be formed over the next year – men's mental health, suicide prevention and community-building initiatives that bring together groups of local men so they can build genuine connections over dinner – at a cost of $200,000, starting with the South East and expanding to at least one in every drought-affected region.

An $80,000 investment is being made in tools such as ifarmwell – an online platform developed by farmers for farmers which teaches skills to better cope with stress – while more than $600,000 is being invested into other wellbeing, resilience and mental health initiatives, including the provision of access to training, support, information and resources for the broader community, as well as Aboriginal and Culturally and Linguistically Diverse (CALD) communities.

"Drought doesn't just affect the land, it also affects the health of those living through it," Health Minister, Chris Picton, said.

"This funding will ensure they do not face this burden alone.

"It is so important to meet the communities where they are, putting support directly into these affected regions where it's needed most.

"To anyone who has been affected by these devastating droughts, we see and hear you, and are working to support you."

Targeted support such as counselling and suicide prevention will also be established to help each community's most vulnerable people.

Those needing mental health support or advice can call the Medicare Mental Health Line between 8.30am and 5pm on weekdays at 1800 595 212.

Support is also available 24 hours a day, every day of the year, through Lifeline (131 114) or, for urgent matters, by calling the Emergency Triage Liaison Service on 131 465.

For broader drought-related matters, the PIRSA Recovery Hotline is available Monday to Friday, 9am to 5pm, at 1800 931 314.

Monarto-based 2025 Australia Rodeo Queen Quest Entrant Belle Styles will host a competition for the Strath Rodeo Princess. Photo: 94 Visuals

By Tara Nash

Crown contenders will soon compete for the chance of the title of Strath Rodeo Princess and Strath Junior Cowgirl – the only competition of its kind in South Australia – as a way to encourage women in the sport and be an ambassador for the upcoming local event.

Rodeo Queens are common in the sport's history, acting as an ambassador for the western lifestyle and a role model for younger competitors and spectators.

They present in modest, traditional western outfits, including a cowboy hat, bootcut jeans, long-sleeved, button-down collared shirt, western boots and a sash.

Competitions have dwindled in the sport, with this being the only one available in South Australia.

"I want to bring the opportunity to people locally without having to go for the national title if that's not something they're able or feel like they're ready to do," Host, Belle Styles, said.

"It's a taster or step in the door for people to give it a go."

Ms Styles is the only South Australian 2025 Australia Rodeo Queen Quest Entrant, leading to her promotion of rodeo and encouragement of others in the sport.

The Monarto rider has been barrel racing on and off for about 10 years, and will compete in the national judging in the Gold Coast in October.

The local competition for Rodeo Princess and Junior Cowgirl will be based on the criteria of interview, sportsmanship, horsemanship and presentation.

Judging will be done by Caitlin Mitchell, who was formerly Miss Rodeo by the Sea, and Olivia Donaldson, who was previously the 2024 Rodeo Queen of Australia Runner-up, the 2024 Miss Rodeo Horsemanship and the 2024 Australian Rodeo Queen Quest Miss Congeniality, as well as a Strathalbyn Rodeo committee member.

The competition aims to offer an entryway for local riders and to add their participation to their portfolios, with a variety of awards up for grabs.

The winners of the top titles will join Strath Rodeo's grand entry, which is like an opening parade where riders carry flags around a circuit.

They will also need an appropriate horse, capable of carrying the flag and being appropriately calm in the environment.

The upcoming August competition is just prior the local rodeo in November, and will be held in the Strath Rodeo indoor arena.

The competition will also have the Strath Jackpot Barrel Race, which will have divisional winners, ribbons and prize money, which will give competitors more variety on the day.

Code amendment proposed, leases secured for Wharf Precinct

 By Giorgina McKay

Community feedback is being sought for a proposed code amendment that aims to better reflect the newly upgraded Goolwa Wharf Precinct’s unique character, rich First Nation’s heritage, and its important role in the state’s riverboat and steam railway history.

Alexandrina Council has proposed an amendment to the State Government’s Planning and Design Code to create a ‘Goolwa Wharf Subzone’ that will foster the community, tourist, cultural and recreational aspirations of the precinct, reinforced by the area’s First Nations and historic significance.

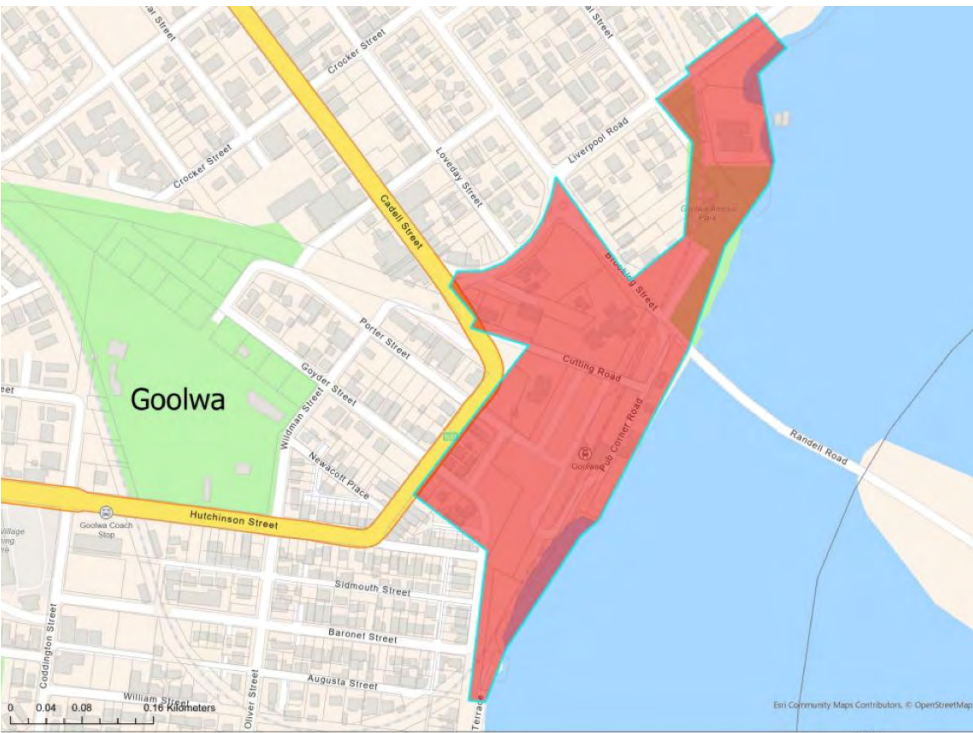

This will also enable future alterations – subject to development approval – to enhance current and envisaged land uses and infrastructure.

It comes as council approves the first short-term leases for the precinct.

Council established the Goolwa Wharf Precinct Activation Strategy in July 2023 to create an eclectic, sustainable mixture of tenants.

Stage one of the strategy included a registration of interest from existing tenants, business operators and community groups looking to be part of the precinct after its development, resulting in three tenancies being secured that November, including the Wharf Wine Bar, Cittaslow Goolwa, and Goolwa Visual Arts Group.

Stage two commenced in early 2024 with a focus on attracting new leads and registrations of interest for both the commercial portion of the Wharf Shed and the Customs House site, resulting in a community lease with the Friends of the Oscar W and a commercial one with Imbiss on the Elbow.

The final elements of the precinct to be resolved include the Old Police Station on Goolwa Terrace, the Old Post Office on Cadell Street and Customs House, which will all rely on a service review following the establishment of a Service Review Framework, as well as three smaller buildings – the Railway Superintendents Cottage, The Chart Room and the Old Morgue – that would benefit from interim activation.

The Railway Superintendents Cottage is already occupied by Alex FM radio station and the Chart Room by Goolwa Visual Arts Group, but the Old Morgue has been vacant due to its lack of basic utilities such as a toilet, running water, windows, electricity, and no active connections, or public services or utilities.

Administration was approached by Hidden Curiosities during stage two, seeking to activate the Old Morgue as unique pop-up shop with an ever-changing theme, offering quirky, vintage and retro gifts in a setting of “mystery and curiosity”.

The business used the space as a weekend pop-up during the recent Wooden Boat Festival and received positive community feedback.

Administration proposed to offer a two-year lease term for all three businesses for the separate properties, which will provide time for the Service Review Framework to be resolved and the subsequent review to then be taken on Customs House, the Old Police Station and Old Post Office in December .

It will be then implemented across the precinct in 2026/27.

Last Monday night, consent was granted for Chief Executive Officer Andrew MacDonald to negotiate and enter into a lease with Radio Alexandrina Community Broadcasters (Alex FM) for continued occupancy from July 1 to June 30, 2027, at a rent of $721.68 per annum, with Goolwa Visual Arts Group for continued occupancy from July 1 to June 30, 2027, at a rent of $500 per annum, and with Hidden Curiosities for a lease from July 1 to June 30, 2027 at a rent of $1200 per annum.

“I am absolutely delighted that Alex FM have been given a lease longer than one month – they deserve it and I know they’ll be really thrilled about it,” South Ward councillor, Margaret Gardner, said.

“Also, the Goolwa Visual Arts Group have really enjoyed having the Chart Room.

“They’ve sold a lot of paintings and photographs, and they too are very happy to have that lease.

“As for Hidden Curiosities, my curiosity has been sparked.

“I am going to have to go find out about this place.”

An information drop-in session will be held at Signal Point Experience Centre today for the proposed Goolwa Wharf Code Amendment from 10.30am to 3.30pm.

People can have their say before 11.59pm on July 11 by visiting (<https://mysay.alexandrina.sa.gov.au/wharf-code-amendment>), emailing (alex@alexandrina.sa.gov.au), sending a written submission via mail to CEO, Alexandrina Council, PO BOX 21, Goolwa SA, 5124 or completing a hard copy at council’s offices.

As the 2000 Olympic Torch winds its way through Australia, many Australians will proudly carry the torch, transporting it on its way towards the 2000 Sydney Olympics. Among the many who will carry the 2000 Olympic Torch are Sally Michelmore of Strathalbyn and Brett Cleggett of Langhorne Creek. Brett at 40 years is a farmer growing beef, lucerne hay and grapes. He is captain of the Langhorne Creek CFS a group he has given 17 years service, nominated to carry the flag for his community service. Sally at the age of 19 will carry the torch, listed for her community values being awarded Australia Day Young Citizen of the Year by the Alexandrina Council in 1999.

At present it will be confined within Strathalbyn although it is hoped it will be extended to nearby towns at a later date. A steering committee was elected and operation will start as soon as possible. Lt. Col. # Strathalbyn couple reminisces on 70 years

By Giorgina McKay

It was love at first sight for Strathalbyn couple Judith and Roelf Vegter who celebrated 70 years of marriage in early June.

Judith was born in Mildura before moving to Merbein, while Roelf was born in the Netherlands and migrated to Australia by himself at just 18 years of age.

The pair met in Merbein in 1951 when 16-year-old Judith was working at the picture theatre and spotted 19-year-old Roelf standing under a palm tree.

All it took was one wink from Roelf for the couple's story to begin.

"I was working at the picture theatre and the butcher shop in Merbein, and one night I was out on the lolly counter and Roelf happened to be standing out under a palm tree, and he winked at me," Judith said.

"From then, I made sure to get to know him."

For the couple's first date they went on a moonlight hike organised by the pastor from the church, where they sat at a campfire talking with the group, while at the same time also getting to know each other.

"We were the last two coming home and the pastor said 'I thought you two would be the last coming home,'" Judith said.

"I said 'Well, I had to find out about Holland.'"

They had been dating for two years when Roelf popped 'the question'.

"He said 'will you cook for me?'" Judith explained.

"I said 'yeah, okay' and it was quite exciting."

The pair were married on June 11, 1955, in the Merbein Methodist Church.

They went on to have six kids together – Michael, Peter, Christopher, Helen, and twins Sharyn and Janet.

"That was a big surprise because I didn't know Roelf's father was one of a twin," Judith said.

"When I had the first baby they said 'you're going to have another one' and I said 'no I'm not'.

"When he came to the hospital, he bought this whopping big bunch of flowers and I just (told) him to look in one bassinet and then I said 'the other one too' and he goes 'what?' – he got a big shock.

"That's when I asked him if there was twins in the family and he said 'yeah, my dad's one of a twin.'"

The couple later moved to Strathalbyn.

They celebrated their 70th wedding anniversary on June 14 at the Lutheran Hall with family and friends, and even received congratulations from several dignitaries for the occasion, including King Charles and Camilla, Prime Minister Anthony Albanese, and SA Premier Peter Malinauskas.

The Vegters have shared a "happy, good life" together, of which they put down to growing together and their Christian background.

"You've got to have love for each other – that's the most important," Judith said.

"I think our Christian background too.

"I feel the Lord's been with us all the way.

"Sometimes it's been a battle, but good comes out of bad.

"I believe Roelf is a gentleman, and he looks after me and I look after him."

Among the pair's advice for other couples was never to let an argument stay overnight, and even if you experience problems, keep pushing onwards.

"Have love for another and make sure you stay that way," Roelf said.

"You try to be partners with each other and make a life.

"If you want a good life, you work for it."

SA's South East

“Pack up the shelter,” someone yells, as it threatens to take flight in the almighty torrential wind that ravages the campsite and causes chaos in its wake.

It’s pitch black and rain begins to fall. Tents cave in the wind.

Rubbish takes off, setting sail to far higher lands or nicer weather.

My family battens down the hatches, packing up anything that might fly away and throwing other items in the car before they are soaked.

While this sounds like the Griswold family in The National Lampoon films, you might be surprised to learn that camping in a storm has its perks.

What a great team building exercise to collectively overcome Mother Nature’s obstacles.

The unforgettable weekend will prove to be the punchline of many jokes for years to come.

Imagine how grateful you’d be returning to your creature comforts, especially my Dad, who I had to pry to get there.

Also, dancing in the rain was the best way to welcome the change of weather after the driest period on record.

However, if you’re looking for a holiday with more comfort, opt for a glamping tent for the entire weekend at Coonawarra Bush

Holiday Park, not just one night like us.

Glamping offers the best of both worlds – comfortable beds and electricity in a spacious bell tent, while also getting outdoors and under the stars.

Coonawarra Bush Holiday Park is like a little glamping tent village, which also has similar but more grand concave tents with large windows that light up in different colours at night.

You even get electric blankets, a kettle and tea and coffee, a power board and an esky.

When spared from the rain, firepits were surrounded by families, while some hired telescopes to stargaze.

A well-stocked kitchen made it easy to cook up dinners.

Located about four hours down the South East, Coonawarra is a popular region for bold red wine lovers so, of course, you can’t miss them on your way through.

Plenty of wineries are just a stone’s throw from each other, with many couples and friends walking a trail between them.

The booked-out Raidis Estate was a hit for us for its delicious pizzas and fun live music.

A 45-minute day trip was also taken to Mount Gambier.

While the wild weather slowly knocked my family members off one by one, a couple of us still completed the 3.6km walk around

Katie and Sophie Nash, Ty Nguyen, Mon, Tara and Wayne Nash at Mount Gambier’s Blue Lake.

Mount Gambier’s iconic Blue Lake.

The beautiful sunken garden of Umpherston Sinkhole was also an unmissable spot, which we ran to quickly between spurts of heavy rain.

On the journey home, stop by Waffles & Jaffles and Coonalpyn – a humble looking place that serves the most delicious, crispy waffles with decadent toppings. Naracoorte Caves National Park – South Australia’s only World Heritage site – is also worth a gander.

The caves have the most complete fossil record after acting as pitfall traps and owl roosting site for at least 500,000 years.

Mt Compass ranks high for roo crashes

“If you hit one, you need to stop and check to see if the kangaroo is okay... and call your wildlife rescue,” he said.

“I have seen kangaroos on the side of the road for up to a week, starving, can’t move, and digging themselves a hole because they’ve got broken legs.

“Quite often they need euthanising or need to be checked for a joey because there’s quite often one in the pouch at this time of year.”

He also encouraged drivers to take extra caution around dawn and dusk, and slow down and drive to conditions, especially around blind corners in rural areas.

Mr Biddle also recommended that drivers brake if they see one and never swerve.

Flourieu Road Safety Group President Michael Scott found the issue “very serious” and has advocated with Alexandrina Council to erect safety signs in common hotspots.

However, he still find drivers “howling” past.

“They’re very hard to see at night – they have wonderful camouflage and absorb our lights very well,” Mr Scott said.

“Often one could pass and you could miss that, but there’s another one following it that can sometimes cannon into the side of your car.

“And if you add speed, you add another dimension to the whole scenario where your whole car is getting out of control.”

Along the stretch of road where he lives, about four dead kangaroos are typically seen on the side of the road, and Mr Scott has counted 45 jumping around in a nearby paddock.

He guessed that a motorbike was recently roaring down the road at more than 160km/h.

RAA Senior Manager of Safety and Infrastructure Charles Mountain also urged drivers to be aware of the heightened risk of kangaroo crashes.

“There is a clear trend that kangaroo collisions are increasing across the state as more animals come towards busy roads in search of food,” he said.

“Kangaroos in particular are unpredictable creatures that can seemingly come out of nowhere and pose a significant safety risk.

“They can also do a lot of damage to your vehicle – from minor damage up to a complete write-off.

“If you’re driving in regional areas especially, make sure you’re alert to the possibility of animals near the road and drive to the conditions.

“Typically, we see the most crashes occurring in autumn and spring, but with the lack of rainfall in recent months, the numbers for other months have increased as well.”

If drivers happen to encounter a kangaroo on the road, brake safely and sound the horn if it’s safe to do so, but avoid swerving as that can cause a more serious crash, and put yourself and other road users at even greater risk.

Driver caught five times over alcohol limit

An Adelaide driver was caught five times over the legal alcohol limit at Encounter Bay last Tuesday.

At about 7.30pm on June 17, police stopped a vehicle on Mill Road for a mobile driver test, where the driver, a 37-year-old Adelaide man, recorded a blood alcohol reading of 0.252 – more than five times the legal limit.

He was reported for drink driving, issued a 12-month instant loss of licence, and had his vehicle impounded for 28 days.

The man will be summonsed to appear in court at a later date.

Car rolls at Mosquito Hill

By Giorgina McKay

One person sustained minor injuries after a car rolled at Mosquito Hill last Thursday.

Just before 3pm on June 19, police were called to Goolwa Road, near Twin Creek Road, for a single vehicle roll-over.

Two occupants were in the car, with one woman in her 50s taken to the local hospital with minor injuries.

The road was closed during the incident and reopened about an hour later.

Mount Barker teacher charged with offences

A Cornerstone College Mount Barker teacher has been arrested and charged for alleged child sex offences.

Principal Thomas Brennen wrote to parents last week confirming “with a heavy heart” that a member of the school’s teaching staff had been arrested and charged by police with unlawful sexual intercourse with a person in relation to a historical allegation.

No evidence at this stage suggests any currently enrolled students are involved.

“As you know, we take all allegations of this nature extremely seriously,” Mr Brennen wrote.

“In accordance with our procedures and duty of care, we reported the matter to the police immediately upon becoming aware of it and are providing them with our full assistance.”

The 49-year-old Adelaide Hills man was suspended from his duty pending the outcome of the police investigation and prosecution, and banned from attending the college.

He is expected to face Mount Barker Magistrates Court on July 3.

The school has also launched its own internal investigation, and is offering counselling to students and parents.

“I understand this matter may be unsettling and I want to acknowledge the impact it may have on our community,” the letter continued.

“As a Christ-centred community, may we draw upon our faith and unity to navigate this time with compassion, integrity and hope.”

Anyone with information that may assist the investigation is asked to contact 131 444.

Fatal crash at Meadows

A Mid-North man tragically died after crashing his vehicle into a tree at Meadows in the early hours of Sunday morning.

At about 2am, police and emergency services were called to Morris Road following reports a car had collided with a tree.

The Toyota ute driver, a 28-year-old Mid-North man, sustained life-threatening injuries and was taken to hospital for treatment, but sadly later died.

The driver’s death is the 38th life lost on South Australian roads this year.

The passenger, a 47-year-old Meadows man, was seriously injured and remains in hospital.

Morris Road was closed while Major Crash investigators examined the scene.

Young drivers become new face of SAPOL road safety campaign

A new campaign launched on Friday targeting young drivers highlights the life-changing consequences of committing road safety offences.

Last year 81 per cent of drivers who received immediate loss of licence penalties were young drivers aged between 16 and 24 years old.

This new campaign message ‘Lost your licence? Sucks to be you’ highlights the lifestyle regression young drivers face if they lose their licence.

Becoming a new driver should be a liberating time, but SA Police State Operations Service Assistant Commissioner Ian Parrott says it comes with serious responsibilities.

“If a young driver loses their licence, the excitement of driving themselves to work, sport and social events will go back to relying on parents and public transport again, and that sucks,” he said.

“In addition to losing personal freedoms, young drivers should be aware of the risks of causing a loss of life or serious injuries from unsafe driving.

“Sadly, fatal and serious injury crashes resulting from at-fault young drivers is overrepresented in South Australia.”

In 2024, young drivers found to be at-fault in crashes caused 11 deaths, making up 12 per cent of all lives lost on the roads, and 100 serious injuries.

Minister for Police Stephen Mullighan said this campaign will send a clear message to young male drivers in particular.

“Young men are overrepresented in serious and fatal crashes which is why this campaign is deliberately targeting that cohort of drivers,” he said.

“Getting your driver’s licence is an exciting time that gives young people more freedom but it also comes with enormous responsibility.

“Losing a driver’s license can have big impacts on a young person’s professional and personal life, so I strongly urge drivers to abide by the road rules and take care when driving.”

SAPOL to introduce new firearms registry system

A new firearms registry system is expected to enhance efficiency, security and accessibility while also improving the experience for owners, businesses and law enforcement.

South Australia Police (SAPOL) is introducing the South Australia Firearms Register (SAFR).

Its key benefits will include faster processing of digital applications, secure online payments, secure and centralised storage of all digital submissions, enhanced reporting and workload tracking for the firearms branch, and built-in validation.

“SAFR is shaping the future of firearms services in South Australia by delivering a new system,” Officer in Charge of the Firearms Branch, Superintendent Lauren Leverington, said.

“Together with our Commonwealth partners, SAPOL aims to elevate safety standards and improve service across the firearms community.”

Plans for SAFR include offering 24-hour online access for 15 digitised firearm services for dealers and licence holders, which will expediate application processing and reduce wait times.

Users will also benefit from improved visibility and tracking of their applications.

The system anticipated to be operational in mid-2026.

“SAPOL recognises the community’s

A new firearms registry system will be introduced by SAPOL by mid-2026.

frustration with the current application processing times,” Superintendent Leverington said.

“To address this in the short-term, additional staff have been employed to manage the workload more efficiently.”

Licensees who have registered their email address with SAPOL’s Firearms Branch will receive an email invitation to complete a survey.

For those who haven’t registered, a participation link is available on the SAFR page on SAPOL’s website.

“As we develop the new digital system, SAPOL is asking firearm licensees to provide us with feedback on their current user experience,” Superintendent Leverington said.

“We encourage all licensees to participate and share their insights to help us improve our services.”

Fleurieu Regional Aquatic Centre to be upgraded ahead of birthday

The Fleurieu Regional Aquatic Centre is about to embark on a milestone maintenance project to ensure the long-term future of the popular facility ahead of its eighth anniversary. After nearly a decade of continuous operation, the pools are due for an important 'health check' and upkeep to optimise operations and ensure the long-term viability of the assets.

Starting on June 30, Alexandrina Council and the City of Victor Harbor will stagger the closure of the three pools to replace the epoxy coatings and filter media, and inspections and maintenance will be done on the expansion joints.

Both councils and the YMCA are planning to start the maintenance project by closing the hydrotherapy pool, then the children's program pool, and finishing with the 25-metre lap swimming pool.

Work on each pool is expected to take four weeks to complete, barring any unforeseen issues, with the project expected to be completed by October.

Weather, humidity and the ability to dry out the pool areas being worked may affect the timing of works.

Throughout the rolling shutdown, the YMCA will relocate classes and programs to available pools where possible, ensuring minimal disruption to members and swimming lesson students.

Membership suspension options will be available during the works.

Late in 2025, once all the maintenance work is done, Alexandrina Council, the City of Victor Harbor and YMCA South Australia will host a reopening event to celebrate the completion of the project and the facility's eighth birthday.

The event will also highlight some planned purchases of new equipment for the centre, including new gym gear, and a mobile lifter to improve accessibility to all pools.

Calls for another season extension

By Giorgina McKay

A social success has seen a push for a further extension to the Strathalbyn Pool season.

Ahead of budget deliberations last year, Alexandrina Council heeded local swimmers' calls and agreed to trial a four-week extension to the 2024/25 swimming season to see if the demand was there for additional dates.

The pool season was extended for two weeks in October and in April, garnering more than 800 patrons in that period.

The budget allocated by councillors for the extension was $30,000, which was allegedly exceeded by approximately $500.

The Southern Argus understands positive feedback was received from regular morning lap swimmers throughout the extended period.

This prompted Lew McMaster, who was among those who originally led the calls for the extension, to request that council grant another extension next season.

"Strathalbyn is a growing, vibrant community with a strong contingent of young families and retired seniors, and the pool benefits both those sectors and in-between," he said during a deputation at last Monday night's meeting.

"The four-week extension led to a fresh appreciation of the benefits and privilege we have of that pool and the recreation it offers the community.

"We would argue and request council's investment in the pool service to continue because of the social wellbeing benefits it generates and respectfully request council's budget for next financial year be modified to accommodate a further four-week extension to the season to verify results to date."

Mr McMaster, who is a regular lap swimmer himself, claimed the extended season had enabled relationships to be formed between attendees and provided health benefits for some of the town's older residents.

"Medical science experts all concur (pools) have a good benefit, particularly for the senior folk," he said.

"It's a low impact form of exercise that seems to service most of the muscles in the body and the benefits are significant – I've certainly appreciated them.

"One of the outcomes of the four-week extension to season was the emergence of a social critical mass... where you get the right combination of ingredients and you suddenly you get this massive energy release.

"We saw this generate some initiatives I haven't seen before – I've been swimming for 10 years down there – (such as) there was significant upgrade in cohesion and mutual support among the swimmers.

"Some of the positive outcomes (include) caring and nurturing in relationships... that was really comforting, and some folk who are in their senior years often experience loneliness but we're now going out as a group to dinner regularly, supporting one another with birthdays and celebrations, and even the sadder events with bereavement."

Council is expected to deliberate and adopt the 2025/26 Annual Community Plan on July 7.

It is unknown whether a budget for a further extension will be included in it until then.

South Australia leads the way on World Milk Day 1 June 2025

As a proud former dairy farmer and current Member for Finnis, I was honoured to move a motion in the South Australian Parliament last week recognising World Milk Day and celebrating the incredible contribution our dairy industry makes — not just here in the Fleurieu, but right across South Australia and beyond.

Dairy is Australia's third largest rural industry. It produces over 8.3 billion litres of milk each year, contributing around $6.2 billion to our economy.

There are just under 4,000 dairy farmers across the nation, with more than 31,000 people employed across the sector — from the paddock to the processing plant.

Here in South Australia, we punch well above our weight. Our cows produce more milk per head than any other state — increasing from just under 3,200 litres per cow per year a few decades ago to nearly 7,400 litres annually today. That's a testament to the hard work and innovation of our local farmers and the smart use of technology.

One of the most exciting advances we're seeing is the adoption of robotics in dairy. I recently had the privilege of opening a new robotic dairy in Mount Compass, run by the Jacobs and Hicks families — a fantastic example of how local farms are embracing the future.

Robotic dairies are improving productivity, animal welfare and farmer wellbeing, and they show how our region is leading the nation in innovation.

But dairy is not just about farming — it's about health, too. Australians consume an average of 88 litres of milk each year, along with 12.5 kilograms of cheese, 10 kilograms of yoghurt and 3.4 kilograms of butter.

Dairy is a key part of our diet, helping manage osteoporosis and supporting bone health with essential calcium.

Unfortunately, this year's World Milk Day comes at a time of great challenge for our farmers. We're in the grip of a tough drought. I remember well the struggles of the millennium drought — milking 450 cows while feeding entirely with bought-in grain and hay. The situation now is worse, and many are again buying feed just to keep going.

That's why the support of community and organisations like Need for Feed matters so much. I recently joined local farmers at a dinner in Victor Harbor where we acknowledged the delivery of 16 semi-trailer loads of donated hay to the Fleurieu Peninsula. It was a powerful reminder that when times are tough, our communities rally together.

I also want to acknowledge the South Australian Dairyfarmers' Association — a strong voice for our sector over many decades. I pay tribute to past and present leaders including Aub Kretschmer, Alan Manning, Frank Beauchamp, Jeff Wright, John Hunt, and now Robert Brokenshire, as well as long-serving CEOs like David Higbed, Adrian Scott, Ken Lyons and Andrew Curtis. Their contribution has helped shape a resilient and future-focused dairy industry in our state.

Importantly, I thank Adrian Pederick MP for working with me. Together we convinced the Treasurer Stephen Mullighan to respond to the urgent challenges our farmers face, with a $3 million grant program to support the 42 South Australian dairy farmers affected by the collapse of a major processor. This funding will help them weather the storm and plan for the future.

As we mark World Milk Day, I want to say this: to every dairy farmer, every farm worker, every processor and every person who contributes to this industry — thank you. Your hard work sustains our communities, feeds our families, and underpins our economy.

You make
South Australia
proud.

Schools in Brief

Eastern Fleurieu R-12 School

During the recent student free day, Eastern Fleurieu School staff participated in professional development training that began with a moving Welcome to Country performed by David and Kyle Booth. This powerful presentation deeply engaged staff across R-12, who expressed gratitude for the firsthand stories and experiences shared, enriching their understanding of cultural perspectives.

Goolwa Primary School

Earlier this year, Goolwa Primary School was awarded a Variety SA grant to support students’ literacy development across all year levels. In years 3 to 6, the grant allowed the school to purchase class sets of novels that expose students to a range of ideas and perspectives. In reception to year 2, each classroom received a set of vocabulary-rich storybooks, as well as class sets of decodable readers aligned to our phonics program. The school also used part of the grant to train several staff members to deliver a specialised oral language program for identified reception students.

Tyndale Christian School

Tyndale Christian School Foundation students had a fantastic time celebrating 100 days of school in week seven. It was an exciting day as students dressed up as 100 year olds, explored the number 100 through hands-on activities, and enjoyed a special class party.

Meadows Primary School

Meadows Primary School’s year 5/6 netball team headed to Happy Valley recently to compete against other schools. The team played three games, showing great teamwork, determination, and sportsmanship throughout. With plenty of energy and enthusiasm, they came away with two impressive wins and continued to improve with each match.

Letters to the Editor

Supporting Australia’s dairy farmers

I know it’s been a difficult period for so many of Australia’s proud dairy farmers. Australia’s weather extremes – flooding rain to the north and bone-dry conditions in the south – have made it an incredibly hard time to be on the land. We’ve heard from Dairy Australia that almost 44 per cent of Australian dairy farms are currently affected by drought or significantly dry conditions, accounting for just over 44 per cent of Australia’s total milk production. That’s why I’ve made meetings with farmers impacted by these conditions a priority, and why we’ve prioritised important support for the people Australia relies on. Most recently, I was in South Australia with the Prime Minister to hear directly from farmers facing drought in that state. Sadly, we know drought is a case of when, not if, and Australia’s changing climate is likely to mean more frequent, longer lasting, and intense droughts in many regions. Our $1 billion rural support and drought resilience programs have helped farmers to prepare, adapt and respond to drought and other hardships. Programs like the Rural Financial Counselling Service and Farm Household Allowance can be the first port of call for dairy farmers who are impacted by drought and flood. Rural Financial Counsellors live in regional areas, so they know what their clients are dealing with. I know how important this service is to farmers which is why our government has announced further investments in it, most recently by the Prime Minister in SA. This financial year, 415 dairy farmers have already been assisted by the Rural Financial Counselling Service across the country. Farmers can access concessional loans through the Regional Investment Corporation or if relevant their Farm Management Deposits. It’s important we play our part in government to make sure Australia’s dairy farmers can get on with the job of farming. That’s why we are undertaking a review of the Dairy Code of Conduct to identify whether updates are needed and ensure the code is operating as intended and remains fit-for-purpose. We will also keep investing in the future of agriculture and regional communities. Looking forward, we’ve committed $3.5 million to develop a National Food Security Strategy: Feeding Australia. Our dairy industry will be an important part of the development of this strategy because we know the industry is a key part of Australia’s food future. I know it’s been a tough period for so many dairy farmers, but our government will keep backing this proud industry to succeed – now and into the future, in good times and through the challenges.

PCFA helping men live with continence issues

Dear Editor, on Thursday, June 19. during World Continence Week, Prostate Cancer Foundation of Australia (PCFA) hosted a Continence Call-In Day for men impacted by prostate cancer. Men and their partners who have questions or concerns about incontinence after prostate cancer treatment were encouraged to call us for support. We had expert nurses on-hand from 9am to 5pm AEST, answering questions about surgical and non-surgical treatment options and avenues for support. For more information and to find a local support group, call 1800 22 00 99 or go to (www.prostate.org.au).

Bernard Riley, Head of Telenursing and Supportive Care Programs, PCFA

Coming together

Dear Editor, I am constantly amazed by the ability of Australians to come together when it matters most. We have seen it countless times in our history as a nation during times of national crisis, natural disaster, financial unrest and so much more. Indeed, we have seen it once again through our Red Shield Appeal this year. While there is still a long way to go, we have been blown away by the generosity of Australians to our Appeal so far. Editor, to all your readers who have supported the Red Shield Appeal, on behalf of The Salvation Army and all those we support every day, we want to offer an enormous thank you. We know times are tough for so many right now, which makes the generosity we have seen so much more powerful. We can’t do our work without your support, so again, thank you. The Salvation Army are still calling on Aussies to dig deep for our Red Shield Appeal, which aims to raise $38 million by June 30. We trust that Aussies will once again be generous to the Red Shield Appeal this month, and this isn’t a blind trust. It is founded on the fact that we have seen it many times before, and we believe we will see it again. To make a tax-deductible donation to The Salvation Army’s Red Shield Appeal, please visit (salvationarmy.org.au) or call 13 SALVOS.

Our View

Fairytale dreams

Most people would like to believe they’ll spend their whole lives with their life partners, but I doubt that many of them actually do, whether it be because of sickness, death, divorce or something else entirely – love seems to be on the downtrend nowadays. That’s why its remarkable that Strathalbyn couple Judith and Roelf Vegter have defied the odds and hit the platinum – 70 years of marriage together. Judith was born in Mildura before moving to Merbein, while Roelf was born in the Netherlands and migrated to Australia by himself at just 18 years of age. The pair met in Merbein in 1951 when 16-year-old Judith was working at the picture theatre and spotted 19-year-old Roelf standing under a palm tree. It was apparently love at first sight for them both – something you only read about in fairytales – and they have been affected by cupid’s arrow ever since. The couple went on to have six children together – including twins – and later moved to Strathalbyn, which is why they celebrated this momentous occasion on June 14 – three days after their anniversary. As a single person, it’s hard to imagine spending that many years together with one person. It fills me with intense jealousy. Could you imagine if everyone found love by simply winking at someone they found attractive like Roelf did? The dating apps would be out of business faster than you could swipe left. The Vegters’ advice for other couples and love-seekers alike is to never to let an argument stay overnight, and even if you experience problems, keep pushing onwards. It’s sound advice and one that many people would have heard from their own family members and peers at some point. Well, here’s hoping I can put that advice to good use one day. Congratulations Judith and Roelf on your 70-year anniversary.

By Tara Nash

More than 100 people attended a long-running Biggest Morning Tea at Strathalbyn last week, which raised $3110 for Cancer Council SA.

The event was run by Strathalbyn Pink Plus Cancer Support Group, which marked the first year for the new organisers in the event's 24 years, previously organised by Gwenda Knights and the Uniting Church Adult Fellowship members.

Strathalbyn Pink Plus Cancer Support Group meets monthly from February to December and welcomes other women to join.

Leslie Brewer – who was the emcee of the event – thanked members Lynette Bartlett, Chris Watson and Sue Proud for organising the meetings, lunches, guest speakers and outings during her speech.

“To anyone that’s entering this terrible disease, or is in the middle of treatment or has conquered it, if you’d like, come to the group anytime,” she said.

“Even if you just want to come for a coffee, a piece of cake, and talk about anything you wish.

“You may be reacquainted with people you haven’t seen for a long time or meet some lovely new ladies.”

Meanwhile, Ms Bartlett thanked everyone who attended the event and donated.

“What a wonderful, generous community we have,” she said.

Fishmongers prepare to 'swim on' to new adventures

Strathalbyn Seafoods' Craig Murton and Tami Alexander are waving their 'fins' goodbye and shutting up shop next week after more than two decades of business in town.

The pair started selling out of a van one day a week at the saleyards before moving into their Dawson Street premises in 2009, where they have built a successful business.

But after 23 years of selling fish in Strathalbyn, they have decided to semi-retire to focus on health and family.

The business will officially close at the end of the month.

"From humble beginnings in the 'fish van' to the shop now, Strathalbyn and surrounds have looked after us tremendously," the pair said.

"The support we received over the years was outstanding.

"We are both very proud of our little shop, we have made many valued friendships, and we will always be extremely grateful for all of this.

"This has been the hardest decision ever for us to make –harder than the decision to open in the first place – but it is time."

Mr Murton and Ms Alexander were grateful for the community's support.

Garden Club enters the stone age

The Strathalbyn Garden Club had a return visit from Bruce Munday at its May meeting, who showed some wonderful pictures of dry stone structures throughout South Australia, together with some quirky and interesting stories about them.

It was a cold morning so attendance was down slightly, but nonetheless, both the trading and raffle tables were overflowing.

It had warmed up by the time members had their coffee break so many took advantage of the sunshine outside.

The club was saddened to learn of the passing of Life Member Janet Jones, whose presence at meetings will be sorely missed.

Condolences were extended to Don and the family.

The club's next meeting is on the fourth Friday which is June 27 at 9.30am for a 10am start at the Strath Neighbourhood Centre.

As always, visitors and new members will be warmly welcomed.

The club will be starting with its Annual General Meeting (AGM).

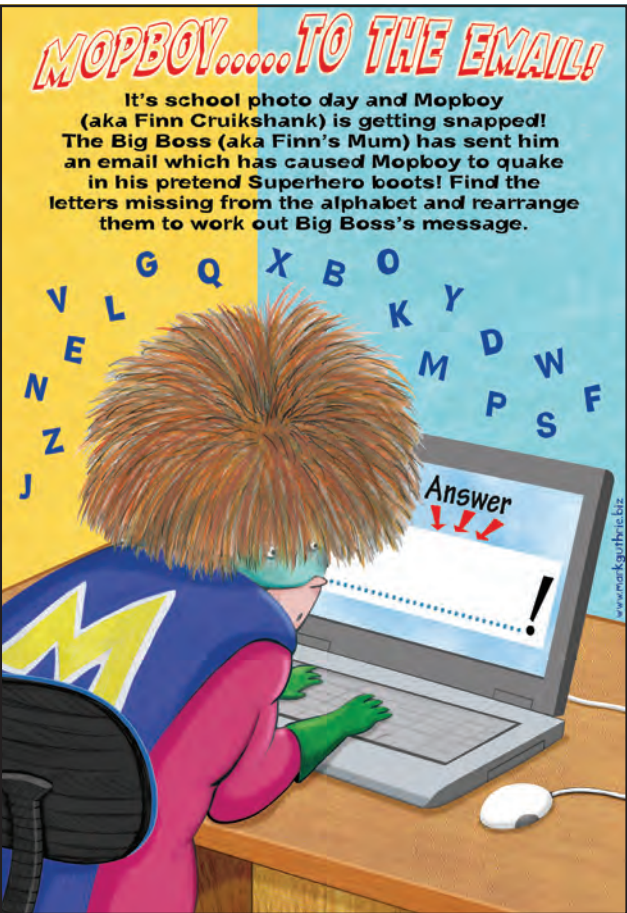

Guest speaker this month will be retired local veterinarian Andy Doube, who will be telling members about the time he has spent in Antarctica – no doubt a somewhat different experience to looking after the local cows and sheep.

Pantry Club able to keep things ‘chill’ with RAA grassroots grant

By Georgina McKay

A local community pantry has been awarded a grant that has enabled them to purchase their own refrigerator to store perishable items along with essential equipment to reduce volunteers’ workload. Twenty-two local community groups and not-for-profits received grants of up to $5000 under the latest round of RAA’s Grassroots Giving initiative for projects that “make a real difference in South Australia”.

Among the recipients is the Macclesfield Community Pantry, which is a weekly food pantry that operates out of the Macclesfield Institute every Monday from 10am to 12-noon.

The group received a $5000 grant to primarily purchase a refrigerator to keep items picked up on the weekend as fresh as possible before they’re handed out on Mondays.

“We applied initially for a significant amount less than the $5000 because the grants have to be spent on things other than running costs,” Macclesfield Community Food Pantry Co-ordinator, Hannah Jewell, explained.

“So, we asked for $2700 roughly to purchase a commercial refrigerator which would enable us to put the food we collect Saturday and Sunday mornings from Coles Mount Barker via SecondBite into refrigeration prior to Monday’s pantry.

“Some things deteriorate a lot more quickly... so, particularly over the last two years when we have been open in summer-time, we’ve been trying to keep food as fresh as possible until Monday either through putting it in a small back fridge we’ve got in a shed in the rear of the Institute or using the fridge in the main hall.

“But the hall gets used by many different user groups, and depending when the hall is hired out or used for the market, we then need to take out all of our refrigerated things from the fridge and freezer to enable them to be used, so it was important to us to have our own space both from the point of view of not disrupting the use of the hall and other areas, reducing the workload on our volunteers if we have to move food, and most importantly, to keep the food as fresh as possible until Monday.”

The rest of the money will then be used to purchase a printer and laminator, and for a garden cart to transport goods from the shed to the hall.

“We asked for funding to get a printer and laminator because we commonly need to print out documents, signs and information for people in terms of other support services, and being able to print with a printer that doesn’t belong to a volunteer and using up their own ink etcetera... it would reduce the burden on the volunteers,” Ms Jewell said.

“When RAA called us to let us know we had been successful with our grant, they actually said to us ‘this is exactly the sort of project or community organisation (they) were trying to support with these sorts of grants’ and as such, they were providing us the full $5000 even if we hadn’t asked for it.

“We’re investing in some other equipment, for example, a garden cart we can put the boxes of fruit and vegetables into to transport them from the back shed into the hall on a Monday morning.

“We’re also getting stationary supplies, document holders, and flyer stands to hold the flyers we have there from the Mount Barker Community Centre as a display of information for people who need support to any number of areas, and also to purchase things like cling wrap, biodegradable bags, paper bags for mushrooms, and all those sorts of consumables we regularly use.

“We also have hand soap and dish washing liquid we’ve been given by someone in the community which people can fill up (in) their containers, but a lot of people don’t remember to bring containers with them, so we’re going to purchase some pump packs and squeeze bottles that we can fill to be able to give it away more effectively.”

The Rotary Club of Murray Bridge was also one of the successful recipients.

RAA General Manager of Community and Corporate Affairs Emily Perry said the Grassroots Giving program was a key part of RAA’s purpose to be better for members and the community.

“These projects support everything from community safety, environmental sustainability, reconciliation activities and more,” she said.

“Since launching in 2019, Grassroots Giving has contributed more than $450,000 in grants to more than 90 organisations doing crucial and impactful work in the community.

“As South Australia’s largest member-based organisation – with over 830,000 members – we are committed to improving the lives of all South Australians.

“Our Grassroots Giving program embodies RAA’s dedication to making a real difference.”

Why do we pay stamp duty?

This is a common question that people ask.

When you purchase a property in South Australia, one of the most significant costs you’ll have to pay is stamp duty.

Buyers often ask: What is stamp duty? Why do we have to pay it? And where does the money go?

What is stamp duty?

Stamp duty is an essential part of the process that needs to be planned for when you are considering purchasing property.

It’s not a fee charged by your Conveyancer or by your bank – it’s a State Government tax on the transfer of property ownership.

Stamp duty is calculated on the value of the property being purchased or transferred.

The higher the value of the property, the higher the stamp duty payable.

Stamp duty applies to most real estate transactions, including houses, primary production land, vacant land, and Strata/Community Units.

Why do we pay it?

Stamp duty contributes to state revenue.

The money it generates is used to fund essential services like roads, schools, education, and healthcare.

Historically, stamp duty was paid when stamping transfers of property documents to make them legal.

It was paid when the stamp was fixed onto the document.

Today, stamp duty is calculated and paid electronically at settlement, but the name has been kept.

When is it paid?

Stamp duty must be paid at settlement.

One of the jobs that your Conveyancer does is to ensure all calculations are accurate and lodge the documentation with Revenue SA.

If you are financing your purchase with a lender, they usually add the stamp duty into your loan application to make sure you have the funds needed to cover this.

It doesn’t matter if you purchase a property or if it is gifted to you, you will need to pay stamp duty when the property is transferred into your name.

However, if you acquire property in a will, or under the Rules of Intestacy, stamp duty doesn’t apply.

Are there any exemptions, concessions or surcharges?

Yes.

Eligible first homebuyers purchasing a new home or vacant land for building may qualify for stamp duty relief.

It’s worth discussing whether you are eligible for an exemption early in the property buying process to make sure you’re not missing out on any financial assistance.

At Strathalbyn Conveyancing, we help clients navigate this complicated area and determine if they are eligible.

Foreign surcharge

Foreign purchasers (non-residents) may need to pay a foreign ownership surcharge if they acquire an interest in residential land after January 1, 2018.

The surcharge is in addition to stamp duty, and is seven per cent of the value of the interest obtained.

More information on concession, exemptions and surcharges can be found on the Revenue SA website at (revenuesa.sa.gov.au).

Why is it important to get advice?

After your deposit, stamp duty is often the largest upfront cost you will incur, so making sure you include it in your budget is vital.

Along with stamp duty, you need to make sure that you have the funds available for Land Services SA transfer registration fees.

This is a cost that is quite often forgotten when budgeting to buy property.

At Strathalbyn Conveyancing, we take pride in offering clear, practical advice tailored to your situation.

Whether you’re buying your first home, upgrading or investing, we make the conveyancing process smooth and stress-free, explaining costs like stamp duty and transfer registration fees so there are no surprises at settlement.

A case study in inheritance

When his dad passed away, Brian inherited one-third of his father’s assets, including part of the old family home which is now left vacant, and he recognised that dealing with his inheritance might present challenges.

Brian had seen first-hand what not to do.

It had certainly all gone wrong in his wife’s family.

The disruption and disputes ran for years.

Fortunately, Brian’s two brothers readily agreed to seek financial advice with him and they managed the financial details of their inheritance together.

During their first financial advice appointment, they focused on the big issue – what to do with the assets their father left them – and a plan was determined to suit each of them.

How financial advice helped

“Our eldest brother Jim needed cash and decided to move on, so we arranged two valuations and went from there” Brian said.

“Frank and I wanted to hold onto some things like Dad’s vintage cars, so we agreed to pay Jim his share.

“Frank thought this made good financial sense as he feels the cars will go up in value over time, and for me, it was also about hanging on to something that reminds me of dad.”

After they paid Jim his share of the assets, Brian and Frank worked with the financial adviser to create a plan that involved keeping some things and selling others.

The brothers also received advice from an accountant who worked with their financial adviser.

They understood that if the family home was sold later rather than sooner, the sale proceeds would be subject to capital gains tax.

“We’d gone over it all a few times and decided we didn’t want complications and we wanted to work towards moving on gradually,” Brian said.

“In the end we just split the costs, kept some important things, and shared the proceeds of what was sold.

“I just think we’ve been lucky.”

Counting your blessings

While an inheritance can sound appealing in theory, when it actually happens to you and it’s the result of the loss of someone close, the emotions around that loss can make dealing with the event particularly challenging.

With this gift comes the responsibility of managing your inheritance wisely.

You’ll have a lot of decisions to make.

These choices may include whether to use the money to boost your superannuation, pay off your mortgage, support educational expenses for relatives or donate to meaningful causes in memory of the person who left you this gift.

How do you navigate these priorities and possibilities?

Making the best decisions

This is an opportunity to identify both your personal and family goals, and weigh up the options the inheritance provides – short-term and long-term.

We can help you identify your choices, manage any risks, and set smart goals.

The tax situation can be a little complicated with the sale of inherited property and shares.

If necessary, we’ll work with your accountant or put you in touch with one.

You may also need assistance from a lawyer or real estate professional.

Getting expert help

We can provide you with the support you need to make the most of your opportunity.

Together, we can work through these complex issues to help you make the most of your bequest.

Tanks & Irrigation

The ‘perfect storm’ during the drought

By Tara Nash

Rainwater tank suppliers have been experiencing the “perfect storm” during recent times – an “overwhelming” demand during the drought coupled with the regular strong uptake of tanks at the beginning of winter.

The need meant some customers were waiting up to eight weeks for tanks, as manufacturers wait times extended as the drought continued.

“We have had to explain to customers that things are going to take a bit longer this year as our tank partners get back to a normal level of production,” Strathalbyn Mitre 10 Managing Director, Brad Fuss, said.

“There was a massive uplift of tank sales in Meadows and other areas where there was no SA Water connection.”

During water shortages, some of these customers increased their current supply by buying more tanks and having water shipped to their property.

“There were lots of retrospective increases in wait times because of the overwhelming number of orders that happened in this perfect storm,” Mr Fuss said.

Strathalbyn Mitre 10 “champions” rain water harvesting, with Mr Fuss having a particular interest in it for two decades.

The shop offers a large range of rainwater tanks which will ship to most corners of the state and parts of Victoria.

Mr Fuss, who has worked in and owned Mitre 10 stores since 1999 said this summer’s drought saw very different consumer sentiment than the millennium drought which happened through most of the 2000s.

“The Desalination Plant which opened in 2013 has really changed how we feel about and use water,” Mr Fuss said.

“I remember our customers in the mid-2000s when water restrictions were in place could only water their gardens on certain days of the week, or whether they had an even or odd-numbered letter box.

“We had customers showering with buckets and then emptying those buckets into the garden.

“At one point we mothballed our garden centre as plant sales completely stopped because you could not establish a garden.

“Fast forward to an era of better water security, gardens have remained in tact but people still want their own storage and to control their own usage.”

Demand for water tanks is now returning to business as usual.

“We really appreciated (and respected) our farming and agricultural customers... letting us know that they wouldn’t be purchasing for a while until it rained and everyone felt a bit more comfortable about the immediate future,” Mr Fuss said.

“We wish all the landholders, farmers, and growers a speedy recovery back to normal.

“Let’s hope we get a whole more lot of rain.” Meanwhile, gardeners are also customers of water tanks and irrigation systems, with many preferring to use rainwater on their pride-and-joys.

“Inside the town, there are some wonderful gardens – and people are proud of them,” Mr Fuss said.

“Gardening is the fun part of our business because everyone can have a crack at it.”

Club’s top-knot sailors and members celebrated

By Tara Nash

Goolwa Regatta Yacht Club recently celebrated its champion sailors as well as volunteers who have contributed to the club’s success during a presentation night.

Volunteer of the Year was awarded to Lyn Mateer who has been helping the club on and off for about 30 years.

Initially joining with a cruise boat, Mateer now volunteers in the kitchen and supports functions such as Sailability or the March Classic, and has made many long-term friends through the club.

“I was a bit surprised and embarrassed (about the award),” she said.

“I (am) very honoured the club would think that I was worthy of something like that.”

Other volunteers recognised for their efforts were Ian Barker and Louise Edwards, who were both awarded Life Membership.

Hawks have a narrow win over the Bulldogs

After a first-round 57-point drubbing from the Bulldogs, the tables were turned in the second-round rematch, with the Hawks winning by 10 points.

The game was played under ideal conditions on Saturday, with the sun shining and a light northerly breeze that did not favour either end of the ground.

A good-sized crowd was in attendance.

Mount Compass began the match kicking to the southern end.

At the first ball-up, it was Cates for the Hawks battling against the Bulldogs' Schulz in ruck.

The Hawks were quick off the mark, with T Follett booting a goal in the first minute.

A sharp pass from M Cleggett to Stirling saw the Hawks goaling again shortly afterwards.

However, it was not long before the visitors found their mojo, with Endersby kicking a goal on the run.

Mount Compass also bagged the next, with Zimmermann kicking straight for the Bulldogs' second for the term.

Both teams' defences were being tested as the Hawks put on another three goals, with Pudney and Pinyon gathering two more majors for the visitors.

A good battle was occurring between the Hawks' Derham at full back and the Bulldogs' full forward, Pinyon.

The game was fast and free-flowing, with the Hawks holding a narrow four-point lead at the first break.

Quarter two had the Hawks on the board in the first minute, with M Cleggett nailing his first for the day.

Once again, the visitors responded, with a goal to Boots.

The Hawks started to gain some ascendancy in the midfield, with H Bruce gaining plenty of the ball.

Nash, for Mount Compass, was also busy, along with Vitkunas.

The Hawks started to play with more authority, whereas the Bulldogs let themselves down with poor discipline, which saw two of their players yellow-carded.

A strong mark in the square allowed Zimmermann to score the second and final goal for the term for Mount Compass.

However, the Hawks pushed on with further six-pointers to L Bates, H Bruce and Kellock.

At the long break, the home side had extended their lead to 15 points.

The second half began with the Hawks getting on the board early, kicking truly for the first two goals through J Hall and M Cleggett.

The visitors let themselves down by giving away frees through ill-disciplined play.

The quarter became more defensive, with increased congestion and boundary throw-ins.

The Bulldogs booted two goals for the term through Nash and Pinyon.

Both sides had opportunities to kick bigger tallies, but a combination of poor kicking and strong defence led to a number of behinds.

Both back lines worked well, with Derham and Murgatroyd doing much of the repelling for the Hawks, while McKenzie held the back six together for the Bulldogs.

By the final break, the Hawks led by 17 points.

The last term was an entertaining one, with the Bulldogs giving their all to secure a win.

The visitors had the first two goals for the quarter, with Simons and Endersby kicking majors.

The crowd could sense the Bulldogs clawing their way back and threatening to steal victory.

A steady goal to H Bruce gave the home side some breathing space in a very tight final stanza.

A mark to Pinyon for Mount Compass could have put them in a strong position, but he somehow missed from only metres out.

He managed another mark and goal shortly afterwards, bringing the visitors within four points late in the quarter.

A late goal to Dalitz before the siren allowed the Hawks to come away with a 10-point victory in what had been an exciting game of country football.

Best for the Hawks were H Bruce in the midfield, M Cleggett who marked strongly up forward, and the ever-reliable Derham in defence.

Mount Compass had good contributors in Simons through the midfield, Schulz in ruck, and Zimmermann, who had plenty of touches up forward.

Langhorne Creek vs Mt Compass

Tigers miss by a point

By Perry Jones

The Roosters celebrated their first win for the season on Saturday when, after a close battle all match at Yankalilla, the Tigers - with the last kick of the day - saw the ball go behind as the siren sounded.

The Roosters, despite a couple of late withdrawals, came out with the same aggression they displayed the previous match to have more of the play in their zone than the Tigers, who were kicking to the golf course end.

Welk led the way in ruck for the Roosters, which he dominated for most of the time.

Although Tigers' Field and Ryan had their moments, the Tigers had problems early stopping the Roosters taking the ball away via Fergusson, Newton and Kenny.

Wright and Gladigau also delivered the ball forward to test the Tigers' defence, led by Whittlesea, Jack Fitzgerald and Karlson Kantilla.

The Tigers did have the first scores on the board, with a behind to Tyllis and Kim Kantilla, but they found it difficult to get past Roosters' Pegler, who was marking everything, backed up by rebound work from Hopkins and Duffield.

At last, the Roosters' short passing was hitting targets, while the Tigers did not seem to have much forward structure and fumbled the ball under pressure, running into dead ends and wasting attacking efforts by Kim Kantilla, Parsons and Chay.

After a miss by Gilbert, it was Roosters' Newton who brought up the first goal of the match after some time had elapsed, snaring a tap out by Wheaton.

Then the Roosters were in for another goal as Keatley swooped on the crumbs.

The Tigers, who lost Duke after a collision with Pegler, were able to score the last goal of the term when Chay trapped the Roosters holding the ball - the visitors leading by a straight kick at the first-term siren.

The Roosters started the second term in control as the Tigers still found it hard to win the ball from the stoppages and kept changing their minds under pressure.

The Roosters were still going in hard for the ball through Wright, Kenny, Cutting and Newton, while Fergusson was reading the taps well to deliver the ball forward, where Wheaton, with his body strength, was marking strongly.

The Tigers tried to halt the opposition attacks through Crawford, Thompson, Ker and Kay.

It was Hutchinson picking up a free in the goal square that saw the Roosters with the first goal on the board, and then Wheaton, paid a dubious mark, converted for the next.

He was back in the picture after taking a strong mark from a Newton delivery to kick another full pointer.

Not to be denied, the Tigers then got their act together thanks to the efforts of Jesse Fitzgerald, Tyllis, Parsons and Karlson Kantilla, putting pressure on the Roosters' defence.

Weckert, Pegler and Wright dropped back trying to contain the damage.

It was Tyllis gathering a loose ball that saw the Tigers gain their first goal of the term, followed by another from Tyllis after Roosters' Newton gave away a 25-metre penalty.

The Tigers were right back in the game when a kick off the ground by Puautjimi went through the big sticks.

The Roosters, not to be outdone, then saw a long kick by Stafford go over the pack and roll through for a goal, before pace from Kim Kantilla delivered the ball to Chay to convert for the Tigers.

The Roosters held a slender lead of four points at half-time.

In the third term, structure returned to the Tigers' game, with Chay, Kim Kantilla, Brad Fitzgerald and Ryan putting in the effort.

They had the first goal on the board when Parsons, running into trouble while trying to play on, got his kick away to find Ker for the conversion.

Pegler, Wright, Welk and Duffield tried to keep a lid on the Tigers' attacks but they added another goal when Athanasos, delivering the ball forward with a mongrel kick, found Tyllis running onto it to gather and goal.

Just as it looked like the Tigers were going to get away from the Roosters, they lifted through Newton, Scott and Gilbert, who scored two of their three early behinds, before Stafford was able to shuffle the ball out for Keatley to pick up and kick their only goal for the term.

Then came three more behinds against strong Tigers' defence by Whittlesea, Jack Fitzgerald and Parsons, while the Tigers gained two behinds through Tyllis and Kay, the latter hitting the bottom of the post.

The Roosters were up by one point at the last change.

The Tigers struck first in the final term, levelling the scores with a behind, then going a goal clear as Jesse Fitzgerald managed to get the handball to Tyllis for the conversion.

Then came the Roosters' response, as Welk and O'Driscoll continued their solid efforts in ruck, while Fergusson, Wright, Newton and Kenny worked the ball forward to get past rebound work from Tigers' Kay, Ker and Thompson.

Gladigau found Wheaton, who pulled in a mark and goaled for the Roosters, and then Newton got the handball to Gladigau for him to dribble the ball through the goals.

This was followed by Gilbert getting the handball to Fergusson, who found Hopkins running into an open goal to raise the two white flags.

Just as the Roosters looked on the way to their first victory for the season, the Tigers had other ideas and started to take back control.

Chay, Brad Fitzgerald, Kim Kantilla and Parsons led the way, with good scouting by Thompson resulting in a goal to narrow the deficit.

The Roosters' defence had to dig deep through Weckert, Duffield, Scott and Pegler, with all the play in the Tigers' attacking zone for the rest of the term.

The Tigers, however, could only manage a couple of behinds before they looked a chance to goal when Parsons took a big mark from a Kay kick forward - but he was off target, leaving the Tigers still three points down.

Then the margin was reduced to two points when Kay, after taking plenty of time trying to get the goal to put them in front, could only register another behind.

The Tigers had one final chance to hit the lead when Ker, also taking his time with a set shot, saw his kick - just as the siren sounded - also go through for a behind, leaving the Roosters still one point clear at the end of the match.

9&U
DRAW

Despite a sunny start to the second half of the season, Myponga was missing players due to illness.

Ellie Rumball and Alayna Pratt worked hard through the midcourt, feeding Aysha Hutchinson and Sienna Davidson in goals.

McLaren Vale brought on impactful interchanges and led by three-quarter time.

Myponga's defenders Mackenzie Rumball and Stephanie Smith produced excellent deflections, holding Vale to just two goals in the final quarter.

All players showed great improvement since Round 1.

Thanks to all umpires and volunteers.

11&U (2)

Myponga 6 def McLaren Vale 3

Goals were hard to come by early, with Myponga leading by one at quarter-time.

Chloe Chapman shot well, while Olivia Glidden was strong in defence.

A few changes in the final quarter brought some mistakes in the warm weather, but Myponga held on for a three-goal win.

The team has shown clear improvement since the previous match against McLaren Vale.

Well done girls, and thanks to Nic and Bron for umpiring.

13&U (1)

Myponga 19 def by McLaren Vale 33

Myponga showed strong passages of play, but McLaren Vale's consistency earned them the win.

Eloise O'Callaghan and Danica Ormond were impressive in defence, while Lily Bongiorno provided strong drive and accurate shooting.

Thanks to Kayla for umpiring.

13&U (3)

Myponga 24 def McLaren Vale 8

After a tight opening on a cold and clear day, Myponga settled into the game and dominated early.

Both teams displayed strong attack and defence, but Myponga's shooters were confident and effective.

Despite some mucking about late in the game, Myponga maintained control and sealed a strong win with an epic final goal on the whistle.

Inter 1

Myponga 31 def by McLaren Vale 42

The first quarter was close, with McLaren Vale up by one.

Myponga responded well in the second to lead by six at half-time.

Jade Ellis took crucial intercepts and Myponga maintained a three-goal lead at the final change.

However, McLaren Vale's Aliya Jeffery was outstanding in the last quarter, leading her team to an 11-goal win.

Thanks to umpires, scorers, timer and carers.

Inter 2

Myponga 18 def by McLaren Vale 47

Myponga started strongly, trailing by just one goal after the first quarter.

However, McLaren Vale's shooters were clinical in the second quarter, while their defenders held Myponga scoreless.

Despite continued effort, McLaren Vale pulled away to record a comprehensive win.

Inter 4

Myponga 33 def by McLaren Vale 43

Winter conditions returned for this match at Myponga.

The home side started strongly, scoring the first four goals before McLaren Vale steadied to lead by three at the first break.

Tayla Deacon was a stand-out in defence, and shooters Amber and Chelsea were accurate.

Despite McLaren Vale getting runs on the scoreboard, Myponga fought back throughout the match.

Defensive changes in the final quarter, including Asha Mansell to GK and Jess Ellul to WD, paid off with excellent pressure.

While McLaren Vale won by 10, Myponga drew the final quarter in a strong team effort.

Thanks to Abby for umpiring, and to Lily, Mila and Tessa for filling in.

League

Myponga 39 def by McLaren Vale 46

Myponga League suffered its first defeat of the season, going down in a competitive match against a strong McLaren Vale side.

McLaren Vale showcased impressive form throughout the game, with sharp passages of play, relentless defensive pressure, and accurate shooting that kept Myponga on the back foot.

The decisive break came in the second quarter, where McLaren Vale built a significant lead that ultimately proved to be the difference.

Despite a determined fightback in the final quarter, Myponga could not quite close the gap.

It was a spirited effort from the previously undefeated side, but McLaren Vale's consistency and composure under pressure secured them the win.

Senior 2

Myponga 49 def McLaren Vale 43

After two consecutive one-goal losses, the Myponga girls came out ready to prove their top four worth.

McLaren Vale settled early, with incredible shooting from goalies Emily Williams and Rachel White, but Myponga defenders Rachelle Rothwell, Tara Hutchinson and Sarah Zammit fought hard, getting touches and turnovers to help Myponga to a one-goal lead at half-time.

Positional changes saw Myponga come out strong in the third, with Kasey Clarke and Bree Leibhardt settling quickly in goals to assist a two-goal lead at the final change.

A motivational three-quarter time speech from Taylor Grundy inspired a final quarter surge.

Ally Stewart and Jasmin Vallance worked tirelessly through the midcourt, making the goalies' job easier.

A mammoth team effort in the last quarter saw Myponga come out on top by six goals.

Thanks to Sarah Raper for umpiring, and to Macky, Taylor and the dedicated team of supporters on the sidelines.

Senior 3

Myponga 61 def McLaren Vale 36

In sunny and warm conditions, Myponga travelled to McLaren Vale.

The first quarter was tightly contested, with strong defensive pressure from both sides.

Myponga edged ahead by three goals at quarter-time, 13–10.

The second quarter saw Myponga settle into rhythm, capitalising on turnovers and displaying slick ball movement through the midcourt to lead 29–21 at the half.

Myponga controlled the third term, extending the margin to 45–27.

In the final quarter, Myponga maintained intensity and composure to run away with a dominant 25-goal win.

Senior 4

Myponga 47 def McLaren Vale 35

McLaren Vale started strong, challenging Myponga across the court in a tight first quarter, with Myponga holding a one-goal lead at the break.

The game opened up in the second term, with Myponga's defence dominating and holding McLaren Vale to just six goals.

The second half featured a solid team performance, with excellent defensive pressure and some memorable intercepts.

Myponga's goalies shot well and the midcourt battled hard.

It was a four-quarter challenge, but

Myponga emerged with the win.

Senior 5

Myponga 42 def by McLaren Vale 43

Myponga started strong, with scores even at quarter-time.

McLaren Vale applied extra pressure in the second quarter to lead by four at the main break.

Myponga capitalised on turnovers in the third, drawing level by three-quarter time.

In a hard-fought final term, McLaren Vale edged ahead to win by one goal.

Myponga should be proud of their effort and fight.

Senior 6

Myponga 34 def by McLaren Vale 55

Unseasonably warm weather greeted the teams.

Myponga started well, with goal-for-goal exchanges in the first quarter.

McLaren Vale found their stride in the second with accurate feeding into their shooters.

Mette Dabinett and Natalie Meyers responded with strong defensive plays and intercepts.

Despite promising signs, Myponga could not match the ladder-leaders for the full four quarters.

Thanks to the scorer, carer and umpires.

Senior 7

Myponga 28 def by McLaren Vale 48

Myponga faced McLaren Vale on a warm winter afternoon.

Scores were tied at eight-all after the first quarter.

Missing shooter Helen Stock and coach Trish, Myponga fought hard, with solid midcourt performances.

McLaren Vale's defensive strength, including Jaki Lavender's impressive reach, proved decisive.

Myponga showed determination but McLaren Vale were too strong in the end.

Langhorne Creek Netball Club

11&U (1)

Langhorne Ck 7 def by Mt Compass 29

The girls started well against a tall and experienced Mount Compass side.

Langhorne Creek put in a huge effort, however, Mount Compass came away with a confident win.

Inter 1

Langhorne Ck 83 def Mt Compass 18

Under clear skies at Langhorne Creek, the home side delivered a confident and composed performance to secure a strong win over a much-improved Mount Compass team.

From the first whistle, Langhorne Creek established momentum and held it for much of the game, applying consistent pressure and linking up well across the court.

Smooth ball movement and effective passages of play led to multiple scoring opportunities.

Mount Compass showed real progress since their last encounter, stringing together several impressive passages of play throughout the match.

Despite Mount Compass's efforts, Langhorne Creek maintained control and finished the game strongly.

A solid win for Langhorne Creek, with plenty of positives for both sides to take forward.

Inter 4

Langhorne Ck 20 def Mt Compass 12

The Inter 4s took a little while to find their feet, but once they settled into rhythm, they began to play with confidence.

Mount Compass put up a strong fight and never backed down, pushing Langhorne Creek to dig deep and play for each other.

With some helpful tips and adjustments at each quarter, the team continued to grow as the game progressed.

In the end, their hard work paid off with a well-earned win at the final whistle. A great team effort.

Senior 2

Langhorne Ck 46 def by Mt Compass 47

It was another week that saw the Langhorne Creek Senior 2s plagued by injuries – this time calling on younger players to field a team.

What they may have lacked in experience they made up for with determination and persistence.

The game was a tight, physical contest, with Creek fighting back on numerous occasions to narrow the margin.

Unfortunately, the win was just out of reach, going down by one.

Senior 5

Langhorne Ck 51 def Mt Compass 18

It was a tight start, with the ball moving back-and-forth between scoring ends throughout the first quarter.

However, Langhorne Creek found momentum and pulled ahead, establishing a strong lead by half-time.

Mount Compass fought back hard in the second half and did not make it easy, but Creek's teamwork and determination carried them through to secure a solid win on the board.

Strathalbyn Netball Club

9&U Green

Both teams started strongly, with great defensive efforts at both ends.

The girls improved as the game progressed and created multiple scoring opportunities.

A great effort from both sides.

11&U (1)

Strathalbyn 18 def Yankalilla 9

A strong win for the girls in perfect weather conditions for netball.

Both teams came out firing, but once Strathalbyn found their rhythm, they rarely missed a goal.

The team enjoyed some well-earned orange slices at half-time for an energy boost.

Thanks again to Maya and Kenzie for benching – it was much appreciated.

11&U (3)

Strathalbyn 8 def Yankalilla 2

The first quarter saw many turnovers from both sides.

Strathalbyn settled first, leading by three at the main break.

Yankalilla produced some strong intercepts, but struggled to convert due to solid defensive pressure in the goal circle.

Strathalbyn's speed and agility through the midcourt helped secure the win.

Congratulations to both teams on an enjoyable match.

13&U (1)

Strathalbyn 39 def Yankalilla 18

In ideal conditions – quite the opposite to last week— we were able to try new combinations.

Although the girls were keen to return to their regular positions after the first quarter, they played well throughout.

A strong second quarter gave us a solid half-time lead.

We rotated again in the second half, and the team continued to perform, showing great versatility.

Their development will certainly benefit them in future seasons.

Really proud – go Strath!

13&U (3)

Strathalbyn 24 def by Yankalilla 26

It was a close and competitive game, with both teams fighting hard.

Scores remained tight throughout, but Yankalilla edged ahead in the final stages to take the win.

Inter 1

Strathalbyn 44 def Yankalilla 32

A very physical game tested Strathalbyn's ability to execute under pressure and adapt with versatility.

The team worked through the challenge and produced some high-quality netball to start the second half of the season.

Inter 2

Strathalbyn 44 def by Yankalilla 36

After a slow start and trailing by five at half-time, Strathalbyn mounted a determined comeback in the third quarter to bring the margin to one.

In a stunning fourth quarter, the girls delivered a 14-4 run to finish with an impressive eight-goal win.

Inter 3

Strathalbyn 33 def Yankalilla 27

Strathalbyn began strongly with accurate shooting from Amarlee Nash, and intense defensive pressure from Lily Walker and Lauren Bley.

Maya Wiese covered the court with fantastic intercepts and solid defence.

Yankalilla found their rhythm in the third quarter and outscored Strathalbyn during that term, but Strath held firm to claim a six-goal win.

Inter 4

Strathalbyn 32 def by Yankalilla 33

Following last week's freezing rain, this week's sunshine set the stage for a fierce contest.

Yankalilla jumped to a six-goal lead at quarter-time, but Strathalbyn, despite missing two key defenders, chipped away at the margin.

A stand-out performance came from Catherine Howe, who stepped into goal keeper and had a stellar defensive game.

Her efforts helped shift momentum in Strath's favour.

In a thrilling finish, Strathalbyn narrowly fell short, losing by just one goal, 32–33.

A resilient and adaptable effort from the team.

League

Strathalbyn 53 def Yankalilla 41

In a high-intensity game against a well-drilled Yankalilla side, both teams moved the ball quickly, keeping defenders on their toes.

With minimal turnovers, it was small moments that made the difference, with Yankalilla managing one or two more crucial plays each quarter.

Strathalbyn gave valuable court time to Mackenzie Cutting and Kayla Schubert, who performed well against quality opposition.

Yankalilla ultimately proved the better side, capitalising on turnovers to run out 12-goal winners.

Senior 2

Strathalbyn 36 def by Yankalilla 44

There was significant improvement from the first match against Yankalilla, with huge defensive efforts across the court and some effective adjustments in the attacking end.

It was not quite enough to get the win, but a great effort overall.

Senior 3

Strathalbyn 32 def by Yankalilla 50

Perfect weather greeted both sides.

Yankalilla, sitting second on the ladder, started strong.

Strathalbyn fought hard to reduce the margin to four at quarter-time, and the second quarter followed a similar pattern.

The third term was Strath's best, but despite strong passages of play, Yankalilla maintained their lead.

A fast start in the final quarter sealed an 18-goal win for the visitors.

The score did not reflect the evenness of play.

Senior 4

Strathalbyn 35 def by Yankalilla 41

It was a great game with a close scoreline throughout.

Strathalbyn trailed by two at half-time and levelled the scores by three-quarter time.

Despite strong and smart play at both ends, Yankalilla finished strongly and pulled away by six goals in the last quarter.

Senior 5

Strathalbyn 50 def Yankalilla 34

Both teams played.

The game started and then ended.

Goals were scored.

Players passed the ball.

There were four quarters.

Strathalbyn scored more goals than Yankalilla.

This resulted in a win for Strathalbyn.

Yankalilla scored fewer goals, so they lost.

Senior 6

Strathalbyn 40 def Yankalilla 30

Although the final score didn't go their way, the Senior 6 girls delivered a great performance against one of the top teams in the competition.

After a solid defensive start, Yankalilla responded with a quick burst of goals.

Strathalbyn showed great determination, winning the last quarter and adapting well across the match.

Senior 7

Strathalbyn 39 def Yankalilla 26

What a difference a week makes!

Lovely conditions for netball this round.

Despite missing some regular players, Strathalbyn remained competitive.

The defence worked hard all day, but Yankalilla's shooters rarely missed once they found their range.

Strath's centre court linked up well, and the goalies moved effectively against a strong defence.

There were plenty of good passages of play, and the team should be proud of their efforts.

Well done, girls!

Argus Netball

Goolwa vs Victor Harbor

Breakers dominate the Strikers

The Strathalbyn Strikers hosted Southern Breakers on Saturday, hoping to build on their positive result last week against Aldinga.

The Breakers were coming off a strong away win over FC Summit and were aiming to cement a place in the top three.

The game began fairly evenly, with both teams enjoying time on the ball, although the visitors looked slightly cleaner in possession.

The Strikers' endeavour was evident, with defensive duo Ben Clayton and Tom Lancaster holding the line, while midfielders Bill Brooks and TK Mashinge worked tirelessly to win the ball in the centre.

The Breakers opened the scoring in the 15th minute through Benjamin Roberts, who finished well after a sharp passage of play down the left-hand side.

The Strikers looked to respond when Naite Hider's cross found striker Kalan Brooks, whose shot went narrowly wide - although the flag had already gone up for offside.

Southern Breakers extended their lead before the break when Lee Small found the net, giving the visitors a 2-0 advantage at half-time.

Strathalbyn showed plenty of heart but lacked composure in key moments.

The second half started poorly for the home side, with the Breakers adding two quick goals through Jed Polson and Brandon Bainbridge.

Fullbacks Noah Bailey and Denham Haynes worked hard throughout the match, as did wingers Josh Larkin and Josh Denny, but the Breakers kept pressing and added a fifth in the 80th minute, with Bainbridge grabbing his second.

The match ended 5-0 in what was a comfortable win for the visitors, leaving the Strikers with plenty to take away and build on.

Earlier in the day, the B Grade side recorded a strong 2-1 win against the same opponents.

Goals from debutant Ryan Nethercott and Alex Olsson secured a two-goal half-time lead, before resolute defence in the second half from captain Jared Thomas - playing his 200th game - along with Gareth Allely, Tajinder Singh and Luke Johnson, sealed the result.

Central attacker Natthawut Supho and goalkeeper Noah Bailey also delivered stand-out performances.

The C Grade were undermanned and went down 7-0 to top-of-the-ladder MA Hawks, who showcased their title credentials with a dominant display.

Club's top-knot sailors and members celebrated

By Tara Nash

Goolwa Regatta Yacht Club recently celebrated its champion sailors as well as volunteers who have contributed to the club's success during a presentation night.

Volunteer of the Year was awarded to Lyn Mateer who has been helping the club on and off for about 30 years.

Initially joining with a cruise boat, Mateer now just volunteers in the kitchen and supports functions such as Sailability or the March Classic, and has made many long-term friends through the club.

"I was a bit surprised and embarrassed (about the award)," she said.

"I (am) very honoured the club would think that I was worthy of something like that."

Other volunteers recognised for their efforts were Ian Barker and Louise Edwards, who were both awarded Life Membership.

"I was quite embarrassed because I knew nothing about it," Barker said.

"If I didn't have dedicated volunteers behind me, we wouldn't be in the position that we are."

"So, I believe it is as much they're award as it is mine."

Barker is the Sailability Co-ordinator - a program which encourages people of all abilities into sailing - and has been involved since 2008.

The program runs monthly and attracts about a dozen people from a wide region, as it is only offered by three clubs in the state.

The program has accessible, stable boats and is well-supported by other organisations and volunteers, including those who cook lunch for participants.

Meanwhile, Edwards was recognised for significantly growing women participation in the sport, including membership, skippers and boat owners, through her role of Convenor of the SheSails program.

"I felt overwhelmed, honoured and humbled by it - I never thought that was something that would come by way," Edwards said.

"Women have a lot of reasons why they haven't been sailors - they get put off the blokey culture and the machoism."

"I just really enjoy being able to open up the world of sailing to women in a safe, supportive and friendly environment."

After joining the club in 2007, Ms Edwards has been on committees since 2011 and has previously held roles of Commodore, Vice-Commodore, and Secretary.

She was also responsible for putting in place many policies, procedures and documentation.

In terms of racing winners, Skipper Aaron Heritage was declared Club Champion for Div F.

Heritage started racing with his dad Chris two-and-a-half years ago, after both coming from sailing backgrounds, and Chris being a boat builder.

While Aaron has won about 10 club championships elsewhere, this is Chris' first, despite high rankings state-wide.

Chris Chatburn is now also part of their crew.

"That was our goal and I just wasn't quite sure that we go there this year, but we did - the numbers added up quite well," Aaron said.

"It was a surprise on the night - we're very excited."

"It's just been buckets of fun and loads of challenges."

"We've had great competition from other places."

"It's been such an absolute pleasure - it's such an easy way to go sailing."

The Club Champion for Div T - the spinnaker division, which is a large triangular sail - was taken out by Skipper Ben Kelsey on Police Car.

Kelsey has been sailing for more than 40 years and his crew included his daughter Alyssa - who skippered Police Car in the SheSails division and won - as well as a couple of friends.

"We all came up through junior ranks and sailed for a long time - we've done a lot of miles over water," Kelsey said.

"(The series is) unique in South Australia racing on Friday nights - other clubs race on Saturday and Sundays."

"It's a great series - we really enjoy it."

Strathalbyn Ladies Golf

Penny Geue crowned monthly medalist

A busy day met the 14 ladies who headed out to the golf course on Wednesday, June 18.

The competitions included Stroke, Putting, McBain, International Bowl and the Monthly Medal – all conveniently rolled into the one Stroke round.

Penny Geue tamed the course best, finishing with a nett 72.

Kerrie Edwards and Jo Pickhaver followed closely with 73, and Di Krutli recorded 75.

Three ladies – Helen Lyon, Marie Kingsbury and Gill Keane – finished with 77 nett.

Jo Cullen scored 80, Mel Johnson 81, Mandi Vardon and Cara Eastwood 82, Ann Semple 85, Pauline Walkom 86, and Sue Pryor ended the day with a nett 96.

Winner of Stroke round and June Monthly Medallist Penny Geue with winner of the Putting competition Jo Pickhaver.

Nearest the Pin with her second shot on the 17th hole was Mel.

Jo Pickhaver scored two birdies and a gobbler on the eighth, ninth and 17th holes.

In the Putting competition, Jo P. again led the field with 27 putts, closely followed by Marie with 28.

Penny and Di had 30, Helen and Mandi 31, Ann 34, Jo C. 35, Pauline 36, Mel 37, Sue Pryor 38, Cara 40 and Gill 41.

Mel and Cara also played the final of the Laurel Wreath competition.

It was a very close game, with Cara’s putt on the 18th hole running around the edge of the hole and refusing to drop, allowing Mel to win the hole and therefore the game.

Congratulations to both players on a fantastic match – well done, Mel.

Mandi found more than her share of trees, with some shots rebounding almost back to where they started.

Occasionally she would just trim the leaves and come out alright – the ups and downs of golf!

Jo C. had a tough time on the sixth/15th hole, visiting the creek twice, much to her chagrin.

Better luck next week, Jo.

Strathalbyn Golf

Allen Anderson has the winning touch

By Perry Jones

In perfect conditions for golf on the Strathalbyn course on Saturday, veteran Allen Anderson was at his best again, winning the par competition with +4.

Allen did not start off well, scoring -2 on the front nine, but certainly found form on the back nine with +6.

He edged out Wayne Miels on +3, who was -1 on the front nine, while Henry Kelly finished on +1 after being +2 at the turn.

Allen’s putting was excellent, dropping a few long ones.

Before play, while placing his bag on his cart, he was bragging to Kerry Vine – who had a shocker with – 6- about his new putter.

He took it out to show it off, still sporting a $4 price tag, saying he had bought it from the Op Shop and was going to use it.

Just as well he left it in his car.

His other new putter did the trick on the day.

Allen had one complaint – when the scribe turned up to see what he was doing on the 16th, Allen blamed him for a third shot that landed in the dam.

He had to take a drop short of the green and failed to putt out, picking up on the hole.

Randall Pitt had trouble with his chipping and putting, and his partner Derek Keane was also struggling.

They both finished at -9, as did Kevin Shepley – all just off finishing last.

The honour of coming last went to John Owen on -12, edging out Terry Merritt on -11.

John had prepared with a good practice round the day before, but it did not help.

He scored -4 on the front nine and went even worse on the back with -8.

He emulated Allen’s effort on the 16th by going into the dam.

On the 13th, John hit into the trees off the tee, and again with his second and third shots.

He declared himself a member of the ‘Three Tree Gully Golf Club’.

Red Sorrell, who finished with -3, rarely shows emotion, but when he holed a putt from off the green on the fourth to pick up four points, he gave a rare fist pump.

Lyndon Gill, back on course again, said he might bring a chainsaw next time, thanks to the number of trees he hit off the tee on his way to -7.

Playing with Gilly was Kim Wittwer, who deteriorated as the round progressed.

Although he opened with a rare par, he ended with -1 on the front nine and -5 overall.

The par three over the creek caused him some grief, carding a five each time.

On the sixth, his tee shot hit a tree on the far side of the creek and rebounded back near the concrete wall by the tee block.

Des Kelly was out observing again in his cart and followed the group of Michael Young (-2), Kirk Richardson (-2), Sean Walsh (-5) and Graeme Bertholini (-2) on the 10th.

Mick had a solid drive to the corner of the dogleg, but then had to watch the other three cut the corner by going over the trees and landing near the green.

Kirk, Graeme and Sean all got on in two, with Graeme and Sean making birdie threes while Kirk had to settle for par.

Des, in his usual cheeky style, said he had nothing to worry about when he makes his comeback, possibly this Saturday, after a short lay-off.

Grant Ewins had one of his best days, despite finishing at -3.

On the seventh, he landed on the green in two and then made an eagle three with an eight-foot downhill putt.

Unfortunately, Grant did not collect all the balls in the eagle’s nest, as Stuart Hozier also scored an eagle on the 12th.

Grant’s luck continued in the jackpot putting competition at the end of the day.

His card, along with those of Kirk Richardson and Sean Walsh, was drawn.

Grant was first to putt for the money, sinking it to collect $300.

He generously put money on the bar for all to enjoy his success.

Hills Central Table Tennis

Wanderers unseat Ashbourne

Ashbourne suffered its first defeat at the hands of the Wanderers in Round 7 of the Hills Central Table Tennis Competition, going down eight (26) to four (17).

The Wanderers’ win unseats Ashbourne from the top of the table, with Macclesfield Black now assuming that mantle on percentage.

Macclesfield Black and Ashbourne are now tied on 12 points each, with the Wanderers stalking their prey only three points behind on nine.

“The result puts Macclesfield Black, Ashbourne, and the Wanderers as the favourites to continue on to the Grand Final, but anything can still happen,” Association President, Greg Marlu, said.

“The top four teams will feature in the play-offs to the Grand Final with, on current form, the fourth spot likely to be hotly contested between Macclesfield Red and Currency Creek.

“But, as always, with half a season left, it all depends on the individual matchups on the night.”

There have been close results between the ladder-leaders and teams sitting in the second half.

“Meadows, which remains winless due to continuing absences in its line-up, has a tough task to claw back points but, case in point, could have drawn with Macclesfield Black if two tight rubbers had gone its way,” Marlu said.

Down at Currency Creek, five five-setters decided the outcome, with Macclesfield Red eventually emerging victorious against their hosts, winning seven (27) to five (21).

In the last of the Round 7 battles, Macclesfield Black secured two vital five-setters to stave off a draw and come away winners against Meadows eight (27) to four (19).

Round 8, on Wednesday, June 25, has Ashbourne pitted against Currency Creek at Meadows, while the Macclesfield venue hosts a double-header.

Macclesfield Red will take on Meadows, and Macclesfield Black will be defending its lead against the Wanderers, who will be seeking revenge for their Round 3 loss.

Details of the programme can be found on the HCTTA Facebook page or by contacting the Association Secretary via email at (hctaexec@gmail.com).
