The restoration of a "really important part of South Australia's and Australia's history" was celebrated at the same as the launch of this year's Wooden Boat Festival on the weekend.
Organised by a group of 'boaties' associated with the Armfield Slipway, the first official South Australian Wooden Boat Festival was held in Goolwa in 1989 and was a simple gathering of wooden boats that had been built or restored locally.

From 1991 it became a biennial festival and steadily grew a reputation as a unique event in Australia that attracts thousands of locals and visitors alike.

Held at the Goolwa Wharf for the first time in many years, the two-day festival featured more than 100 wooden boats, a 'rough 'n' ready' boat building competition, grand parade of boats led by festival flagship the

PS Oscar W, vintage tigermoth bi-plane aerial display, and fairy light boat exhibition, along with a steam salute, live music by Dane Unwin, The Stormboys and Navy Band, sailing races, cruises, and trophy presentations.

set to close

After more than 160 years of being a meeting place and site for special occasions in Callington, St Peter's Lutheran Church will soon hold its final service.

The building has the legacy of being one of the oldest Lutheran churches in Australia to still hold services in its original building.

The church has hosted important milestones for locals over the years, many of whom have had their christenings, weddings and funerals at the space.

The church is now down to about five members and one service per month, and has been hit by the current economic climate.

"We literally can't afford the upkeep, the insurance," Secretary/Treasurer and organist, Judy Paech, said.

"It'll be a sad event but... we can't keep on running at a loss – the worldly expenses have just gotten over the top.

"It's not an easy thing to do – but we've made the decision now."

The church's pews had already been sold off and replaced with chairs.

Callington Lutheran Church during a combined service with Salem. Date is unknown.

The church previously hosted the playgroup sessions Mainly Music before it was moved to the local hall during COVID.

Members will now likely attend Salem, Mount Barker, Murray Bridge or Strathalbyn.

More than 1200 churches in Australia have closed since 1991, according to the National Church Life Survey.

A Facebook group is even dedicated to listing churches for sale around the country.

Callington Lutheran Church was opened about 17 years after the town was founded in 1847.

Copper mines attracted families to the town and they opened their own church in November, 1864.

The building attracted a large attendance over the years and became a sentimental space for many locals.

The "modest" and untraditional building shaped as a Greek cross is pictured in historical photos standing alone surrounded by open land, and today, is surrounded by houses.

For a period of time, it also had a hanging cast-iron chandelier and candles would be lit before the connection of electricity.

From 1960, women were allowed to attend annual meetings.

The future of the building remains uncertain, being an "old building" that "needs lots of maintenance".

The church is an SA Heritage Place, reflecting its importance to the local area, which means it is protected by law but can be developed or altered under certain circumstances.

Anyone with a connection or interest in the church, such as with photos, family history, previous pastors or members, are encouraged to return for the closing service on May 25 at 9.30am.

After the service, visitors will be welcomed at the town's hall for a lunch and to reminisce while viewing a history display.

Final puzzle piece fitted on Goolwa Wharf project

By Giordina McKay

Marking an end to the embroilment surrounding the Goolwa Wharf redevelopment, additional funds have been added to the Friends of the Oscar W Goolwa Riverport Heritage Centre budget to complete the fit-out and the project in general.

As part of Alexandrina Council's wharf redevelopment project, the Friends of the Oscar W were allocated a portion of the wharf shed to transform into its Goolwa Riverport Heritage Centre and a budget of $183,148.50 in July last year to make this come to life.

Since then, it's been working to achieve the fit-out with the help of designer and project manager DL Anatomy to have a fully operational experience ready for the Wooden Boat Festival, which occurred over the weekend.

However, the fit-out has experienced unforeseen issues during this time, including additional project management costs associated with contractor and financial management, and development application processes for both the fit-out and signage, and rectification of base build issues that needed immediate attention due to security and safety concerns.

To date the group has expended an additional $33,975 towards these unforeseen matters with a commitment from the Friends of the Oscar W towards that amount of $11,250.

That's why at last Monday night's meeting, a request for a further $22,725 in the budget, to be reallocated from the remaining Goolwa Wharf Project contingency capital budget, was requested from council.

Among those in support of the request was South Ward councillor Milli Livingston.

"I understand we're needing to be mindful of our budget, but I'm also mindful we need to finish off our projects properly," she said.

"The partnership with the Friends of the Oscar W and council has come a long way in the last couple of years, and I can only applaud the volunteers and administration for this.

"We as a council have a wooden boat strategy and make a commitment to showcase our heritage, and I see this as part of that.

"After going through the additional costs with members of the Friends I can see why the request has been made and how the additional costs are outside their control, and that is why I'm speaking in support of this motion."

North Ward councillor Sue Miller was the only one to vote against the motion after raising concerns about the lack of supporting evidence provided.

"I feel I need to stress that I have never and I am not questioning the dedication, passion or volunteering work the volunteers have done, I am speaking against this because it's not about that," she said.

"You are asking for us to spend public money from borrowings on the basis of a less than one page report with no supporting information.

"(With) the frequency of the meetings that have been occurring, to get asked for $22,000 and not put at risk completing this in time for the Wooden Boat Festival feels like a gun to our head to say yes to this.

"That's not acceptable to me and I'm voting against it for that reason.

"We are under immense pressure with our borrowings and I think why wouldn't we test and validate being asked for $22,000 – if it was my money, I would be asking for evidence that it's needed."

When completed, the centre will feature a workbench and kitchen in the workshop, interactive steering and digital displays, a Goolwa riverport model and map table, visitor information and ticket sales area, and kids' activity table.

Along with the official opening of the Goolwa Wharf during the Wooden Boat Festival on the weekend, the completion of the Riverport Centre will mark an end to the project.

It's anticipated the remainder of the works will be finished by the June long weekend.

Friends of the Oscar W spokesperson Nigel Robinson said the group was delighted to bring many years of turmoil to a close.

"The Goolwa Riverport Heritage Centre will be a state-of-the-art heritage museum which we believe will attract a whole new group of people to Goolwa to support the tourism to the revitalised wharf," he said.

"It tells the story of the Goolwa riverport which is the first riverport in Australia.

"That's what is unique about the Goolwa – the meeting of the paddlesteamer with the steam train at the wharf – and it's a huge heritage tourism asset.

"An eight to one vote was a huge endorsement for the Friends of the Oscar W.

"The support of the Mayor and councillors has finally closed this long period of turmoil and now we're looking forward to the success of the new Goolwa wharf and working with council to promote the heritage tourism."

The Wooden Boat Festival festivities kicked off last week with families joining a boat model making session.

The Goolwa Library school holiday program was in the lead-up to the fun over the weekend.

Lions Club of Goolwa also cooked a sausage sizzle to fundraise for Need for Feed – an initiative that supports farmers during drought – and in this case, buying hay for Fleurieu Peninsula farmers during the drought.

Meanwhile, Armfield Slip volunteers sold raffle tickets for their handmade sailing dinghy, which is their major fundraiser.

About 170 community members met last week with concerns around the microalgae bloom impacting Fleurieu Peninsula's south coast beaches.

As reported in last week's Argus, the forum at Middleton Pioneer Community Hall had guest speakers who discussed different perspectives around the issue, and was deemed a success by organisers.

Goolwa Wharf officially opened

A-BOAT TIME!

By Giorgina McKay

The restoration of a “really important part of South Australia’s and Australia’s history” was celebrated at the same time as the launch of this year’s Wooden Boat Festival on the weekend.

Organised by a group of ‘boaties’ associated with the Armfield Slipway, the first official South Australian Wooden Boat Festival was held in Goolwa in 1989 and was a simple gathering of wooden boats that had been built or restored locally.

From 1991 it became a biennial festival and steadily grew a reputation as a unique event in Australia that attracts thousands of locals and visitors alike.

Held at the Goolwa Wharf, the two-day festival featured more than 100 wooden boats, a ‘rough ‘n’ ready’ boat building competition, grand parade of boats led by festival flagship the PS Oscar W, vintage tigermoth bi-plane aerial display, and fairy light boat exhibition, along with a steam salute, live music by Dane Unwin, The Stormboys and Navy Band, sailing races, cruises, and trophy presentations.

It was officially opened on Saturday by SA Governor Frances Adamson AC, who was pleased to be among the festivities.

“We’re so pleased to be part of these vibrant celebrations and to be here on the wharf with so many people enjoying the river and boats – (it) makes it immediately clear this is a memorable event,” she said.

“More than just an enjoyable day out, the festival connects us with the region’s river and maritime history, as we’re reminded that boats have been essential for food gathering, transport and industry since humans first occupied this ancient land.

“It’s not at all surprising that these lands and waters have great cultural significance the Ngarrindjeri and Ramindjeri people.”

The festival also marked the unveiling of the Goolwa Wharf Precinct Project – a multi-million-dollar endeavour by Alexandrina Council, and the Federal and State Governments.

It has had its challenges, but Alexandrina Mayor Keith Parkes was glad to see the wharf finally restored.

“This investment is made possible by money from the Federal and State Government, and also our local residents and ratepayers,” he said.

“This was the largest inland port in Australia, and all of the produce from New South Wales and Victoria came down this river – before there were any locks or barrages – to this port to unload it to put it on to the first railway in Australia and taken to Port Elliot.

“It’s now here restored – we’re not going to lose it again – so we can look forward now to another 150 years of this beautiful wharf.

“It challenged our council, and we completed it and we thank everybody who

Deputy Premier Susan Close, South Australian Senator Penny Wong and Alexandrina Mayor Keith Parkes unveiling the plaque. Photos: Deirdre Graham has been involved.”

Among the other guests at the wharf and boat festival opening were Deputy Premier Susan Close and South Australian Senator Penny Wong, who helped unveil the official plaque.

Ms Wong hoped the project celebrated the rich history from the area for years to come.

“I’m very proud our government has been part of delivering this project for South Australia,” she said on Saturday.

“Community infrastructure is essential to building communities – it expands economic opportunities, it encourages new business, and of course, as today, it brings people together.

“This area has changed a lot since the wharf was first built in the 1850s from the river trade area to the busy tourist destination it is today.

“Let’s preserve that history and as part of preserving our history, let us continue sharing the stories of the Ngarrindjeri people.

“My thanks to all who have worked on this major project to renovate, restore and protect the heritage-listed precinct.”

More than 18,000 people attended the festival over the two days.

“Everything about the festival was outstanding and I received so many positive comments from people who attended over the Saturday and Sunday,” Mayor Parkes said.

“The wharf precinct really had this wonderful festival atmosphere.”

Local artists on display for History Festival

This year's SA History Festival will see seven local artists exhibit their work at the Stacey Gallery in Strathalbyn.

The DISCOVER! Old Strathalbyn and region exhibition features the work of Jen McCallum, Tana Lampard, Malcolm Edward-Cole, Helen Stacey, Judith Stephens, Bernie Morrison and Kathleen Cain, with the official opening at the gallery on Harriet Street on May 4 at 2pm.

The exhibition by the artists from Strathalbyn, Goolwa, Milang and Highland Valley will enable locals and visitors to connect to Old Strathalbyn and other lesser known areas of the Alexandrina Council region.

Old Strathalbyn was settled in 1839, the second town surveyed after Adelaide.

Early landowners such as the Rankines and Stirlings built small workers cottages in the network of streets off North Parade.

Visitors to the exhibition will be able to undertake self-guided tours and find out more about the area's history.

Writer and historian David Bunton has produced an Old Strathalbyn walking trail brochure with a map to help people to navigate.

A former brothel and coffin maker's house is among the buildings.

The exhibition will be open on Wednesday to Sunday from 10am to 4pm until May 25 at 17 Harriet Street.

Meanwhile, Ms Stacey's own landscapes from Hartley and Red Creek reflect on the symbolic endurance of ancient trees, with some works framed from aged timbers from an old farm site.

Visitors will also be able to take in the marvel of Ngarrindjeri weaving by the Strathalbyn Aboriginal Action and Reference Group.

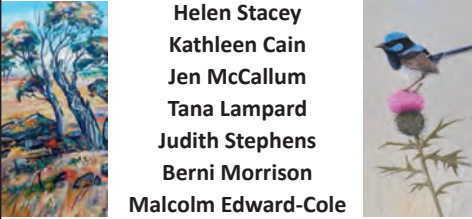

On Sunday afternoons from 1pm to 4pm, Bernie Morrison, of Boandik descent, will teach weaving to all.

Budget brought on the road

By Giorgina McKay

Alexandrina Council will take its budget consultation on the road again from mid-May.

For the past two years, council has held public meetings – five in 2023 and three in 2024 – in various locations across Alexandrina to enable face-to-face community engagement on the upcoming budget for the financial year.

This year four locations are proposed for consultation on council's newly named Draft Annual Community Plan 2025/26 and Draft Long-Term Financial Plan 2025-35.

Venues were selected based on capacity, availability and accessibility, with a focus on achieving a balanced geographic spread across the region.

At last Monday night's council meeting, elected members locked in the dates and venues:

- Wednesday, May 21 from 10am-11am at the Goolwa Council Chambers.
- Monday, May 26 from 6.30pm-7.30pm at the Port Elliot RSL.
- Wednesday, May 28 from 6.30pm-7.30pm at the Strath Neighbourhood Centre.
- Wednesday, June 4 from 6.30pm-7.30pm at the Mount Compass War Memorial Hall.

A special meeting will be held on Monday, May 12 to endorse the draft budget and long-term plan before it opens for public consultation.

Poker machine ban

Poker machines and for-profit gambling will now be prohibited on any Mount Barker District leased property, unless given written authorisation.

This excludes raffles, bingo tickets, meat trays and other games that are typically to fundraise for non-commercial purposes.

This follows a motion moved by councillor Rebecca Hewett who believed they targeted the “most vulnerable” residents in the community.

“Poker machines are not harmless entertainment – they are deliberately designed to be addictive, using psychological tricks to keep people playing often longer than they intended and far beyond what they can afford,” she said.

Cr Hewett added that behind every dollar put into a machine is a story of “stress, shame and suffering”.

Friday last, April 21, three Mk50A Seaking helicopters and a coach load of sailors, arrived in Goolwa to celebrate the squadrons 50th Anniversary. The squadron announced their arrival to their home away from home with a ceremonial fly over of the town. Aboard the three Seakings in Goolwa were 60 personnel, all staying in Goolwa among them two locals, Leading Seaman Dave Temby and Able Seaman Damien Raspe. The 817 Squadron exercised their right of Freedom of Entry on Saturday, beginning with a march down Cadell Street to the Council Chambers. They were greeted by the Mayor Kym McHugh, while Commodore Keith Eames addressed the town.

Another successful Murray Bridge Hospital Helipad fund raiser was held on Thursday, April 13 at the Callington Hall when Pam Brown organised an afternoon with Thomas Edmonds. Over 150 people attended from many towns including Adelaide, Mt. Barker, Lobethal, Mannum, Jervois, Goolwa, Strathalbyn and Murray Bridge. The final profit donated to the hospital was more than $1008.

Strathalbyn goes for a cuppa with a cop

About 40 people attended Coffee with a Cop at Strathalbyn on Monday, which gave locals an opportunity to chat with local SA Police officers.

Some of the biggest issues raised included population growth in Strathalbyn and Mount Barker, traffic and road safety, as well as upcoming community events.

Discussions were sparked around pedestrians, vulnerable road users and general road safety.

Hills Fleurieu Police, including Crime Prevention Section officers from Mount Barker, hosted the event on April 28.

A police motorcycle offered photo opportunities.

Brevet Sergeant, Glenn Batty – the officer in charge of Strathalbyn Police Station – deemed the event a “success” and was “really pleased” with the interactions with the local community.

Drivers caught on long weekend

Several people will face court after being caught violating traffic laws over the Anzac Day long weekend.

On Anzac Day, police reported a 48-year-old Murray Bridge man for driving while disqualified as well as his 20-year-old passenger and Murray Bridge woman for being in possession of drug and drug paraphernalia.

Both will be summoned to appear in Murray Bridge Magistrates Court at a later date.

On Saturday, Murray Bridge police reported three drivers during separate drug driving incidents, including a 37-year-old Murray Bridge man and 62-year-old Wellington man.

They were issued a three-month loss of licence and will appear in court at a later date.

That same day, a P-plater was detected riding a motorbike at 150 km/h in a 110 km/h zone on the South Eastern Freeway at Callington.

The 26-year-old Murray Bridge man was reported for excessive speed and breaching the conditions of his provisional licence, and will be summonsed to appear in Murray Bridge Magistrates Court at a later date.

On Sunday, police attempted to stop a man driving on Mulgundawah Road, but he drove away at speed.

A short while later police located the vehicle and man who refused to answer any questions or comply with directions to submit to a drug analysis test.

The 27-year-old Murray Bridge man was charged with driving while disqualified, dangerous driving to avoid pursuit, breaching of bail, failure to answer questions, and failure to comply with drug test.

The vehicle he was driving was impounded, and he was refused police bail.

‘Slow down for yellow’ laws coming soon

New laws requiring motorists to slow down when passing roadside service and recovery vehicles come into effect this month.

The new laws, which passed State Parliament last year, will expand the existing 25 km/h speed limit for emergency services vehicles to also cover RAA, and other roadside service and recovery vehicles when their amber lights are flashing.

It follows RAA’s ‘Slow Down for Yellow Too’ campaign, which called for the extension of the laws to protect roadside recovery workers and members of the community at the roadside.

RAA Senior Manager Safety and Infrastructure Charles Mountain said it was reassuring to see these important changes coming into effect to help keep South Australians safe at the roadside.

“With the new speed limit laws coming into effect from May 19, we’re entering a new era of improved safety for roadside workers and the South Australian community they’re there to help,” he said.

“Our patrols and tow truck drivers are often helping members just metres from fast-moving traffic, and they deserve to carry out that work in a safe environment.

“With children or any other person stranded at the roadside, it’s not safe for anyone to have cars flying past too fast.

“By slowing down for yellow, it will ensure we’re all helping to protect the people they are helping.”

Authorities get tough on drug offenders

A raft of measures aimed at strengthening the power of authorities to stifle the operations of serious drug offenders have commenced after recently passing State Parliament.

Under the reforms, police and courts will have new powers to:

- Stop prescribed drug offenders from getting rid of their assets before they are confiscated.
- Demand third parties and banks comply with freezing orders on bank accounts and provide information to assist with the confiscation.
- Increase maximum penalties for non-compliance under the Act to $100,000.

The reforms will strengthen the laws around the prosecution of drug dealers and the confiscation of the proceeds of their crimes, whether it’s money, cars, houses or other assets.

Assets of prescribed drug offenders are confiscated by the Crown, with proceeds going to the Justice Rehabilitation Fund, and then used to fund programs and initiatives for rehabilitation and crime prevention.

“These measures are designed to help keep South Australians safe, and ensure that authorities have the tools they need at their disposal to take action against offenders,” Attorney-General, Kyam Maher, said.

“The reforms to our criminal asset confiscation laws are an important response to a recent review of the adequacy of these laws, and take a number of steps to strengthen the important work authorities do in this area.

“Clarifying the laws around the prosecution of attempted drug offences will also help give the Office of the Director of Public Prosecutions greater confidence when taking action against offenders.”

Other reforms to the controlled substances laws have also recently passed parliament.

These reforms clarify that the prosecution does not need to establish the accused knew or was reckless with respect to the particular identity or quantity of a controlled substance for drug offences and attempted drug offences.

This will ensure those who try and import drugs into SA will face the full force of the law.

“Each of the new measures will contribute to the further disruption of serious drug offending and organised crime in South Australia,” SAPOL Assistant Commissioner, John Venditto, said.

“The amendments will allow police to gather information sooner to enable assets to be locked down faster, and compel offenders to provide accurate information about their assets early in proceedings to prevent later fabrication of third-party claims to try and keep their tainted property.

“They also capture prescribed drug offenders who structure their criminal activity to avoid losing their ill-gotten gains and facilitators, such as accountants who assist them, if they are charged with the same offences.”

Volunteer crushes it over 30 years

By Tara Nash

After about 30 years of volunteering – including more than two decades with Milang Environment Centre – Don Boyce will soon retire.

Milang Environment Centre is run by a group of volunteers who recycle bottles, cans and glassware, as well as green waste to make mulch for community gardens.

The 86-year-old has enjoyed helping fundraise for community initiatives largely raised from the small profit from on-selling cans and bottles, such as to the Red Cross, the Milang Railway Museum, the local school, and museum.

Mr Boyce encourages others to join for the “camaraderie”.

“I’ve met a lot of people through here and many have become good friends,” he said.

His cohorts sent him loving well-wishes in the Milang Community News, mentioning his behind-the-scenes organisation, his punctuality, and that MEC is a “well-organised, efficient and harmonious operation” thanks to his leadership as Treasurer.

Being involved for most of the organisation’s operation, Mr Boyce remembered the early days of the time-consuming task of crushing bottles by foot.

As well as MEC, Mr Boyce also volunteered with Meals on Wheels for more than a decade, delivering hot meals to Clayton Bay, near Finnis, Belvidere, Langhorne Creek and Milang.

“You had some time to chat to the people,” he said.

“It made their day having somebody come, particularly if they were elderly.”

As well as this, Mr Boyce plays a strong role in the community, by catching up with older, single local residents for coffee and driving others to medical appointments.

He is also part of Alexandrina Singers.

His long-running love of Milang dates back to when he was around 10-years-old, when visiting on a camping trip with his parents and three sisters.

They loved the town so much that they built a shack, then a cottage in the town.

Mr Boyce lived in Stirling and worked in the city most of his life – visiting Milang as a holiday – before moving to the town about 30 years ago.

With his partner, he undertook the “labour-intensive” task of building the local motel.

“That was also very fulfilling, because there were a lot of people (we’d meet) who would come into the town,” Mr Boyce said.

With some funds made through the motel, they would donate to community initiatives such as the memorial gardens.

When retired, Mr Boyce plans to spend more time gardening, painting, and connecting with other community members.

We'll fight for South Australia Vote 1 Liberal in the Senate

The Liberals will help with the cost of living

Immediate relief. The Liberals will halve the petrol tax, saving you 25 cents every litre. We'll also scrap Labor's ute and family car tax and deliver a cost of living tax offset of up to $1,200.

Cheaper energy. We will reserve more gas for Australians as part of a balanced energy mix, including renewables and zero-emissions nuclear energy.

Affordable homes. We will fund the infrastructure required for housing, place a two-year ban on foreign investors, and support first home buyers by allowing mortgage payments to be deducted from their income tax.

Safer communities. We will boost defence and border security and enhance community safety.

Quality healthcare. We will fund more GPs, increase bulk billing and double the number of Medicare subsidised mental health sessions from 10 to 20.

Warfare RATING

Being brutally honest, I went to watch this movie purely for its cast and instead walked away with a grim reminder of some of the lesser talked ramifications of war/conflict.

Warfare centres on a platoon of Navy SEALs who embark on a dangerous surveillance mission in insurgent territory in Iraq that goes wrong.

Directed by Ray Mendoza and Alex Garland, it's based on the former's real experiences during the Iraq War, and in particular, the encounter he and his platoon experienced in November 2006 in the wake of the Battle of Ramadi.

To maintain historical accuracy, the film's material is exclusively taken from the testimonies of the platoon members and is described by Mendoza as a 'love letter' to his comrade Elliot Miller, who sustained significant injuries during the encounter that are depicted in the film.

The film starts out seemingly light-hearted but takes a quick trip downhill, and for the remainder of the 95 minutes, it's a visceral experience that plucks audiences out of their seat and into the battlefield.

Of note, the performances by Joseph Quinn, who plays leading petty officer Sam, and Cosmo Jarvis, who plays Elliot, were particularly haunting and stayed with you well after you leave the cinema.

Unlike most war films, the material doesn't feel like it glorifies conflict or brushes over its grittier bits, but instead it hones on the graphic nature that inevitably comes along with it and the mental toll it takes on the troops put into these situations.

It's not a movie I would jump to see again for obvious reasons, but cinematically, with its use of sound and visuals, it does what it sets out to do.

Warfare is a visceral experience.

Transport facility expected to deliver goods from Monarto

By Georgina McKay

An integrated transport distribution facility at Monarto would redistribute goods from interstate to local delivery routes if given building consent and development approval.

A development application was lodged by Monarto HQ for a transport distribution facility consisting of a storage building, including office spaces, an attached canopy over loading area, and associated earthworks, landscaping and a detention basin at Lot 2 Ferries McDonald Road.

The large warehouse building and associated canopy will be used for the handling and distribution of goods received interstate or Adelaide CBD to the local area by road.

Goods will be received via one B-Double delivery per day, with up to five small rigid vehicles to then redistribute the goods for local delivery.

The proposed facility will have no more than 10 staff onsite at any one time and have 24/7 operational hours.

Car parking for 14 vehicles will be established between the building and Ferries McDonald Road frontage.

Waste will be collected by private contractors, preventing any further demand upon The Rural City of Murray Bridge's waste collection capacity.

Planting will occur adjacent the Ferries McDonald Road frontage and along the northern side boundary, and accommodate a mix of taller trees, shrubs and ground covers to provide an attractive interface to the public realm and enhance the overall amenity of the site.

Being located within a bushfire medium risk overlay, several requirements will need to be met.

Local residents can have their say on the proposal by visiting (https://plan.sa.gov.au/have_your_say/notified_developments/current_notified_developments/submission?aid=10604) before 11.59pm tonight.

Letters to the Editor

Now, more than ever

Each year, Anzac Day serves as a powerful reminder of the sacrifices made by those who served our nation in times of war, conflict, and peacekeeping.

In a world that often feels fast paced and uncertain, taking the time to acknowledge Anzac Day remains as important as ever.

The Anzac spirit of mateship, courage, endurance, and selflessness remains deeply relevant today.

It teaches us about unity in the face of adversity, about standing up for something greater than ourselves, and about the value of peace and democracy.

These are lessons, our young people in particular, need now more than ever.

Acknowledging Anzac Day isn't about glorifying war, it's about recognising service, sacrifice, and shared values.

It's about ensuring the stories of those who gave their lives or returned forever changed are not lost with time.

Whether through a moment of silence, a school assembly or a dawn service, we must continue to honour their memory.

Because if we forget them, we forget who we are.

Our View

Thursday, May 1, 2025

Paying respect

As each year passes and I attend another Anzac Day ceremony, the sombre occasion never fails to make me pause and think of so many people around the world who are still the victims of war and unrest.

Children younger than 10 made to be child soldiers, girls as young as 12 made to marry men more than three times their age, women raped as trophies of war, families decimated by those killed or injured by bombs, landmines or gun fire, and children unable to attend school because they could die walking to and from some makeshift shelter as they try and educate themselves out of poverty.

These are some of the stories that here in Australia, for the very vast majority of us, we have escaped.

The bloodshed of Ukraine and Gaza, just to name two current conflicts, still feels so far away, brought to life by our television screens, radio bulletins, newspapers, and – these days – social media.

What would you lay down your life for?

In earlier conflicts many of our servicemen and women were but children themselves – of school-age even – and so much younger than myself.

Anzac Day gives all of us an opportunity to reflect on the sacrifice of our servicemen and women – serving in times of war, conflict and peacekeeping – to uphold our values of mateship, courage, and selflessness.

It is because of them, not just while serving, but when they arrive home to contribute to civilian life, that we don't have to experience first-hand the atrocities of what occurs in other countries around the world.

As I think of those people who have arrived in Australia from refugee camps across the globe, many having lived years in such challenging conditions unknown to me, I think of their dreams to live in a country that is safe, mostly, from violence, where their children have the opportunity to pursue education, careers, sports, and families of their own.

These are the things we sometimes need reminding of.

I hope you too took the time to reflect on Anzac Day about just how lucky we are indeed to live in Australia.

Strathalbyn Players to debut first production of the year

Strathalbyn Players first production for 2025 is one of the greatest comedies of all time – The Importance of Being Ernest by Oscar Wilde.

It is a wonderfully witty play which Wilde wrote to poke fun at the English ruling classes, and expose the ridiculousness and meaninglessness of their lives.

The play is filled with great characters like the 'bunburying' Jack Worthy, the narcissistic Algernon and his obsession for cucumber sandwiches, the imperious Lady Bracknell, the unfortunate Miss Prism – who has a rather bad habit of leaving babies at railway stations – and the gloriously self-centred Gwendolin.

Play director Vaughan Wilson has assembled a great cast who have been working hard to bring this funny but challenging play to the stage.

The show is in cabaret style, so gather friends together to book a table.

Ernest opens on Friday, May 9, and runs for three weekends.

Shark patrol season has been extended. Photo: Wirestock/Freepik

Shark patrols extended

Aerial shark patrols along South Australia's coastline, including the Fleurieu, will be extended by a month following sustained warmer weather and shark sightings in popular areas.

April has seen a period of unseasonably high temperatures, resulting in increased aquatic activity along populated coastlines and coinciding with shark sightings.

Annual fixed wing shark patrols began in November and were due to run until April 27, at the end of school holidays, but an extension has been made until May 25 to support community safety, subject to further assessment.

Shark surveillance aircraft will continue to monitor beaches on weekends from North Haven to Rapid Bay, and on the south coast of the Fleurieu Peninsula between Waitpinga Beach, east of Victor Harbor, and the Murray Mouth.

The State Government is also providing further support to regional coastal areas through a $500,000 shark mitigation package, which enables Surf Life Saving SA to work closely with regional communities to develop coastal risk assessments and help them implement measures such as improved beach signage, including shark sighting boards and flags, trauma kits, increased drone usage and education programs for school and community groups.

"Eyes in the sky are one way to protect beach-goers who are making the most of warmer conditions," Emergency Services Minister, Emily Bourke, said.

"Additional patrols will play an important role in keeping our coastline safe amid recent shark sightings and an increased community awareness."

Anzac honour bestowed on Macclesfield RSL President

By Giorgina McKay

One of the community's own has been bestowed one of the highest honours in the country.

The Anzac of the Year Awards recognise the efforts and achievements of up to seven Australians who have given service to their fellow Australians and the community in a positive, selfless and compassionate manner.

This year Macclesfield's Dennis Oldenhove was selected as the South Australian recipient in recognition of the "incredible impact" he has made to the town's RSL Sub-Branch.

Mr Oldenhove served in the Australian Army as Sergeant from 1992-2011, and has been the Macclesfield RSL Sub-Branch's President for nearly two decades.

The committee behind the selection said the local resident had reinvigorated the local sub-branch, with the RSL becoming an integral part of the community, and his leadership and commitment to make lasting change for both veterans and his community exemplified the Anzac spirit.

But while the award is bestowed on a singular recipient, Mr Oldenhove told The Southern Argus it was a reflection of the work of many.

"I think like all awards, one person gets the chocolates off of the work of many," he said.

"We have a good committee of people and a lot of volunteers who all come together to promote the RSL, and primarily look after our local veterans and make sure we do what we can for local people.

"It's a good, collective effort."

During his time with the RSL, Mr Oldenhove has ensured the sub-branch makes a considered effort to engage with the community and be an integral part of it, so members can support the various community groups and, in turn, those community groups support the RSL.

He was most proud of helping to connect the various community groups together in a way they find it easy to mutually support each other, and the creation of the Anzac Gardens, which provides a great outlet for the veterans and their families, and has become a very popular community asset.

Upon announcement of Mr Oldenhove's award, the community flooded the RSL Sub-Branch's social media with messages of congratulations and support.

National RSL President Greg Melick also passed on his regards to the award recipients.

"On behalf of the RSL National Board and members of the RSL, I would like to congratulate the four individuals who have been selected for Anzac of the Year Awards," he said.

"They are exemplars of community service and an inspiration to all Australians.

"This year's award recipients exemplify the Spirit of Anzac in the community through their dedication and commitment to the benefit of others."

Walking history in Strathalbyn

This year's SA History Festival will see the return of one of Strathalbyn's most popular history events – a walking history tour around town courtesy of the Alexandrina Singers and Strathalbyn Players.

This is the ninth time the groups have staged the light-hearted event, with this year's tour – On the Beat – to take place in Rankine Street and South Terrace.

For those who are not familiar with the concept, spokesperson Gillian Tucker said it was essentially street theatre.

"It is a combination of narrated stories about aspects of the streets that we walk along, the buildings that were there, and some of the people who lived in the town in the past, with a number of skits and songs along the way," she said.

"This year it is being told from the perspective of a journalist, but also being told from the perspective of the gossip in town and what she knows about the people that might be involved in some of the skits and stories."

Mrs Tucker said there were some unexpected stories discovered.

"It was just interesting to know that a town like Strathalbyn, which to all intents and purposes was a very respectable town, was home to a few larrikins," she said.

This year's walk will start at the Save the Children's Op Shop, continue to the Heritage Centre (once a police station and court), to South Terrace and back to the train station.

Those taking part have been rehearsing hard and finding fitting costumes.

"We have the skits and the scripts, but we do have a few larrikins that live around the area and who are playing some of the parts, and they tend to mix script and ad lib," Mrs Tucker said.

"We try and learn the songs off by heart because we really want to connect with the audience through song, and the more you connect with the audience, the more likely they are to start to participate."

Mrs Tucker said the performances were a chance for people to get to know more about Strathalbyn and its history, along with more about the groups staging the event.

"It is a really important lens back into what life used to be like, and I think it is important for people to not lose sight of some of the hardships that were here and that the same kind of activities went on, just in a simpler way," she said.

"There were lots of shops and businesses going on that depended on the railway, and that is how you got into town in those days.

"Before that they were actually quite isolated because although we don't think Adelaide is that far away, back then it was and they had to walk or go in horse and cart."

On the Beat will run on May 10, 11, 17, and 18 from 2pm.

Tickets cost $25 for a single, $20 concession, and $60 for a family.

Tributes paid at Strathalbyn dawn service

By Georgina McKay

Hundreds gave up a moment of their time on Friday to remember the men and women who paid the ultimate sacrifice for freedom during Strathalbyn's Anzac Day dawn service.

Gathering at the town's cenotaph, those in attendance acknowledged all ex-serving and current serving members of the Australian Defence Force, and paid their respects to all men and women who've paid the ultimate sacrifice while serving the country.

In her annual address, Strathalbyn and Districts RSL Sub-Branch President Cate Goodall recounted the history behind the date and its purpose.

She reminded all to remember those who enlisted and died for Australia in all wars and conflicts, and now lay buried in Palestine, Crete, Libya, Syria, England, France, Belgium, New Guinea, Borneo, Malaya, Burma, Singapore, Korea, Vietnam, Somalia, Cambodia, Rwanda, Iraq, East Timor, Afghanistan, and on the oceans of the globe

"The elements of that tradition – mateship, duty, reliability, responsibility, commitment, caring and compassion – have inspired and continue to offer an enduring example to all future generations of Australians," Mrs Goodall said.

"For all the reasons wars are fought, the objective is always freedom – to be who we are and who we want to be, and perhaps the greatest freedom of all, the one of choice – but the price of that freedom comes at a staggering cost and includes the lives of our soldiers.

"As you pass this monument during the year, I hope you will think of all the men and women named here with respect.

"They had families too and many of them remain in Strathalbyn today.

"There are men and women among us who have lost family members not named here, but should be thought of as soldiers who were assigned the job of defending our way of life and the freedom we all enjoy."

The service ended with a minute's silence, and the playing of The Last Post, and New Zealand and Australian national anthems.

Paying respect for Anzac Day

By Deirdre Graham

Perfect cool weather greeted a strong crowd to Milang's Anzac Day service on Friday. Milang and District Community Association (MADCA) President Karyn Bradford led the service, with assistance from Daryl Telfer who sang the hymns, David and Sue Haeusler who did the readings, and Jess Micheltmore who sang the New Zealand and Australian anthems. Mrs Bradford was happy with the number of people who paid their respects. "We have a beautiful garden and memorial, and have a strong connection with local service people, so it was a beautiful time for reflection, and it is a lovely place for people to gather and to remember Anzac Day and the people who have served," she said. "It was lovely to see the turn-out, and for the people to be here supporting (service members). "It is school holidays and normally we would have the school come down, but it was nice to see that families were bringing their kids along to take part." Mrs Bradford said turmoil across the world made Anzac Day even more important. "It does cause us to reflect about what is going on with worldwide politics, and we are much more aware of it now than when we were in Anzac days," she said. "It took months for people to find out that their loved ones had died or were injured, and it is so different now." MADCA is keen to hear from any local ex-service people interested in joining the committee that plans the town's Anzac and Remembrance Day services.

Regiment receives honour for Somalia service

By Tara Nash

Milang veteran Greg Hopgood was among the returned soldiers from the 1st Battalion, the Royal Australian Regiment (1RAR) to recently receive an award for their deployment to Somalia 32 years ago. The Meritorious Unit Citation recognised the soldiers' professionalism, conduct and sacrifice, from December 1992 to May 1993. "Soldiers are finally getting recognised for their service," Mr Hopgood said. "There's now a legacy that it's left behind - (the citation) is forever in the (1RAR)." Soldiers were deployed to help stabilise Somalia which had fallen into a civil war in 1991. They stayed for 17 weeks, succumbed to extreme heat and conditions - no showers, fresh food or barely any rest. They were sent to Baidoa - the 'city of death' - which was "one of the most hostile" areas of operations. "Obviously there was fear, but we had a job to do," Mr Hopgood said. "There was an element of being scared but adrenaline overrides that fear - it's a survival mechanism. "You'd go out on a patrol and... are so alert, and I wanted to help - I wanted to get the gunmen off the street." 1RAR offered humanitarian aid, escorted people for security, and employed village elders as police and interpreters. "These poor buggers had lost all hope, and we gave them a little bit of hope when we were there," Mr Hopgood said. "They could start selling meat and vegetables in the markets, start walking the streets without getting knifed or shot, women could start walking the streets (with security)." Building "really good rapport" with the locals, the Australian soldiers would hand out milk caramels or water from their ration packs, play games or have slingshot fights. They bought items from the locals and traded with their rations. While showing strong discipline, the Australians gained respect from locals. Mr Hopgood felt a strong allegiance to protecting the children, who - despite not speaking English - would affectionately call out "Australia: number one" or "Hoppy" on the streets. Law and order was kept at water points which could be targeted by "bandits". Wanting to fill their clay pots, civilians joined a line-up that sometimes stretched to 600m long, 15m wide for 24 hours in 40C heat.

The most vulnerable, such as those who passed out or had young children, were given priority by the soldiers. Their determination and compassion enabled the safe distribution of humanitarian aid and the resumption of law and order. After returning to Australia, many soldiers retired from the army. "We were just drained - we'd had enough," Mr Hopgood said. "The stigma was so bad to have a mental illness, you were regarded as a failed soldier, or a coward." Mr Hopgood became a strong mental health advocate, and previously shared his own struggles with The Southern Argus to help reduce stigma while fundraising for other defence personnel and their families. He is also involved in Vietnam Veterans Federation's Camp Andrew Russell at Alawoona in the Riverland, to be used by veterans and their families to get away and have respite. The recent citation was presented during a parade at Townsville. It was the first time Mr Hopgood had seen many of those who he served alongside in 32 years, which he attended with his assistant dog Nas and partner Tash. They shared war stories and caught up on life since returning to Australia, with many now being fathers and grandfathers. "I wanted to meet all my mates... it was really, really good," Mr Hopgood said. "To walk the ground that I used to walk as 32 years ago - it's changed so much. "It was a proud moment for the regiment."

'Very good turn-out' at Goolwa for dawn service

By Tara Nash

Huge crowds attended Goolwa RSL Sub-Branch at dawn on Anzac Day, filling the carpark and front lawns. Some laid wreaths at the RSL's monument to stop and honour the sacrifices of Australians and New Zealanders who have served in military. President Ray Woods was pleased with the turnout including the many who stayed longer for breakfast. "It's been a good day to remember," he told The Southern Argus. "A lot of medals have been worn... (and) we've been very blessed with the weather."

Headstones unveiled for local personnel

Two local servicemen will be laid to rest with military headstones at Currency Creek Cemetery at an official unveiling ceremony next weekend. Started in Tasmania in 2011, the Headstone Project is a voluntary project dedicated to locating and ensuring all World War I veterans who served overseas have their final resting places suitably marked. In South Australia, volunteers search for World War I veterans who have died and whose graves are unmarked. After investigators confirm the gravesite and research the veteran's military history, they seek to locate a living relative or descendant, and then once all enquires are completed and appropriate cemetery authority requirements are met, the gravesite is marked with a prescribed military headstone consisting of a pedestal headstone and plaque that acknowledges the veteran's service to Australia. Of the most recent to be bestowed this honour are two servicemen who moved locally after the war and were laid to rest at Currency Creek Cemetery. One of them is Thomas Kiffen Barnes, who was born in Weetulla, near Moonta, on December 21, 1883, as one of seven children and enlisted in the AIF, joining the 51st Battalion, 8th Reinforcements at the age of 32 in August 1916. He arrived in England in February 1917, and after further training, was sent to France in June 1917. Barnes served in both France and Belgium, including at Messines Ridge, Ypres, the Somme and Villes-Brettoneaux, until the end of hostilities in November 1918. He returned to Australia in August 1919 and was discharged in September 1919. During his service he was hospitalised three times for mumps, pyrexia (fever), and in April 1918, for gunshot wounds to his left buttock. After the war, Barnes lived in Paris Creek and then Port Elliot, where he worked as a labourer and became involved in the Port Elliot Soldiers' Memorial Garden Association. He died in 1971 and was buried with his wife Muriel Adams in the Currency Creek Cemetery. Their daughter Jean Barnes coincidentally married Sydney Bowley – the other veteran being honoured at the ceremony. Bowley was born in Goolwa on June 15, 1891, as the youngest of eight children, and enlisted in November 1914, joining the 16th Battalion, 2nd Reinforcements. He left Australia in February 1915 and subsequently arrived at Gallipoli where his battalion was heavily involved in establishing the front line of the Anzac beach head. While there, Bowley suffered a gunshot wound to his left thigh, and in May 1915, was transferred to hospital in England. He re-joined his battalion – now the 48th – in Egypt, and after another period of hospitalisation for influenza, proceeded to France in June 1916. Bowley's first major action in France was at Pozieres in the Somme Valley in August 1916, where the Germans overran part of the line and resulted in himself, along with several others, being taken prisoner. However, after a bloody encounter involving the 14th Battalion, Bowley escaped. Unfortunately, on the following day he suffered a gunshot wound to his right wrist and buttock and was taken to England, where he was hospitalised for treatment. Bowley was invalided back to Australia in July 1917 and discharged as medically unfit in February the following year. After the war, he lived in Goolwa, where he worked as a painter and in 1943 married Jean Barnes who he had a daughter with. Bowley died on May 28, 1959 and was buried in Currency Creek Cemetery. Military headstones will be unveiled for the pair during a ceremony at the cemetery on Saturday, May 10 at 11am.

Hundreds gather to show respect

About 250 people gathered in the rain last Monday night for the Macclesfield RSL Sub-Branch's Anzac Twilight Service.

Macclesfield RSL Sub-Branch Vice-President Robert McNamara led the proceedings by explaining the importance of rituals at Anzac Day services such as the Ode to the Fallen, The Last Post, a minute's silence and the Rouse.

"In ancient times, a deceased body of somebody important awaiting burial might be laid on a large stone known as a Catafalque, guarded by soldiers," Mr McNamara said.

"This is why we have a Catafalque Party bearing arms around the memorial, respectfully guarding and protecting the fallen.

"Wreaths have been used since ancient times to honour the courage and bravery, as well as for mourning.

"If you stay in the barracks, you will be woken each morning by the bugle playing Rouse and sent to sleep at night with The Last Post.

"Here they are reversed deliberately. The Last Post played first signifies that our fallen have now gone to sleep in death and our minute's silence is to let them rest; to not awaken them."

The flag at half-mast signifies grief and loss.

"But when our silence is broken by the Rouse, this expresses the hope we have that death is not the end of the story," Mr McNamara added.

Also during the proceedings Chris Collins read the poem Flanders Field, Steve Boyd recited the Requiescat, and students from Macclesfield Primary School read a poem and wreaths were laid, before the school leaders also read the Veterans Covenant.

While it was natural in ceremonies like last Monday night's to focus on those from the community who paid the ultimate sacrifice, Mr McNamara said it was important to remember those who came home.

"When we characterise ourselves as Australians, we think about the country built by those who came home and infused our society with the traits that we hold dear," he said to the crowd.

"The returning Diggers from each conflict have contributed an enormous amount to our society, with leadership, resourcefulness, determination, and national pride.

"Whether they came home whole or wounded, or broken, their spirit is often an example to us all.

"When they enlisted and put on the uniform for the first time, they wrote a blank cheque to you and the nation, for the price of up to and including their life.

"For this we owe them all a debt of gratitude for what they have done for us."

Mr McNamara thanked the piper and bugler, barbecue volunteers and the Battunga Lions who provided tea and coffee.

A small group gathered at the Milang foreshore for the town's dawn service.

Organised by the Milang Marine Search and Rescue Squadron, the commemorative service started with a hymn, pastor reading and lord's prayer before a commemorative address was given and wreaths laid.

The Ode of Remembrance was recited before the playing of The Last Post, followed by a minute's silence, a reveille and the national anthem.

The service concluded with a gunfire breakfast.

Bike rider's one-of-a-kind sports car

Tony Stratton is keen to show off his Rago for those who would like to have a look. Photo: Deirdre Graham

By Deirdre Graham

Tony Stratton is a self-confessed motorbike lover, but he has one car that has also taken his fancy – a 1973 Rago – which is Italian for spider.

His Rago is believed to be the only one of its kind in the world – hand-built by Nick Davies and purchased by Mr Stratton's late brother Ken, before Mr Stratton took ownership of the vehicle after Ken died.

"Nick was an Ansett mechanic and he was friends with the late Garry Cooper, of Elfin Racing," Mr Stratton said.

"Elfin Racing originally started in Mount Barker and that is where it was built, so it has a good history about it and the body shape has a bit of Elfin design in it.

"Nick was in love with Ferraris and Le Mans-type vehicles, so that is how it came about.

"He basically hand-built the whole car. "It is a one-off vehicle – it is not a kit car – it has its own space frame and a fibreglass body over the top."

Mr Stratton loves his car's shape, how it looks, and how it handles, particularly on corners.

"The power in it is about 120 horsepower," he said.

"It has a four-cylinder Cortina 1600 engine and it weighs 610kg, so its power-to-weight ratio is really light.

"As it sits on the ground low, it tends to suck itself to the ground reasonably well, so cornering is never a problem, and the steering is very direct and easy to drive."

Some of the two-seater's attractions include that Cortina motor with a Volkswagen gear box, making it a mid-engine car.

"The engine has been fully worked, so it is balanced and blueprinted, (with) a three-quarter race cam in it," Mr Stratton said.

"It has got twin Weber carbs on it, so it is still carburettor and not fuel injection. "Unfortunately, when they built it, they didn't make a very big fuel tank on it – it only has 26 litres, while an average car has about 80."

The Rago is Mr Stratton's first sports car that he has owned, as he normally prefers motorcycles, including a Ducati ST4 2004 model that he still owns.

He says to build the car these days would cost you about $250,000.

"It is under historic club registration, so you have to put your log book details in before you go, otherwise you are in trouble," Mr Stratton said.

"When my brother bought it, he bought all the engineering drawings, plans and the body mould, so if something happens to go wrong with it, I can actually repair it.

"The car, on the track, will do about 170 to 180kmh, and it is mainly designed for cornering, so it gets around Mallala (racetrack) fairly quickly."

With all of the attractive bits about the car, its sentimental value was also important for Mr Stratton.

"Because it belonged to my brother, it has sentimental value to it," he said.

"He passed away about five years ago after a short stint of cancer.

"My brother was into racing as well.

"He had another car called a Tiga, which is a British racing car, that raced in Le Mans for a period of time.

"Ken was actually a mechanic for Tiga at Le Mans, even working for the Porsche team when (Australian) Vern Schuppan was driving."

Mr Stratton enjoys showing off his car, being a volunteer at Gilbert's Motor Museum, and a member of the Strathalbyn Auto Collectors Club.

"If it is a sunny day I tend to park it out the front of Gilbert's, which brings out some interest from people," he said.

"My plans are to just show it off, so people can actually see it, instead of it being locked away in the shed all the time.

"At the museum there are quite a few parents and children that come along, and I am quite happy to put the kids in it to have a sit – it's a one-off opportunity."

Temporary carpark considered

A silent protest at Mount Barker this weekend will oppose the proposed temporary parking at Paterson Reserve during the construction of the new Mount Barker Hospital.

The new $320.8 million Mount Barker Hospital at its existing site on Wellington Road is scheduled for completion in late 2027, delivered by the State Government.

With construction set to ramp up significantly throughout the year, construction partner Built has asked permission by Mount Barker District Council for the temporary use of Paterson Reserve.

An estimated 200 vehicles will be onsite for the duration of construction until 2027 – and up to 250 next year – which cannot be accommodated with the construction zone of the new hospital.

Built also considered a shuttle bus service to ferry tradespeople to the site each day, but decided it proposed numerous issues such as managing tools, and that construction workers would likely still park in the surrounding neighbourhood and impact nearby residents.

Council is now proposing an amendment to its Community Land Management Plan (CLMP) to allow this to happen.

Residents have organised the protest with concerns around what that means for community land and the impact to local habitat and nearby homes.

Community consultation will close on May 11 and feedback will be presented during the June meeting.

Hawk Kellock's 10 goals wins medal and sinks Roosters

By Perry Jones

The Anzac clash at Strathalbyn last Friday night turned out to be a fizzer as the Hawks, led by the Smith-Follett medal winner for Best on Ground in Jarrod Kellock with 10 goals, allowed the Hawks to be 14-goal winners.

The Roosters had the first goal on the board as Fergusson sent the ball forward for Newton to take a strong pack mark and then make no mistake, but then the Hawks took over as Kellock got his first of 10 thanks to a 25 metre penalty, and he was on his way to celebrate his 200th game for the Hawks.

Compass clear winners against GPE

Compass were the first to go forward, kicking to the southern end.

Nash was getting plenty of touches early, with both teams showing plenty of energy.

Goolwa/Port Elliot's Baille, out on the wing, provided a way forward and he was eventually rewarded, marking and goaling from 45 metres for the first goal of the game.

Clearing from the backlines with clarity and speed, Goolwa/Port Elliot soon found Fergusson up for another goal.

Having tried on several occasions, and Goolwa backs spoiling and defending well, the ball fell into the sharking Zimmerman's hands for a clever snap through the pack.

Sherry, clearing from centre, saw the ball forward into Connor's hands for a set shot and goal.

Sherry was awarded a free from a Goolwa/Port Elliot incorrect disposal and had a set shot, but although slightly astray, saw the ball plucked out of the air by Pinyon for another Compass goal.

Goolwa/Port Elliot, now seemingly livened up, contesting, and applying pressure, enabled Wilton to mark a loose kick in and pass quickly onto Iwao to even the goals.

Goolwa/Port Elliot's ability to clear from the backline was paying good dividends.

Camac, intercepting Goolwa/Port Elliot's attack, put a big kick deep into the Compass forward where Pinyon, marking with strength, helped himself to another goal.

McKenzie, always dangerous when a goal is on offer, goaled.

Goolwa/Port Elliot brought up the reply through a decisive clearance, and a combination getting the ball into Iwao's hands for a running goal.

It was a very even quarter, with Goolwa/Port Elliot showing improvement on last year and demonstrating slickness, with precision foot and hand around the packs.

Quarter-time scores were Goolwa/Port Elliot 4-2 to Compass 5-2.

Goolwa/Port Elliot, straight out of the blocks, sent the ball forward to Norman who, being disposed of illegally, received the free to bring up Goolwa/Port Elliot's first goal of the quarter.

Way, Connor and Nash combined well to get the ball to Pinyon who was able to get a boot on the ball for a soccered goal.

Compass, defending with strength, ran out of defence via Churchill and Zimmermann who passed on to McKenzie, leading and goaling.

Nash jumped in on the action as Compass sped the ball forward from the bounce.

It was Pinyon's turn again to goal, marking at short range from a strong marking contest.

A bit of a scruff up involving half the players at Goolwa/Port Elliot's half forward saw Carnelly come out with the ball to goal after the umpire had escorted him to the teeth of goals.

With strength in ruck, McKenzie pulled the ball out of the air and sent it into Pinyon's hands for another goal.

Sherry, with hard work, passed to Churchill who sent a pinpoint pass to Pinyon to help himself to another goal.

Compass, able to hold the ball in their full forward zone, was eventually rewarded when Nash plucked a goal out of nowhere with a hooking kick around the body.

Half-time scores were Goolwa/Port Elliot 6-2 to Compass 13-6.

With misty weather making the ball slippery, the ball tumbled from pack-to-pack.

Given the strength of Sherry at the bottom of the pack, Compass were able to work the ball forward where Connor, fouled in the pack goaled from a set shot.

Both teams were moving the ball quickly from end to end, but it was the full backlines of both teams that held up the other team.

In all this, Carnelly was doing more than his share for Goolwa/Port Elliot in the backlines.

It paid off with a fast run down the wing, resulting in a snap goal from Norman.

Through Turner, the ball was worked out of centre to McKenzie and onto Brences, snapping a clever goal.

Turner, always on the move and seeking opportunities, was also able to snap one as well.

Strong hackwork by Wilcox and Tolosa ran the ball forward through Perry to Pinyon for a goal right on the siren.

While the dampish conditions hampered ball handling, both teams were able to create space and run the ball forward, a well-contested quarter.

Third quarter scores were Goolwa/Port Elliot 7-4 to Compass 17-9.

Compass were the first forward, but unable to make a mark on the scoreboard until Turner, always about the place, threaded a lovely goal from deep in the pocket.

With the misty rain setting in, the ball was becoming difficult to manage as plenty of mistakes showed up.

Even chest marks went astray.

The game was played out mainly in the Compass half of the ground, with neither team working well in the close, tight conditions.

It wasn't until the ball returned from defence with open play through Turner, that Zimmerman was able snap a goal crumbing off an over attended Pinyon.

Pinyon, leaping over the crowd, finished his game with a well-deserved goal and added to his large tally for the day.

Nash, having endured a sling tackle, booted another from 45 metres.

Compass ran out clear winners.

Final scores were Goolwa/Port Elliot 7-4 to Compass 21-17.

Hawk Kellock’s 10 goals wins medal and sinks Roosters

By Perry Jones

The Anzac clash at Strathalbyn last Friday night turned out to be a fizzer as the Hawks, led by the Smith-Follett medal winner for Best on Ground in Jarrod Kellock with 10 goals, allowed the Hawks to be 14-goal winners.

The Roosters had the first goal on the board as Fergusson sent the ball forward for Newton to take a strong pack mark and then make no mistake, but then the Hawks took over as Kellock got his first of 10, thanks to a 25-metre penalty, and he was on his way to celebrate his 200th game for the Hawks.

While the Roosters did play some reasonable forward movement of the ball through Gladigau and Stafford, they met some solid rebound play from the Hawks’ Cleggett and Stirling resulting in the Roosters being unable to score for the rest of the term.

The Hawks, with Cates testing Welk in ruck, continued to mount their attacking tempo as the term went on seeing Adam Towk, Bruce, Felton, Matt Dominish along with Howell pump the ball forward, as Kellock had their second goal on the board when Howell delivered after picking off a Rooster pass.

Howell also set Kellock up for his third for the term as Duffield, Scott and Pegler tried to stop the Hawk advances.

Kellock was in for his fourth goal when William Bruce sent in a bullet-like pass for him to mark before Elliot Towk got into the goal kicking action for the Hawks.

It was a down field free that allowed Kellock to kick his fifth goal for the term and deliver a 31-point lead at the end of it.

A good lead by Kellock saw him kick the first goal for the Hawks in the second term before the Roosters looked like they might rally to the challenge as they had the reply, after a couple of misses, when Gladigau took the ball off hands to put it through the middle of the two big sticks.

While Fergusson was lifting the Roosters’ work around the ground with Gladigau, the Roosters suffered a blow when Gladigau left the ground after being flattened by a crude Hawk tackle.

The Roosters did get the next goal through Fergusson, as Newton on the ground got the handball to him, but the Hawk defence through Yard, Derham and Tonkin continually hustled the Roosters to block any further movement to their score.

Jackson Dalitz, William Bruce and Kellock, up the ground a bit, were still delivering the ball up forward as the Rooster tried hard to limit the damage through Weckert, playing his first A Grade game for many years, and Duffield.

The Hawks were off target with three behinds in a row before late in the term they saw Howell goal, followed by Jackson Dalitz making no mistake from a free and then Kellock was in for his seventh goal of the match.

It was then a handball by Elliot Towk to Howell for the final goal of the term to the Hawks as they went in at half-time 55 points clear.

The Roosters started on the wrong foot in the third term when Kellock was left unattended in the goal square to kick his eighth goal for the game, but a bit more effort was noticed in the Roosters game to at least hold the Hawks for the rest of the term.

With Welk having a bit more say in ruck the Roosters had the likes of Newton, Fergusson, Kenny and Pegler, now in attack, putting a bit more pressure on the Hawk defence.

Goals were still hard to get for the Roosters but after Grant missed from a free as Kenny sent the ball forward, it was then Kenny running through for the handball that saw him goal for the Roosters, followed by Wheaton being set up by Grant.

However, the Hawks, in being quicker to get the ball in the right position to attack, continued to test the Rooster defence work being led by Stutley and Duffield.

Dominish, Cameron Bates, Stirling, Henry Bruce, Felton and Hall were getting their fair share of the ball as Kellock kicked his ninth for the game to give the Hawks a three-quarter-time lead of 47 points.

The final term and the Roosters caved in as the Hawks had no trouble peeling off their opponents to set up attacking moves with Stirling, Dominish, Felton and William Bruce in the thick of things, while rebound work from Derham, Murgatroyd, Yard, Kropp and Cleggett also contributed to their cause.

The Roosters had Scott, Kenny, Hann-Barke and Newton trying to lift them but to no avail with just one behind for the term, as the Hawks had their first goal on the board after Howell, getting the handball out, buttered up to receive a handball back to convert.

Then it was Jackson Dalitz dodging traffic banging through another full pointer before Kellock, taking the handball from Dominish, made it 10 goals for the match.

The Hawks kept going as James, Lachlan Bates and finally Howell, booting his fourth goal of the match, wrapped up a much-needed win to get off the bottom of the ladder and hand that position to the Roosters.

In true ANZAC style the Mighty Mudlarks mauled the toothless Tigers early in the first quarter but couldn't convert on the scoreboard.

Chloe and Summer were bouncing brilliantly with inspiring intercepts court wide.

Mae marched forward at every opportunity to attack as Baley belted through the middle with many snappy side steps.

Sienna was calm and feisty in the goal circle and the girls fought tooth and nail all quarter to finish a couple down at the first break.

Bonnie was bolting brilliantly in attack and Olivia's relentless rebounds kept the Mudlarks in contention during a tightly contested second quarter thriller.

Alinta was deadly in defence but goals were still alluding to the Green Machine at the main break.

Imposing clouds closed in and the girls' moods darkened.

They played like people possessed as Bonnie banged in a couple of difficult goals.

Mae made many magnificent moves through the middle and dominated the centre.

Sienna sank a real ripper to start the last quarter.

The girls were gritty as the rain wreaked havoc but Bonnie and Sienna peppered the ring while Summer and Chloe held the Tigers on a leash down back.

Bailey bounced down the court but the Tigers roared a little louder than the Mudlarks this week. Coaches Ros and Alicia led from the front as shining lights and said all the girls have a bright future ahead.

Myponga got off to a good start with some great passages of play from defence all the way through to attack where we were able to score with beautiful movement and shooting by Lily Bongiorno.

Yankalilla lifted their intensity throughout the game, however the Myponga girls were able to match it and come away with their first win of the season.

Thank you to the umpires, scorers and timer.

Myponga 28 def by Yankalilla 39

Both teams started the game with lots of pressure.

At the first break Yankalilla were up by 3.

Yankalilla's Sophie Blackburn capitalised on rebounds and continued to apply pressure to see her team's lead at half time up by 5.

Myponga's defensive pressure was good, with Ruby Tomlinson applying pressure through the mid court.

However Yankalilla continued to build on to their lead to 9 going into the last quarter.

Myponga made changes, and Yankalilla won the match by 11.

Great game by both teams. Thank you to scorers, timer and primary carer.

Inter 2

Myponga 21 def by Yankalilla 42

Not a complaint could be made about the weather, as we were graced with dry courts and a cool breeze.

The first quarter saw Yankalilla take off with a steady lead while Myponga's goalies took some time to get settled.

Myponga's defensive end continued to hold pressure throughout the second quarter, and the goalies set into a rhythm to match Yankalilla, leaving Myponga down by only 9 goals at half time.

An unexpected rolling sub introduced one of Myponga's routine mid-courtters to a quick trip to the goal circle for the first time, during which she scored a greatly commended goal.

The girls from Yankalilla turned their game up a notch in the third quarter, taking them to a comfortable lead by three quarter time.

Despite the difference in score, the Myponga girls continued to raise their game, bringing the intensity and enthusiasm to the court in the final quarter.

Unfortunately, Yankalilla were too good

Inter 4

Myponga 26 def by Yankalilla 51

These girls played well.

Some played out of position against a tight opponent, but overall the Myponga girls certainly held their own.

Great defence from the Yankalilla team kept Myponga goals down but you can't take it away from the Myponga girls for trying.

Yankalilla had great plays down the court into their goal ring.

With Myponga being reduced to 6 players in the third quarter they held their heads high and rallied together to play a great quarter.

However, Yankalilla came out winners.

Myponga 50 def Yankalilla 35

Myponga had a great win over Yankalilla on Saturday, taking the game 50 to 35.

Myponga came out firing right from the start, and quickly applied huge defensive pressure throughout the court.

The defenders worked together to create turnovers and kept the pressure up all game, forcing errors and turnovers.

Meanwhile, Myponga's mid-court transitioned the ball quickly, calmly and smoothly throughout the court to finish well under the post.

Yankalilla had great passages of play from defence to offence throughout the game, however it was not enough to secure the win.

The intensity of the game was unmatched with both teams leaving everything on the court and creating a competitive atmosphere.

Well done to both Myponga and Yankalilla.

Myponga faced off against Yankalilla in Round 3 on Saturday afternoon.

We had a slow start, but then lifted to match Yankalilla goal for goal in the first quarter, trailing by just one at the first break, 6-7.

In the second quarter, Yankalilla capitalised on a few turnovers and pulled ahead, but our defensive pressure and teamwork kept us in the contest, going into halftime behind 12-18.

We continued to fight hard in the third quarter, with our mid-court driving the ball well into attack.

However, Yankalilla maintained their accuracy in goals, stretching their lead to 21-32 by the final break.

In the last quarter, we kept pushing right to the final whistle, but Yankalilla proved too strong, eventually taking the win 39-26.

It was a great effort by all our players, and we look forward to building on the positives from this game as we head into next week's match.

Myponga 53 def Yankalilla 14

Myponga started strongly with great defensive pressure by Amy, Merridie and Tarnia to cause many turnovers, which allowed our goalies to score.

Abby and Billie worked together well when bringing the ball into attack, where Alesia moved and drove hard in the circle to make it difficult for the Yank defenders.

Yankalilla worked hard all game, but Myponga were able to run out with a good win in the end. Thank you to Jackie for umpiring and Merilyn for checking the score.

Senior 5

Myponga 31 def Yankalilla 23

With a strong competitive spirit from both teams, this week's match against Yankalilla proved to be a nail-biter right from the first whistle.

Yankalilla's defensive end was solid from the get-go, putting a compelling amount of pressure on to Myponga's goalies.

They responded well to the challenge

Myponga headed a short drive down to Yankalilla and were presented with ideal playing conditions compared to the two hot previous weeks.

The first two quarters saw an even battle between both teams.

Yankalilla dominated the third quarter with good feeding into the shooters and silly mistakes by Myponga.

Line up changes in the fourth quarter where Sophie Kahl took the court as GA saw Myponga win the last quarter by six.

However, Yankalilla came away with the win. Thank you to scorers, timekeepers and umpires.

This week saw the dynamic duo of Deb Halse and Paula Bongiorno return to the team which added a spark and confidence to the group.

Whilst Yank shooter Melissa Churchward proved to be unstoppable utilising her height, Myponga raced away with the win.

and were shooting well, bringing Myponga to lead by just 3 goals at quarter time.

Both teams maintained the passion throughout the second quarter, where we saw Myponga's defenders hold their own and collaborate well with their mid-courtters.

Yankalilla's ladies remained solid, keeping the game tight.

Myponga entered the third quarter with a 4-goal lead, and with a couple of valuable interceptions by one of their defenders who was playing exceptionally well, they were able to grow this tight difference to 6 goals by three-quarter time.

Once set foot into the final quarter, Yankalilla's defenders continued to rise, lifting their intensity to extreme.

Once again, Myponga's goalies adapted well, using the rise of the opposition to their own benefit.

The accuracy of the goals sustained and Myponga used the interchange wisely within the last 5 minutes to tie them up.

The game ended with an excellently earned 8-goal win for Myponga. Thank you to the scorers, timers and umpires.

Both teams showed strong defensive pressure which saw many turnovers.

At the main break Strathalbyn's strong defence kept Creek scoreless and leading by 3.

The second half saw Creek lift, scoring a goal to great applause.

Strathalbyn continued their defensive pressure adding another 3 for the final half.

Great sportsmanship by both teams. Well done to everyone.

13&U (1)

Strathalbyn 48 v Langhorne Ck 8

On Anzac Day Eve we took on our neighbours Creek at home.

We started strong with excellent defence and made it count down the other end.

Great team play was shown all over the court and the girls showed their versatility by playing out of position, but still playing strong, running out with a comfortable win.

Thanks to our fill ins this week Eliza, Harper, Anna and Chloe. Go Strath.

13&U (3)

Strathalbyn 12 v Langhorne Ck 11

Very close game against Langhorne Creek, both sides fought hard right until the end.

Inter 1

Strathalbyn 31 v Langhorne Ck 50

Creek were a step ahead from the first whistle, they played strong through attack and defensively took away any run from Strath.

Strath made adjustments and saw some intensity lift, however were outplayed on the day.

Inter 2

Strathalbyn 44 v Langhorne Ck 25

Great start to the first quarter by the Strath girls saw an early lead, with the second following similar suit as excellent mid court defence and a speedy attack led to a 15-goal lead at half time.

A third quarter dip saw an even quarter but Strath soon picked back up in the last to remain on top.

Inter 4

Strathalbyn 44 v Langhorne Ck 7

Strathalbyn had a slow start to the game, with some inaccurate passing and missed opportunities despite making several strong interceptions.

The first quarter reflected this with a low-scoring effort.

After a motivating chat from the coach at the break, the girls came out firing in the second quarter, finally capitalizing on their defensive pressure and sticking to their game plan.

Once the goalies found their rhythm, there was no stopping them, with great accuracy and confidence in goals.

Strathalbyn dominated the remainder of the match, finishing with an impressive 44-7 victory.

League

Strathalbyn 37 v Langhorne Ck 33

Spectators were treated to a quality and physical encounter worthy of the Anzac Day clash between Strathalbyn and Langhorne Creek.

Creek burst out of the blocks first, gaining plenty of touches in defence and delivering them downcourt in a flurry of long and fast passes.

Strathalbyn were able to weather the storm in the first quarter, staying in touch just 2 goals down.

From there the Reds rallied, gaining plenty of turnover ball and defensive rebounds which were converted, showcasing a high percentage in goals for Strathalbyn across the game.

A settled and solid display saw Strathalbyn continue to create opportunities while Creek never gave up, constantly pushing back.

Once in front on the scoreboard, Strathalbyn never looked back holding on to be 4-goal winners.

Indilee Pedler was a deserving Anzac Day medallist after a blistering game dominating across C and WD positions.

Senior 2

Strathalbyn 37 v Langhorne Ck 34

With both teams searching for their first win of the season, it was a tough and physical game for all four quarters.

Strath were able to hold their composure when it mattered to come out close winners.

Senior 3

Strathalbyn 35 v Langhorne Ck 46

It was a close game until the end.

Both teams had a nice blend of youth and experience.

Creek got out to a 5-goal lead in the first quarter then the game remained even for the next two quarters, the margin just 6 at three quarter time.

Both defensive ends worked really hard but the extra height in Creeks attack helped when it counted.

Crucial rebounds helped them pull away in the last to an 11 goal win.

Great improvement from Strath.

Next week we will get there. Well done both teams.

Senior 4

Strathalbyn 27 v Langhorne Ck 34

Creek came out early with fabulous defence and capitalising on errors down the court.

Strath knew Creek would not let easy passes through.

Strath worked hard to keep the ball safe, getting some great turnovers themselves and transitioned the ball well down the court.

The versatility of the Strath team helped utilizing subs, while still getting to know what the best combinations are.

Creek had a side that remains fairly similar to last season, and was too strong on the day.

Senior 5

Strathalbyn 25 v Langhorne Ck 42

In a fiery ANZAC Day showdown between traditional rivals Strathalbyn and Milang North (thought we were playing Langhorne Creek, but a lack of double letter last names confused us).

Tensions were high, bodies hit the floor, and defenders treated the goal circle like sacred turf.

It was less netball, more trench warfare.

Coach went full Sun Tzu, shifting magnets on the board like a high-stakes game of mahjong. Every whistle brought a new formation, some strategic, some interpretive.

If it weren't for seasoned generals Sara, Kym and Catherine holding the fort at the bookends of the court, Strathalbyn's average age would've dipped into 'eligible for the Inters' territory.

Our mid-court nursery of our youngsters battled bravely, but the experience and polish of Milang North proved too strong.

Massive shoutout to Ava, playing her first senior game like an absolute legend, and Amarlee for stepping up when the team needed reinforcements. True ANZAC spirit.

Final score: Milang North 42 def. Strathalbyn 25.

A tough loss, but the spirit of the Red and White remains unbroken. We'll be back — older, wiser, and hopefully with more magnets.

Senior 6

Strathalbyn 41 v Langhorne Ck 36

The annual ANZAC Day netball clash between Strathalbyn and Langhorne Creek lived up to its reputation, delivering a hard-fought contest filled with intensity and spirit.

Both sides came out firing in the first quarter, with neither team giving an inch.

It was in the second and third quarters where Strathalbyn began to take control.

Capitalising on key turnovers and lifting their defensive pressure, Strathalbyn pushed ahead on the scoreboard.

Langhorne Creek continued to fight hard in the final quarter, showing great determination, but the gap created in the middle of the game by Strathalbyn proved too much to bridge..

Senior 7

Strathalbyn 30 v Langhorne Ck 39

Strath put on another amazing Anzac Day game, with the weather being much better for playing netball.

How lucky are we to be able to play on Anzac Day?

The Strath 7s had a bit of a slow start but managed to find their groove in the second half.

Unfortunately, the damage was done and we weren't able to make up enough goals to win.

Happy that Socksie was able to come along and still be part of the team by helping us from the bench.

Hopefully we'll see you back on court before the end of the season!

Always a good battle against the Creek, thanks for a good game.

Southern Fleurieu SAPSASA Term One highlights

SWIMMING: Southern Fleurieu Top Country Zone at State Championship

Our first event was our local Zone Swimming Carnival at the Strathalbyn Pool on February 27. The Investigator swim factory continued their domination winning both shields for the third year in a row, with Encounter Lutheran second and Port Elliot third.

An amazing 13 records were broken with Sebastian Warhurst from Investigator having an exceptional meet smashing five records.

Poppy Hampel and Jackson Kluske from Encounter also had big days, claiming four each.

After so many great swims at our zone carnival we had high hopes for our team at the State Championship at Marion on Friday, April 4, and they didn't disappoint, with Southern Fleurieu swimmers coming away with a swag of medals - 10 Gold, 4 Silver and 5 Bronze.

Poppy and Sebastian were again our standout performers with both winning three individual golds in their three events. This saw us end up a very creditable second in Division 2, and we were again the top Country District zone.

Congratulations to all our swimmers and our coach Rob.

STATE SOFTBALL CARNIVAL: Southern Fleurieu boys win, and the girls finish an unlucky third

On March 26 our two softball teams competed in Division 3 in the State Softball Carnival at West Beach.

After having most of the boys playing in last year's carnival our hopes were high for an improved carnival, and the boys took all before them in the first two days winning all their games convincingly.

Despite narrowly losing a game on the Friday, they ended up on top of their division in a fantastic result for the team.

Our girls team again were joined by a couple of Kangaroo Island girls, and coach.

The girls were competitive in all games finishing a very creditable equal third in an even competition.

They were unlucky to not come out on top losing to the second and first teams by only one run.

BOYS AFL CARNIVAL: Eastern Fleurieu and Mt Compass carnival winners again

On Wednesday, the last week of term one, eight schools from our zone competed in our zone carnival.

All games were played in great spirit. Eastern Fleurieu were dominant in winning the Large Schools Division.

In a more even Smaller Schools, Division 2, competition Mt Compass were also undefeated. Thanks again to the Victor High students for umpiring all the games.

TERM 2: It's going to be a busy term with cross country, boys' AFL, netball and our athletics carnival to look forward to.

Racing season concludes at West Lakes

During April, nine members of the Goolwa Rowing Club (GRC) competed at the final two local regattas for this season.

The Masters and Sprint Regatta was held on April 5 and the final competition for the season – the Masters and Sprint State Championships – occurred on April 12.

Dave England, Brian Lynch, Simon Thornton, Simon Burr, Gavin Hewitt, Diana Tebneff, Libby Thornton, Natasha Vassos and Kate Tebneff competed in single, double and quadruple scull events in both regattas.

The sprint events were held over a distance of 500m, with the masters events being 1000m.

The GRC support crew of Stef Wilden, Judy Younger, Suzy Klepper, David Maschmedt, Jacki Woodhead, David Trinne and Bryan Francis fulfilled various volunteer roles and provided great encouragement for all rowers.

Many top three placings were gained at both of the regattas.

Simon Burr, Simon Thornton, Natasha Vassos and Kate Tebneff competed in Division 1 of the mixed quadruple scull event on April 5.

In near-perfect conditions, they rowed with precision and strength from start to finish, claiming a well-deserved victory.

In the final race for Goolwa rowers in the Masters State Championships, Libby Thornton, Diana Tebneff, Natasha Vassos and Kate Tebneff combined to compete in the women's quadruple scull event.

They were well-pleased with their sub four-minute time for the race, and it was a great way to end the SA racing season for 2024/2025.

This year the Australian Masters Rowing Championship will be held at the Sydney International Regatta Centre, commencing in late May.

Kate Tebneff and Natasha Vassos have once again been selected in the South Australian Masters Squad for this prestigious event.

At the conclusion of the regatta at West Lakes on April 12, Tebneff and Vassos were congratulated on their achievement by Rowing SA officials, and were presented with their state apparel.

They will compete in events representing Goolwa Rowing Club as well as competing in interstate events.

Diana Tebneff, Dave England, Simon Thornton, Simon Burr, Libby Thornton and Gavin Hewitt will also travel to Sydney to represent the Goolwa Rowing Club in the Championship event.

SDBA 2024/25 Summer Grand Final

The Strathalbyn and District Basketball Association (SDBA) held its 2024/25 Summer Grand Final on March 30.

In the Freshman Boys the Magpies defeated the Bears 47 to 23, while the Falcons defeated the Stallions in the Freshman Girls 28 to 20.

The Raiders defeated the Ravens 45 to 39 in the Sophomore Boys, while in the Sophomore Girls, the Falcons defeated the Eagles 38 to 33, and in the Graduate Boys, the Eagles defeated the Bears 60 to 54.

In the B Grade, the Men's team The No Stars defeated the Silverbacks 36 to 28, while the Women's team Langhorne Creek Purple defeated the Road Runners 22 to 17.

In the A Grade, the Men's team Veterans defeated the Martians 36 to 35, while the Women's team The Bucketts defeated the Storm U18s 56 to 31.

The Senior Season MVPs in the B Grade were Sam Fletcher with David Warren named runner-up and Isla Wagenknecht with Quba Verwey named runner-up, while in the A Grade, it was Joel Hodgson with Elliott Duffield named runner-up and Emerson Beeching with Kiana Sochacki named runner-up.

New life membership was also awarded to Lyndsee Frost.

Frost's journey with the SDBA began in 2002 as a junior player, and her love for the sport has only grown since.

From 2003 to 2007, she proudly represented the Storm as a junior representative, and by 2011, she transitioned to coaching, where she has shaped countless young athletes in the Strathalbyn Storm program.

Her role as a mentor, coach, and co-ordinator has spanned more than a decade, and as coach of Strathalbyn Storm from 2011 to 2024, Frost has not only led teams but has guided fellow coaches, organised programs, and ensured the development of future leaders within the club.

She has coached at the SA Country Basketball level since 2013, and since 2015, she has been at the helm of the SA Country Basketball Nationals team.

Frost has taken her expertise across borders, coaching the SA High Performance Program tour of America in 2016 and leading the Australian Junior Country Basketball Cup's New Zealand tour in 2017.

And at Storm, she has the rare accolade of being a Division 1 Title winning coach, breaking a drought at the club of 20 years.

But the club said what truly sets Frost apart is her commitment to personal growth, not only as a coach but as a mentor, friend, and community member.

"She is deeply invested in the well-being of her athletes, often supporting them with schoolwork, offering a listening ear during difficult times and driving many players to trainings or games," the club said.

"She has played an integral role in the ongoing growth of our junior development system, helping local Strathalbyn athletes achieve their goals and striving for success in higher performance programs.

"Her relationships with coaches and basketball associations across the country have enriched our program and fostered growth within the sport.

"As a coach, Frosty is known for her sportsmanship, kindness, and genuine care for everyone involved in the game.

"She values her competitors, respects officials, and demonstrates exemplary conduct that both athletes and coaches alike look up to."

Strathalbyn Strikers v FC Summit

The Strathalbyn Strikers A Grade looked to kickstart their season after a disappointing first two rounds when they hosted FC Summit at the Polo & Recreation Grounds.

The away side were coming in off strong form, winning their first two games against Southern Breakers and Murray Bridge.

The Strikers were strengthened by many A Grade reinforcements, with Sam Witt, Brodie Kaltenbrunner, TK Mashinge, Gareth Allely, and debutant Ciaran Shouksmith all coming into the side, while the coach opted for a more traditional formation of four at the back.

Shouksmith came with a sterling playing history and it was on full display just 13 minutes into the match when he headed home a well-delivered corner from Captain Ben Clayton at the back post.

Summit was shocked into action and immediately retaliated with attacking plays, narrowly missing on several occasions before equalising after a neat run on the wing from Finlay Gautier ended with him finessing a shot into the back of the net, despite Witt's best efforts in the left back position.

The game was played at a high intensity, with many strong challenges being showed by each side.

Shouksmith again tested the Summit defence with a gut-busting run down the left-hand side.

Mashinge was also showcasing his core strength that the Strikers had missed so far this year, continuously holding off opposing midfielders and feeding the ball out wide to Kaltenbrunner and Josh Larkin.

However, it was the away side that took the lead after another piece of well-worked play on the right saw a lofted cross headed into the back of the net by James Bremner.

Although the linesman flagged for offside, the referee opted to overrule him and award the goal, deciding that he had a better angle of the back post run.

The next 10 minutes would see plenty of action as tensions rose between the two sides.

After another attacking play ended in the Strikers defensive 18-yard box, defender Rob Jeffries slid into a Summit forward and the referee pointed straight to the spot, Jeffries receiving a yellow card in the process.

Tom Richardson thought he had scored his spot kick, but the referee had not blown his whistle, and he was forced to retake it.

Coach Daniel Moore was in goal this week for the hosts, and he correctly guessed the direction of the following penalty, getting down low to his right to palm it onto the post.

Within mere minutes of the save, the Strikers were on the attack with a counter, and striker Naite Hider was fouled as he was about to take a shot on goal.

This started a tussle on the edge of the box and Hider was subsequently sent off after the referee heard some unsavoury language.

With the Strikers down to 10 men, they hung on for the remainder of the half to go into the rooms one goal behind.

Moore was forced into an early retirement from the game after a leg issue sustained from a one-on-one challenge earlier in the game, and right back Noah Bailey pulled on his goalie top to take his place.

Henry Thomas entered the game to replace Bailey in right back, and the game restarted in a similarly tense fashion to the first.

Although down to 10, Strathalbyn were not to be beaten so easily as they rallied hard.

Mashinge and Clayton worked well in the middle to win the ball and play it up through to the front three, and Shouksmith found himself in the box with enough time to take a shot.

After beating his defender he rifled the ball through the goalkeeper's legs to even up the game at 2-2.

Allely and Jeffries both played exceptionally in the backline to keep Summit at bay, while Bailey pulled off superb saves to keep out shots from Adam Rich and Matthew Halliday, but Summit finally retook the lead after Rich rounded the keeper from a through ball and placed the ball coolly into the back of the net.

The game finished 3-2 but the crowd were proud of the home side's tenacity to continue pressing throughout the match, and the squad can take plenty of positives despite losing for the third time this season.

Earlier in the day, the C Grade got their first win of the season against the same opponents with a 3-0 victory, with Jack Farrimond, Moore and recruit Mick Larkin all scoring.

The B Grade also got a decisive victory, 4-1 winners with a hat-trick to Captain Bill Brooks and a solo goal to striker Liam Ansell.

Both sides sit third in their respect ladders, with the A Grade still yet to pick up a point and sitting on the bottom of the standings.

Goolwa Rowing Club represented at Easter Regatta

Kate Tebneff recently competed in the annual Mildura and Wentworth Easter Regatta.

This year the event was held in Mildura, with events being contested on Easter Saturday and Sunday.

Tebneff competed in a total of eight events over the course of the regatta, with races being held over distances of both 500m and 1000m.

Tebneff competed in several single scull events and combined with Kelly Lewis from Murray Bridge to compete in the double scull category.

She had a highly successful and enjoyable regatta, and finished in first position in seven of her eight events.

International rowers experience the Mighty Murray

During March, Goolwa Rowing Club Coach Stef Wilden welcomed several international rowers to the Fleurieu Peninsula and beyond.

They came from far and wide, including Switzerland, the Netherlands, Portugal and Canada.

Wilden organised a week of tour rowing for her guests, and they spent several days in the Riverland where they were able to row along several of the magnificent stretches of water in the region.

A day of rowing at Port Adelaide was also included in the itinerary, which was a highlight of the tour for many of the visitors as they rowed alongside a pod of dolphins for part of their adventure.

The week concluded with two local rows – both commenced at Rankine's Landing on Hindmarsh Island.

The first row was to Sugars Beach and return, with the final row being to Currency Creek and return.

The weather on the return journey from Currency Creek proved challenging for rowers, and even after rowing a total distance of approximately 145kms for the week, rowers dug deep to complete their experience on the mighty Murray River.

Local and international rowers enjoyed rowing down the River Murray.

Murray Bridge Rifle Club

Five TR and four F-Class shooters competed in the 25th stage of the Murray Bridge Rifle Club's annual championship on Saturday from the farthest distance of 1000 yards.

The conditions, as seems normal of late, were challenging, with a strong wind from the right that gusted and lulled at irregular intervals, keeping scores lower.

Top off-rifles for the day were Robert Paech in TR (86.05), ahead of Andrew Heard (84.01) and John Cranwell in F-Open (109.04), two points ahead of Mark Nesti (107.05). Rob also claimed the TR Handicap award on 93.2, ahead of Greg Traeger on 92.2 while Mark and John tied in F-Class on 114.4 a-piece.

Club precedent awarded the daily win to the shooter with the longest handicap, meaning Mark took the three points for the day.

Special congratulations also go to club members who were successful at the Fathers and Sons Anzac Day shoot, the day previously.

John Cranwell, in F-Open, was top-off rifle and Anzac Medal winner, not dropping a point across the two rounds and the shoot off.

Andrew Heard and Greg Traeger, both in TR, also shot double possibles, with Andrew's 80.10, the second highest on the day, earning him a place in the shoot-off, as well as the Ex-Servicemen's and Veteran's Trophy.

Greg's score of 80.05, wasn't quite enough to earn a place in the shoot-off, such was the competition this year.

Andrew Heard and Frank Marshall also formed one half of an Open Pairs winning combination in TR (with Daniel Nesbitt), and F-Class (with Tyron Murphy), respectively.

Competition continues at the Murray Bridge Rifle Club next week, from 300 metres.

Andrew Heard prepares to fire from 1000 yards.

John Cranwell (FO) was all smiles after winning top off-rifle and the ANZAC Medal, not dropping a point all day.

Mt Barker Rifle Club

In the cool of the early morning, shooters once more gathered at the Mount Barker and District Rifle Club on Anzac Day to remember the fallen, to pay tribute to both past and currently serving members of the Australian Defence Forces, and to compete in the Annual Fathers and Sons Competition.

The competition, now open to all possible combinations of family, collects many from around the state, with those whose names have long histories within the shooting movement and those who are just beginning.

This year the 46 who competed were rewarded with cool conditions with the rain holding off until after the shoot, and with the gentlest wind that can be remembered at the notoriously hard to read range in Mount Barker, it still held a surprise for anyone who let their guard down.

Testament to this was the high number of shooters who didn't drop a point during the two rounds of eight from 600 yards, and the very high scores registered in the shoot offs for the Anzac Medals at the end of the day.

Individual honours for the day went to Philip Bradshaw (TR), Malcolm Hill (FStd) and John Cranwell (FO) who won the Anzac Medals for their disciplines in a very tight contest, especially in TR where the shoot off went past the set eight shots in order to determine a winner.

Top off-rifle scores for the day went to Duncan Muller (TR) with 80.11, Bill Gillis (FStd) with 95.03 and John Cranwell (FO) with 96.08.

Other individual honours were the 'Jock Waugh Trophy' for the top scoring veterans (over 60) which was shared between Phil Bradshaw and Andrew Heard, both scoring 80.10.

Andrew Heard's score was also the top score on the day by an 'Ex-Serviceman'.

Rounding out the individual honours was Duncan Muller, who also won the 'Robert Richards-Mousley Trophy' for the highest scoring junior shooter (under 25).

Family honours were divided initially into the historic 'Father and Son' award.

This year winners of the 'Stien Shield' in TR were the father and daughter combination of Philip Bradshaw and Lynlee Lowe with 160.17.

Philip and Lynlee also won the 'Sarre Cup' handicapped trophy.

The F-Open off-rifle winners, claiming the 'Braund Family Shield', were Stuart and Hamish Jolly, scoring 184.07.

The 'Husband and Wife' Trophy went Lynlee and Anaki Tovale, while Lynlee and sister Bronwyn Hajek won the 'Ted Deed Trophy' for top scoring siblings.

Phil Bradshaw was a winner again in the 'Bill James Trophy' for the top scoring Grandparent/Grandchild combination, with granddaughter Rachel Hajek, while Rachel and Lynlee Lowe claimed the 'In-Laws Shield'.

The competition also recognises those who come on their own to support the event, and to commemorate Anzac Day in this unique fashion by awarding 'Open Pairs' in each discipline.

This year in TR, it was won by Andrew Heard and Daniel Nesbitt, while in F-Class the winners were Frank Marshall and Tyron Murphy.

The Fathers and Sons Association thanked everyone for their ongoing support of this special and unique event in the shooting calendar, and looked forward to its continued success next year, when it will again be held on Anzac Day at the Mount Barker and District Rifle Club.

Shooters gather at Mount Barker in unusually still conditions.

Strathalbyn Ladies Golf

Foggy start for Wednesday Golf

Conditions almost looked like winter golf with a fog wrapping itself around the golf course on Wednesday.

A total of 14 ladies ventured out to challenge themselves on the course, which played a bit slower due to the dampness on the fairways.

Sadly, this was not rain causing this, but watering by our course volunteers, who are trying to maintain a green cover on the fairways.

Before the game started, Kerrie Edwards was claiming that she had not played to her handicap for six months.

This all changed on Wednesday as she did play to her handicap and came in as the winner of the day.

She was also sporting a new look in leg wear, wearing a smart-looking pair of gaiters.

It was suggested that they might be to keep any creepy crawlies that were around the course from crawling up her legs, but she informed us that she wore these gaiters to keep little stones from getting into her golf shoes, and it worked she said.

Carol Pelle, who was proudly doing 'show and tell' before the game, as she has just become Grannie to Isabelle, and had a good game to be runner-up on the day.

However, I did see her in the creek on the sixth and 15th, and thought she would have learned first time around.

Her score would have been much better if these mishaps had not occurred.

Gill Keane was a little wayward on the third hole, with one of her shots landing on the 18th tee block.

Not daunted by all the trees between her and the green, she had a super shot and landed it on the green - a great recovery Gill.

Di Krutli also had a bit of trouble on the third fairway, with one of her shots hitting a stick and spearing into the bushy tree on right of hazard.

It lodged high up, and even Di, who is quite tall, had a bit of trouble recovering it.

Di also had a nice second shot on 17th to be a couple of metres from the hole and was looking like a winner of the nearest the pin.

However, Jo Cullen had a pin high tee shot, so she then got out her Mexican chipper, putter to the those who are not familiar with that stick, and putted straight over Di's marker and into the hole for a birdie gobbler and NTP. Amazing! I did ask if anyone had done anything remarkable on the course and Sue Phillips informed us that yes she had, and that was she played 18 holes today and had her best score ever - good work Sue.

Tonya Merritt suggested she was not smiling today and some interesting language was the result. Golf can be so unforgiving Tonya, missed putts really hurt! The girls then had an informal meeting to get planning underway for our famous Gala Day.

We have lots of entries so far, so looks like it will be another great event for us.

Made it! Veteran golfer Jo Cullen at the top of Mount Remarkable celebrating her 80th birthday. She said it was a bit harder than 18 holes of golf.

Nelson's crew winners on Calaby Memorial Day

By Perry Jones

Last Saturday the Strathalbyn Golf Club held the Calaby Memorial Day in honour of the late and former player Trevor Calaby, in the form of a four person Ambrose, with Kym Nelson's crew the winners.

The event, well organised by the club captain Graeme Bertholini, with support from the Calaby family, Tieyon Station and by the ladies preparing the lunch and the men the breakfast, saw a packed clubhouse as 17 teams participated.

Erica Calaby thanked the club for their effort and for all the bits of memorabilia, all of which Trevor would have been thrilled with.

Son Rob thanked the club for the function saying Trevor was a real character who loved the club as he and Rob along with uncle Barry played many times together in special events run by the club, particularly on Tieyon Day run by vice president Andrew Smith.

Last Saturday Rob and Barry were part of Andrew's team along with Allen Anderson, Andrew saying Trevor was a great bloke in playing golf or while downing a few reds afterwards.

After the function some of Trevor's ashes were scattered around his favourite par three hole, the sixth.

Winners of the day were headed by Kym Nelson, who made special nearest the pin markers to go with ball markers for the day.

His team also included Ben and Craig Nelson along with Michael Young, as they, being four under the card on the first nine, continued to pick up birdies at will to finish 10 under the card for 62 off the stick and a nett 55.37.

Kym said that they were unlucky not to pick up an eagle on the seventh missing by a whisker.

It was the same hole that Damon Mayes playing with Peter Drury, Erik Heyns and Don Bell were also unlucky not to have an eagle as the ball ran around the cup.

Alan Haberfield's crew of Kerry Vine, Amanda Vardon and Brenton Welk, started on the par three eighth with a bogie and Habers wasn't much help to the team when one of his shots on the fourth finished up under one of Trevor Calaby's refurbished seats by the fifth tee block.

On the 14th Kerry had a long putt but fell well short and then asked Brenton what was he looking for, Brenton replying "your handbag".

Kerry got better with his tee shot on the 17th, just a metre from the hole, however Sean Naylon claimed nearest the pin prize in the end.

Speaking of Sean, he looked conspicuous in not wearing the team shirt in playing with Des Kelly, Graeme Noble and Ray Kingsbury, saying he had not cleaned his team shirt since going fishing in it.

While the team finished in a lowly ninth place, Nobby blaming captain Des for their problems, veteran Ray held his own by sinking a long putt for birdie on the seventh.

There were a few wayward shots on the day, Adam Clements teeing off on the 13th, landing the ball on the green - the 17th green that was - and in another group teeing off the par three six saw one of their balls going out of bounds up the hill by the seventh tee block.

Anne Semple had been teeing off well, having the ladies longest drive on the third/12th, until she got to the 16th tee when her shot travelled mainly along the ground 20 metres to the left rough and finishing under a tree, She did mention that she and husband Mike both went into the dam on the seventh and then Anne proceeded to see her next hit on the 16th also finish in the dam.

Luckily Mike this time landed the group's, which also included Les Shawcross and Julie Heaton, second shot on the green and then they picked up an eagle.

Gordon Robson's group of Garieth Pitt, Ken Lester and Matthew Gniel had five birdies on the first nine thanks the Garieth's putting, but only finished at seven under the card for second spot, while Kirk Richardson, Stewart Glatz, James Beney and Sean Walsh were also on fire early but had to settle for fourth place in the end.

Having finished Gordon had to trudge back up the hill to get their score card out of his cart in the shed to make it count.

The group of Mark Condon, David Wright, Gerard Spencer and Philip Perrin, after all of them sprayed their tee shots for a bogie on their first hole, then picked up three birdies on their first nine but could only finish in 12th place

In the only group of three, Kingsley Handke and Brian Simpson were blaming Dave Bell for being five over the card in on the first nine and heading for last position with the penalty of washing up the dishes after play.

Well, they did finish last at seven over the card but luckily the ladies had already done the cleaning up.

While Paul Coombe with Mick Beasley, Stuart Hozier and Sam Avramidis were complaining about the number of times the ball lipped out of the cup or sat on the edge of it, the group of Andrew Smith, Allen Anderson, Barry and Rob Calaby threw away many birdie chances.

Andrew set the trend for his team on the first when his tee shot went left along the ground about 30 metres.

On the second Andrew's shot on the fairway was all but an 'airy' while Al was ridiculed as his putt hit the pin and missed, but Barry, with his putt about as long as his iron shots, went in to make it a birdie.

On the third and Rob missed a simple foot putt and off the tee on the sixth Andrew didn't even get over the creek, as he cleverly hit the big tree on the right before the creek for it to bounce back to the down-hill path.

When the team got to the ninth Al's chip shot to the green went about 20 feet, but Barry looked like he had saved the day with his approach shot landing on, but in putting for birdie fell short of the hole, Rob asking him why would you play a lay-up shot there, as the group finished with a par.

On the 10th Al fluffed a shot from the rough, saying that there was too many possum droppings to contend with as Smithy saved par on this hole with a long putt.

On the 17th Barry, with a long putt, managed to save par but their aim to finish square for the day was not realised being two over the card to finish in 14th place.

At the end of the day Peter Drury and his team had the chance to win the $230 putting jackpot but like their putting on the day their effort wasn't up to scratch.

Welcome to

Strathalbyn BBQ

9th May 2025
5:30 - 7:30 pm

Join us in welcoming our new residents

Hosted by Strathalbyn Football and Cricket Clubs

WELCOME TO STRATHALBYN!

YOUR NEW COMMUNITY IS THROWING A BBQ JUST FOR YOU

Whether you've just unpacked the last box or you're still figuring out the best coffee spot in town, this one's for you. We're throwing our very first "Welcome to Strathalbyn" event, and it's the perfect way to meet the people, clubs, and businesses that make your town tick.

Hey there neighbour, Are you new to Strathalbyn? Then come along!

This is your chance to:

- Meet other new residents (and a many long time locals!)
- Find out what's happening in town and who's here to help
- Enjoy a top notch BBQ and Raise a glass with new friends

The Strathalbyn Football and Cricket Clubs are hosting the event, so all purchases of food and drinks go directly into the local sporting community.

Best of all? The event is open for all new residents. Just bring yourself, your family, and your curiosity!

Are you a local business or community group?

We'd love you to be part of our Community Showcase!

Take the opportunity to:

- Connect with new locals and welcome them to town
- Share your services so people know you're here

Help Strathalbyn's newest faces feel at home.
